BATES MIRROR

Dedication

TO the distinguished Professor who, by his untiring devotion, energy, and genius has made Bates what it is in debating, we dedicate the 1925 MIRROR. More than any other Professor, he has become internationally famous in his field, and his achievements are an inspiration to all followers of forensics, everywhere. The loyalty which he has inspired in his students is equaled only by the loyalty which he himself shows to everything in which students are interested. He has achieved because he has given unsparingly of himself. The work he has done at Bates is a heritage which succeeding generations must preserve.

Albert Craig Baird, A.M., B.D.

CLARENCE ARCHIBALD, B.S. "Archie"
Lewiston, Maine

"Nothing succeeds like success."

Born October 11, 1901, Woonsocket, Rhode Island; Huntington High School 1921; Varsity Track, 1, 2, 3, 4, Captain 4; Relay Team 1, 2, 3, 4; Cross Country 2, 4; Winter Sports Team 1, 2; Debating Council 2, 3, 4; Varsity Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Military Science 3, 4; Jordan Scientific 4; Student Council 3, 4; Outing Club Director 3, 4; Mirror Board, Assistant Editor 3, 4.

"Archie's" long list of track successes needs no elaboration, but especially among them can we remember the thrill of that glorious day when "Archie" broke the State quarter-mile record. "Archie," however, has not confined his success to the athletic field but has achieved distinction in various other fields of activity—those shown by his record and one not shown, when he broke from the ranks of celibacy, becoming a benedict in his Junior year.

CARROLL PLUMMER BAILEY, B.S. "Punk"
Auburn, Maine

"To know how to hide one's ability is great skill."

Born April 16, 1903, Auburn, Maine; Edward Little High School 1921; Varsity Club 4; Manager Football 4; Assistant in Physics 3, 4; Property man Million Dollar Play 3. Honor Student.

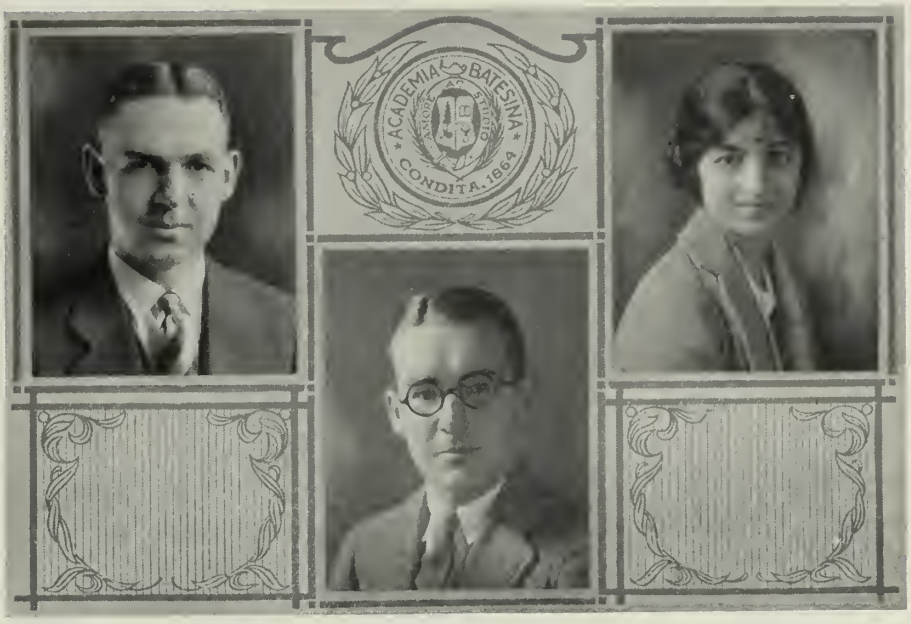
Here he is, folks—Jonah's side-kick and another electric bug. Punk's latest achievement is a radio outfit that anybody would be tickled to own. Here is a man who has proved that you don't have to cram every minute to be a good student; all you need is a little thinking ability to carry you through, —and Punk has his share of that, all right. Carroll has an easy friendliness that makes him welcome anywhere and his cheerfulnees and good-nature are accepted as a matter of course. I am sure we will hear from Punk later.

HENRY ROGER ARNOLD, B.S. "Bill" Wakefield, Mass.

"Such and so various are the tastes of man."

Born February 13, 1903, Wakefield, Massachusetts; Wakefield High School, 1921; Rifle Club 2; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

"Bill" Arnold came to us from Norwich University in our Spohomore year. Since then we have been ordered about by brusk military commands. "Bill" has always been a strong supporter of the athletic teams and we remember a trip that was taken in support of the team when "Bill" entertained the whole gang in Wakefield. Reports have reached us, however, that his talents have not been wasted, but that, with the assistance of the only genuine fur coat in college, he has cut a wide swath in many places.



HAMILTON REED BAILEY, B.S. "Ham"
Dresden, Maine

"I will a round unvarnished tale deliver of my whole course of love."

Born January 17, 1905, Dresden, Maine; Bridgton Academy, 1921; Freshman Prize Debate; Jordan Scientific 4; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Rifle Club 2.

Due to some oversight, "Ham" has neglected to list co-education 1, 2, 3, 4, among his activities. He certainly has hit this particular course for everything that's in it, but since Ellen is one of our own classmates we can't verbally chastise our Romeo. "Ham" has found time to make many friends when he wasn't in Auburn and you can be sure it is the kind of friendship that will stand like the Rock of Gibraltar. We expect Hamilton to make the same sincere, honest impression upon the world as he has made upon us during the last four years.

EUTERPE BOUKIS, A.B. "Zippy"
Haverhill, Mass.

"The hidden soul of harmony."

Born Sept. 4, 1903, Lorissa, Greece. Came to the U. S. in 1913. Haverhill High School. Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; World Fellowship Committee, 2, 3; Bible Study Committee, 4; Christmas Bazaar, Chairman of Publicity Com. 4; Hockey 2nd 1, 2, 3; Volley Ball 3. 2nd 1, 2, 4; Basketball 2nd 1; Phil-Hellenic, 1, 2, 3, 4; Vice-President 3, Sec. and Treas. 4; Junior Exhibition; Alethea 2, 3; College Choir, 4; Seniority, 4; Women's Cheer Leader. Honor student, Phi Beta Kappa.

Tip as leader of songs and cheers, marshalling us into Hathorn and the rallies, leading our cheers on the hockey field. We admire her scholastic standing, all of us, and her executive ability. But perhaps longer remembered is the Tippie whose hidden soul is harmony. The simple haunting melody of a Greek song, the perfect harmony of two voices blending—Tip's and Al's.

MORTON COVELL BARTLETT, B.S. "Morvich" Plymouth, Mass.

"Happiness, our beings, end and aim."

Born August 7, 1901, Plymouth, Massachusetts; Plymouth High School 1920; Military Science 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary Commons Committee 4; Director of Outing Club 4; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Manager Baseball 4; Varsity Club 4; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3; Hockey 1; Football 1; Rifle Club 3.

It's a gift "Bart," that ever-ready smile that has made every classmate and associate a friend. Even in a Harry Rowe job at the Commons you have not lost the respect or popularity you earned long ago. As an Outing Clubber, we don't know how we'd get along without you. The comfort of the cabin at Sabattus is largely due to "Morvich's" proficiency with hammer and saw. As a baseball manager he has proved very capable and efficient. But, we wish you every success, and hope you get Hoyt.

GRACE WINN BRACKETT, A.B.

Berwick, Maine

"She smiled—and a light was on her face,
A clear, cool kindliness."

Born August 4, 1902, Berwick, Maine; Sullivan High School 1920; Tilton Seminary 1921; Entre Nous; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Girls' Glee Club 3, 4, Manager 4; Orphic Society 3, 4; College Choir 3, 4; Macfarlane Club 4; Seniority 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey 3, 4; Hiking 1, 3; Volleyball 2nd 3; Gym Meet 1, 2, 3; Basketball 2nd 3; Soccer 1, 2, 3; Captain 2; Athletic Board; Track Manager 4; Numerals "B."

We wonder we never called her Pollyanna, she has been as incessantly joyous and unquenchable; a dear, merry little tomboy, with a conscience that kept her dated up practically every Wednesday night freshman year. With us she has grown up a little—just enough. She smiles still, and laughs, and sings, and plays hard—but often she falls serious, and thinks big thoughts until they shine out in her eyes, to us, everyone, her friend.

MARY NUTTER BROCK, A.B.

Waterboro, Maine

"The meeting points the sacred hair dissever
From the fair head—forever, and forever."

Born July 20, 1903, Waterboro, Maine; Alfred High School 1920; Hiking 1, 2, 3, 4; Soccer 2nd 2, 3; Hockey 2nd 3, 4; Volleyball 2nd 3, 4; Basketball 2nd 3; Numerals; Entre Nous; Y. W. C. A.; Outing Club; Cercle Francais; Deutscher Verein.

We didn't think Mary would really ever do it; you see, there are families—and others—to be considered. Do they like your hair bobbed in Waterboro, Mary? We do, and we hope you'll never let it grow again, even when you are a dignified French Teacher. Mary has kept training rules faithfully in every season of the year, and won her reward in athletic honors. She takes her studies seriously, and loves a joke as well. Moreover, she has lived on first floor for three years; what wild tales could she not tell of midnight callers and the cards they leave!

ELSIE FURBUSH BRICKETT, A.B. "Brix" Scranton, Penna.

"With gentle, yet prevailing force Intent upon her destined course."

Born October 2, 1903, New Bedford, Mass.; Central High School, 1921; Phil-Hellenic 2, 3, 4; Cercle Francais 1, 2, 3; Student Board 1, 2, 3, 4; Alethea 2, 3; Seniority 4; Y. W. C. A. Cabinet 2, 4, Sec'y 2, Religious Meetings Committee 4; Vice-President of Class 2; Sophomore Prize Debate; Debating Council 3, 4; Bates Publishing Society 4; Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Hiking 1, 2, 3, 4; Volley Ball 4; Basketball 1, 2; Gym Meet 1; Soccer 1, 2, 3; Tennis 2nd, 1, 2, 3; Swimming 4; Athletic Board, Senior Representative 4; Numerals, "B."

Elsie!—the tea-wagon, the delicate tea-set, the bright napkins, the artsquare, the pretty formality of teas and ten o'clock creamed chicken and bridge parties. Elsie!—typewritten notebooks, fragrant and snowy-topped dresser, sharply creased knickers, a silk tie matching a leather belt, a stiff, shining collar just from the laundry. Elsie!—never busy, always ready. Elsie!—primarily, continually, exquisitely nice.

HARRIET VARDIS BROWN, A.B.
Portland, Maine

"For her heart was in her work and the heart giveth grace to every art."

Born September 1, 1904, Portland, Maine; South Portland High School, '21; Entre Nous, 1; Portland Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary-Treasurer, 3; Student Government Judiciary Board, 2; Alethea, 2, 3,; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Vice-President, 3; President, 4; Phil-Hellenic, 3, 4; Cosmos Club, 3, 4; Program Chairman, 3, 4; Seniority, 4; Assistant in Biblical Literature, 4.

With a Y. W. cabinet meeting, a pile of Bib. Lit. papers to correct and a speech or two on her mind, Verdis still retains her calm, cheerful disposition. That laugh which you have heard above and between the constant chatter in Rand Hall dining room belongs to Vardis, too. A happy heart, conscientious work and splendid efficiency are characteristics that make her an ideal Y. W. president.

MEREDITH FREDERICK BURRILL, A.B.
Augusta, Maine

"Pete"

"For he who is honest is noble
Whatever his fortune or birth."

Born, December 23, 1902, Houlton, Maine; Brewer High School, 1920; College Choir 2, 3, 4; Librarian 3; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 2, 3; French Club 1; Orphic Society 3; Personal Editor Mirror.

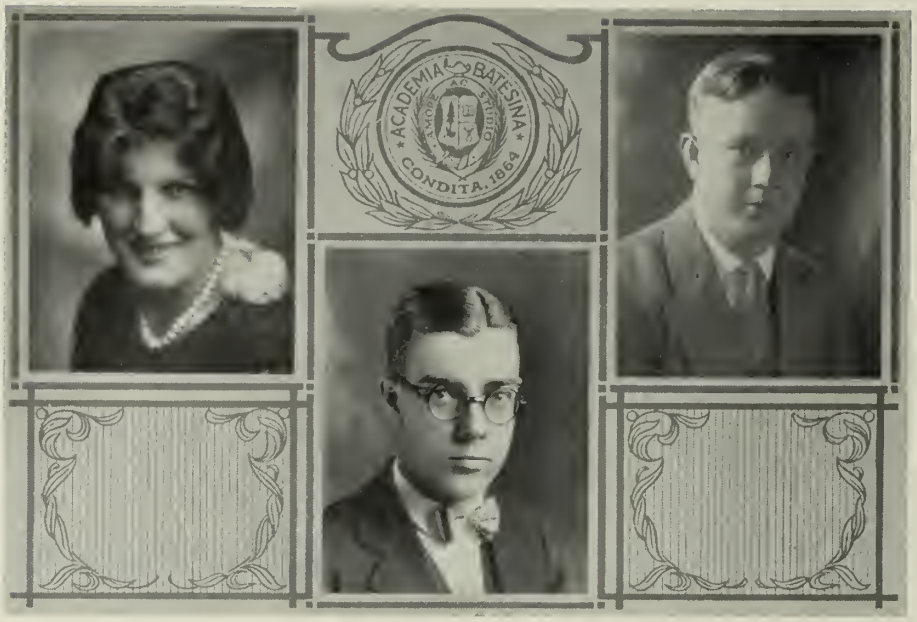
Here's a man of many talents, an athlete, a singer and above all a prominent "graduate co-educator." Harry Rowe has filed a protest against "Pete" because it has cost the college so much putting in new wires on the telephone. You see, "Pete" has kept the wires so hot between here and Woodsville, that they have burned out several times. "Pete" also has been known to burn the boards and has contributed to our successful relay teams.

KATHERINE COLBY BURKE, A.B. "Kay" Hiram, Maine.

"'Tis the mind that makes the body rich."

Born October 17, 1903, Worcester, Mass.; Northfield Seminary; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Religious Meetings Committee 4; Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Hiking 2, 3, 4; Volleyball 3, 4, Capt. 3; Basketball 3, sub. 1, 2; Gym Meet 1; Soccer 2, 3; Numerals "B"; Entre Nous; Cercle Francais 2, 3, 4; French Plays 2; Seniority 4; Outing Club; Ivy Day Speaker; Student Council 4; Vice-President of Class 4; Assistant of Gov., Mirror Board 4; Politics Club, President 4.

"K's" interests and activities are many, you can see. She is not a scholar only, scholarly though she be, but a keen participant in athletics and sports. Did anybody ever see the '25 goal-keeper fail to stop that hockey ball? Her nature is that of the thoroughbred, riding on her nerve, and as thoroughly dependable. A speech, left to "K" is sure of the proper touch—wit, sense, and a certainty of success.



DIANE CARMEN CAILLER, A.B.
Lewiston, Maine

"Memory lives in music's hreath."

Born Lewiston, Maine, June 19, 1903; Jordan High 1921; Entre Nous; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Cercle Francais 2, 3, 4, Vice-President 4; French Plays 2, 3, 4.

Here is a musician,—not only does she play the piano, but she is also a violinist of no mean ability. She plays as she smiles, with gentle melody and quizzical tenderness and a hint of mystery. Diane ripples off French like lightning, but makes up for her speed in this by never hurrying about anything else. It isn't necessary, is it, Diane?—some few of us can reach the goal without undue haste.

AUGUSTUS TALLMAN CANTY, A.B.
East Boston, Mass.

"Red" "Gus"

"He talked on forever and you wished him to talk on for ever."

Born July 11, 1903, East Boston, Massachusetts; East Boston High School, 1920; Baseball 1; Football Varsity 1, 2, 4; Football Squad 3; Class Hockey 1; Varsity Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Phil-Hellenic 3, 4; Politics 3, 4; Pres. 4.

The fact that "Gus" can play football has followed him even into the solemnity of Mony's English Class, where one of the standard questions has been: "Who kicked the football?" The invariable answer is "Gus" Canty. Having attained that distinction he is permitted a peaceful siesta during the recitation until Mony, becoming tired of solemn faces questions him regarding fair Portia, or some other fair one—and behold what a lustre shines on the face of "Gus" Canty. "Gus" has at all times shown good sportsmanship and has won no mean reputation for scholarship. Keep it up, "Gus."

ERWIN DAIN CANHAM, A.B. "Erwin" Auburn, Maine

"Turn him to any cause of policy,
The Gordian knot of it he will unloose."

Born Feb. 13, 1904, Auburn, Maine. Edward Little High School 1921; Debating Council 2, 3, 4; Secretary 3; President 4; Varsity Debater 2, 3, 4; Delta Sigma Rho 2, 3, 4; Freshman Prize Speaking Winner; Sophomore Prize Speaking; Junior Exhibition, winner; Winner Freshman Prize Debating; Sophomore Prize Dehating; Editor-in-chief of Bates Student, Bates Garnet, Bates Handbook, Bates Mirror. Class President 3; Spofford Club 2, 3, 4; English 4A Players; President Bates Outing Club 4; President pro tem, M. I. W. S. A.; Director, I. W. S. U. Honor Student, Phi Beta Kappa.

Erwin has done and heen so much that it is hard to mention any activity of his without slighting the others. Any one would fill a large part of this book. He has had a corner on all the speaking prizes and has well deserved them, too. In dehating there has never been any one who has done more for the honor of Bates than Erwin-from-across-the-river. In the midst of all your activity we are glad to see, Erwin, that you have in no way neglected your co-education.

RAYMOND CARTER, A.B. "Ray"

Newfields, N. H.

"He attempts the end and never stands in doubt, Nothing so hard that search won't find it out."

Born September 21, 1904, Newmarket, New Hampshire; Whitefield High School, 1921; Politics Club 4; Deutscher Verein 4; Secretary of Poliitcs Club 4.

Ray is rather a question mark to many, but to those of us who do know Ray he is the "Prince of Good Fellows." Whether he is doing German or "Pa" Gould's History, he always greets you with a smile. But it has been rumored about (keep this dark) that Ray is a devotee of the Empire and Music Hall, also that he has been visiting Auburn o'nights lately. Here's to the one fellow who has not taken a course in college co-education.

FLORENCE MAY CHAMBERLAIN, A.B. "Floppy"

East Lebanon, N. H.

"There is more for you in the blue of her eye,
Than in all the towns that are under the sky."

Born September 11, 1904, Lebanon, Maine; West Lebanon High School '21; Entre Nous 1; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Town Girls Committee 3; Deutscher Verein 4; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Volleyball 1, 4; Captain 4.

Quiet and demure, did you say? Then we would add, you don't know Floppy. She is the instigator of many of the mischievous pranks carried on in Rand Hall. Her blue eyes just sparkle at such times with the mischief they are trying to conceal. Floppy is always ready for a trip to George's or an evening at the Empire. We have accused her of being bashful but we are changing our minds. Above all else, Floppy is a sympathetic, understanding little friend to all.

PHILIP HENRY CHADBURNE, B.S. "Chad" Auburn, Maine

"Hang sorrow, care will kill a cat,
And therefore let's be merry."

Born May 29, 1901, East Waterford, Maine; Edward Little High School 1921; Outing Club Director 3, 4; Secretary of Outing Club 4; Jordan Scientific 4; Cross Country Team 4; Winter Sports Team 3, 4.

"Chad's" general popularity can be traced to two reasons—his genuine, ever-ready smile, and his admirable habit of giving everyone a "lift" in his Marmon car. Notwithstanding these desirable assets, "Chad" has never been seen walking with any fair co-ed.

"Chad" is a familiar figure on the winter sports outfit and by hard and faithful work has made a good record in that line.

The class of '25 is certainly unanimous in wishing and expecting a successful career for "Chad."

ROBERT GORDON CHANDLER, B.S. "Bob"

Squantum, Mass.

"He that has sail'd upon the dark blue sea."

Born September 19, 1898, Roslindale, Mass.; Huntington School 1921; English 4A Players 3, 4; Student Council 1, 2, 3; Bates Outing Club; Deutscher Verein Club 1, 2, 3; Class President 2; Million Dollar Play 3, 4; Asst. Business Manager Mirror; Military Science Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Chairman Soph. Hop; Chairman Ivy Hop; Dance committee 2.

This may be real news to you and it may not, but we are going to let you in on the fact that, as far as we know, Bob is the only sailor boy in our illustrious class. Bob has also served his class as president, and his work on putting on some real dances has been appreciated. A cheerful nature, a smiling disposition, and a willingness to take part in anything has won him a place among his classmates. Fellows like Bob make a real college. We cannot wish you too much success, for you deserve it all.

CLIFFORD VINING CHISOLM, B.S.

St. Albans, Maine

"Chis"

"He was a man, take him for all in all,
I shall not look upon his like again."

Born, October 1, 1903, Somerville, Massachusetts; Maine Central Institute, 1921; Varsity Football 3, 4; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Baseball 1; Military Science Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Jordan Scientific Society 4; Varsity Club 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

"Chis" has the saving grace of seldom talking when there is nothing to say. Perhaps this is the reason why his four years have gained him such a large circle of friends. As an athlete he is most versatile boasted by J. B.—a worker on gridiron and diamond. Nor have the scholastic duties suffered as to Science Department would testify. "Chis" will carry with him into life an excellent equipment in physique, mind and personality.

ALTHEA LOUISE CHILDS, A.B. "Lith" Montpelier, Vermont.

"This is the very coinage of your brain."

Born January 1, 1902, Biddeford, Maine; Rangeley High School and Hebron Academy; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Conference and Convention Committee 3; World Fellowship Committee 4; Outing Club; Hockey 2, 2nd, 4; Volleyball 2, 3; Basketball, 2nd, 2, 3; Scocer, 2nd, 3; Athletic Board; Hockey Manager 3.

Could anyone ever forget the coinage of Althea's brain? Remember the movie, do you, "When Midnight Was in Bloom?" Not a Mrs. Malaprop, she—merely blessed with a few imperfections of pronunciation, the sense was always there! We acclaim her, too, the born actress of senile parts. Witness the tottering, eager, and anxious old owner of the "Toy Shop." Nobody could relate more scrapes than Althea's side-splitting variety—but she always made connections.

CLARENCE HOBART CLARK, A.B. "Clarkie"

Langdon, New Hampshire.

"Parsons are souls waggoners."

Born October 29, 1895, Langdon, New Hampshire; Kimball Union Academy 1918. Debating Council 4; Sophomore Prize Debate 3; Y. M. C. A. 3, 4; Advisory Board 4; Cosmos Club 3, 4; Student Volunteer Group 3, 4; Leader 4; Outing Club 3, 4.

His primacy in elective affinities is indisputable. Any day in fair weather you may see "Clarkie" going down College Street with a Ford load of prospective Juliets. When he first appeared on the Campus some one was heard to say, "What fine football material!" But Fate made of him a "sky-pilot." He divides his time between college and Raymond. From all indications he would prefer to sojourn at Raymond all week, not necessarily to minister, but to be ministered unto. His willingness to participate in activities, his scholarship and good-fellowship all point to a serviceable and successful career.

CHARLES KENNETH CONNER, A.B. Auburn, Maine

"Ken"

"Why worry what tomorrow brings,
Today is here—and now's the time for song and jest."

Born December 4, 1903, Auburn, Maine; Edward Little High School, 1921; Spofford Club 2, 3, 4; Pres. 4; English 4A Players 3, 4; Pres. 4; Ivy Day Speaker; Class President 4; Literary Editor of Student 4; Humorous Editor, Year-Book 4; Assistant Director Million Dollar Play 4.

This young man, like Lochinvar, came out of the west—Auburn, to be explicit—at the close of his Junior year. From that time his rise was meteoric. Presidencies, editorships, and executive positions galore he captured. Nor was the social whirl forgotten not so His immediate friends would tell you of his genial wit and his good-fellowship —to the uninitiated he will remain the foremost exponent of policy of continued cheerfulness.

DOROTHY WIGHT CLARKE, A.B. "Dot" Lewiston, Maine.

"Who did not gain, but was, success."

Born, May 9, 1904, Gardiner, Maine; Cony High School, 1921; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Cosmos Club; Hiking 2, 3; Hockey 2, 3, 4; Volley Ball 1, 2, 3, 4; Tennis, class champion 1, 2, 3; Numerals, "B"; Phil-Hellenic 2, 3, 4; Greek Prize 1; Spofford Literary Society 2, 3, 4; Seniority 3, 4; English Prize Essay 2; Winner in Intercollegiate Literary Contest 3; Ivy Ode 3; English Assistantship 2, 3, 4; General Scholarship Prize 1, 2, 3. Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

First scholar, first author, first musician, first athlete! So much admiration, such marked superiority would surely have turned the head of one less worthy of all her gifts—but Dorothy is dedicated, big heart and magnificent brain, to the Christian service. Life stretches out before her—Life, rich with opportunity, glorious with promise, flaming with ideals—it is a beautiful world that calls to Dorothy, and our love and deep respect will go with her to meet it.

FLORENCE LOUISE COOKE, A.B. "Cookie"
Presque Isle, Maine

"Lovely fascination o' face and dress—
And witching twists o' words all kind and fragrant."

Born, Feb. 26, 1903, Presque Isle, Maine; Presque Isle High School, 1921; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Entre Nous 1; Alethea 3; Press Club 1, 2; Seniority 4; Mirror Board; Student Board 1, 2, 3, 4; Woman's Editor 4; Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Captain 2; Volleyball 2nd 2, 3; Hiking 2, 3; Basketball 2nd 1, 2; Gym Meet 2, 3; Tennis 1, 3, 2nd 2; Athletic Board; Tennis Manager 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Director 3, 4; Numerals, "B."

There must be a clean, bright, wind-brushed strip of earth and sea and sky just half way between Olympus and Fairyland, and that's where Cookie came from. Her breeze color, her proud, lithe figure on a young horse, the perfection in shade and line of all she wears—from Olympus surely. Yet to us—most of us—she is, above all, an all-around girl, with liking and ability for every type of activity within reach.

ETHEL HENRIETTA CRIE, A.B.
Rockland, Maine

"Happy am I; from care I'm free."
Why aren't they all contented like me?"

Born February 28, 1904, Rockland, Maine; Rockland High School 1921; Entre Nous; Outing Club; Y. W. C. A.; Alethea; Glee Club; Ramsdell Scientific; Class Cheer Leader, 2; Hockey 2nd, 1, 2, 4; 1st 3; Volleyball 2nd 1, 2, 4; 1st 3; Basketball 2nd, 3; Tennis 2nd 1; Hiking 2nd 1; 1st, 2, 3, 4; Ski dash 2nd 2; Ski slide 2nd 2; Numerals; Student Government Board, Off-Campus Representative.

Who goes tearing down the corridor singing at the top of their lungs? Who is always keen for a good time, whether a dance or a trip to Orono? Why, Ethel, irrepressible, happy-go-lucky Ethel! What's a demerit or an examination to her? Hiram is coming for the week-end! But we'll say one thing for you, Ethel; you are never late to Chapel, and you record our cuts conscientiously. Wherever you go, we are betting on your pep to win.

RALPH LYONS COREY, A.B. "Mac" Springvale Maine

"None but himself can be his parallel."

Born May 10, 1898, Charlotte Town, P. E. I.; Wayland Academy, 1921; Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Relay Team 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey 2, 3, 4; Captain 4; Outing Club Director 1, 2, 3, 4; Military Science 1, 2, 3, 4; President 4; Student Council 3, 4; Secretary, Treasurer, President 4; Athletic Association 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary 3; Vice-President 4; Athletic Council; Phil-Hellenic 3, 4; Class Marshal 2; Class Treasurer 2.

Mac has certainly done his bit during his stay here, but if you wait to hear him tell it you will never know that he had done anything. He evidently believes that deeds should speak for themselves, and from the way Mac puts things across, they proclaim themselves loudly. It's a well balanced record, Mac—track, hockey and student activities. The qualities of leadership exhibited here will help in the future.

JOHN DAKER, B.S Newton Falls, Mass.

"Johnny"

"His words are bonds; his oaths, oracles."

Born December 2, 1900, Newton Falls, Massachusetts; Beverly High School and Brewster Academy, 1921; Football 3, 4; Deutscher Verein 3, 4; Varsity Club 3, 4; Chapel Choir 2, 3, 4; Macfarlane Club 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

Here he is, the star football end, baseball player, fancy skater, furtive co-educator, and only guaranteed genuine Swiss Yodeler among us. Despite Johnny's athletic rise to fame on a pair of sturdy shoulders, his most notable success came when he made his debut to a critical Chase Hall audience as a yodeler, and was at once acclaimed a tremendous success. On the football field "Johnny" put everything he had into the game, fighting every minute with a determination which should carry him far in everyday life.

CHARLES HENRY DIEHL, A.B. "Charlie"

Lewiston, Maine

"The secret of success is the constancy to purpose."

Born July 26, 1903, Lewiston, Maine; Jordan High School 1921; Varsity Football 4; Class Football 1, 2; Class Track 1, 2, 3; Varsity Club 4; Macfarlane Club 2, 3, 4; Deutscher Verein 4; Musical Clubs 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Here is one of those men who, seeing their object, pursue it with relentless effort and dogged tenacity until they attain it. "Charlie's" football fame as a stalwart guard on the Varsity after three years of effort in spite of various "jinxes," is a testimonial to his "fighting spirit." "Charlie" carries this same determined attitude with him into the class room and into his nightly orchestra work with the cornet with which, it may be said, he has "trumped" his way through Bates.

"Charlie's" good-natured smile will, no doubt, make many friends for him in the future as it has in college.

LESTER NEAL DAVIS, B.S. "Dave" Boston, Mass.

"They are reputed wise who say little."

Born 1902, Berwick, Maine; Kennebunk High School 1921; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4.

Dave is a quiet, thinking fellow who goes about his business in his own way without bothering anyone. He believes in that little saying about "early to hed and early to rise" but there are those who claim to know that once in a while he does step out. He delights in stiff courses and lab. periods, so you can't accuse the boy of lacking in ambition. When a man doesn't waste words but goes ahead and does things, he can bear watching and you can all depend upon Dave to do something worth while when he starts in to make his niche in the world.

VERNA ELIZABETH DIGGLE, A.B. "V"
Lewiston, Maine

"She did with cheerful will
What others talked of—
While their hands were still."

Born June 15, 1903, Lewiston, Maine; Jordan High School; Entre Nous; Phil-Hellenic, 1, 2, 3, 4; Le Cercle Francais, 2, 3, 4; French Plays, 4; Sophomore Women's Debate; Outing Club; Y. W. C. A.

No matter what it is Verna will do it, and in the most efficient way possible. In her we have a brilliant French conversationalist and a clever debater. She is a lady of decided opinions, which she maintains successfully against all comers; few indeed could withstand her arguments. In a world of second-hand thinking, it is refreshing to find such courageous independence of convictions. Verna; you have the gift of extracting mirth from any situation.

FRANK EDWARD DORR, A.B. "Frankie"
Orland, Maine

"Describe him who can,
An abridgment of all that is pleasant in man."

Born December 6, 1901, Orland, Maine; East Maine Conference Seminary 1920; P G. 1921; Varsity Basketball 1; Interclass Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary of Y. M. C. A. 2; Vice-Pres. 3; Cross Country 2, 3, 4; Captain 4; Jordan Scientific Society 3, 4; Pres. 4; Politics Club 3, 4; Phil-Hellenic Club 2, 3, 4; Varsity Club 3, 4, Treasurer 4; Assistant in Greek 2, 3; Biology Assistant 3, 4; Class Orator 3; Sophomore Prize Debate; Student Council 4; Debating Council 2, 3, 4; Athletic Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4. Honor Student, Phi Beta Kappa.

We wonder what Bates would do without Frank. He is a rare combination of a scholar, an athlete, and a real friend. A man that will run cross-country and pursue Greek for four years has at least his share of perseverance. We couldn't say too many good things about you, Frank.

ALBERT HENRY DIMLICH, B.S. "Al" Andover, Mass.

"You are an alchemist; make gold of that."

Born February 10, 1903, Lawrence, Massachusetts; Punchard High School 1920; Varsity Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4; Freshman Hockey Team; Varsity Squad 2, 3; Varsity Club 2, 3, 4; Duetscher Verein 2, 3, 4; Pres. 4; Jordan Scientific Society 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Assistant in Chemistry 3, 4; Assistant in Mathematics 3; Honor Student, Phi Beta Kappa.

"Al" delights in Chem. courses. The fumes of the lab. are the sweetest of perfumes to him. He is a worker above everything else, and coupled with an abundance of brains and good nature, is bound to take his place among the best. Next to Chemistry, Al's greatest delight is haseball and if there is anything about the game you would like to know, just ask him. A college never had a greater booster or a more loyal supporter. Bates is fortunate to have one like you,"Al."

LAWRENCE EDWARD DOW, B.S. "Larry"
Biddeford, Maine

"To be strong is to be happy."

Born January 9, 1902, Biddeford, Maine; Biddeford High School 1921; Military Science Club; Varsity Club 4; Freshman Football; Varsity Football 2, 3, 4.

If "Larry" were in the room one would never know but for the fact that he bulks so large on the horizon. In a very quiet manner "Larry" has performed his work in college and has been a fighting force on the football team. Although many have been the pairs of admiring eyes that have wistfully gazed from the other side of the campus toward this young Hercules, none has had the necessary magnetic power to make him deviate from the path of celibacy, which is saying a great deal for "Larry."

GRACE EVELYN ELLIOTT, A.B. "Eve"
Leicester, Mass.

"Woman is various and most engaging"

Born July 2, 1903, Worcester, Massachusetts; Leicester Academy, 1921; representative of 1925 on Student Million Dollar Fund Committee, 1; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Hockey 2nd, 2, 3, 4; Soccer 2nd, 2, 3; Numerals; Entre Nous; Y. W. C. A.; Social Service Committee, 4.

Many and versatile are Evelyn's moods, but chief among them is an ever ready sympathy for distress, especially diphtheria or broken hearts. She is another one of our divan devotees; but she would do anything, even study—to please her favorite profs. We shall always remember her for her loyal friendships. Where Evelyn is, there Mary is sure to be also, and perhaps Lucy or Caroline; this "big four" combination radiates nonsense and good cheer, as only a group of chattering monkeys—or college girls—can.

ALICE LOUISE EAMES, A.B. "Al" Lewiston, Maine

" 'Twas her thinking of others made you think of her."

Born August 5, 1903, Meuthuen, Mass.; Gould Academy '21; Entre Nous 1; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Social Service Committee 3; Deutscher Verein 3, 4; Secretary and Treasurer 4; Class Secretary, 2; Assistant in Latin 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Hiking 1, 2, 3,; Hockey, 2nd, 1.

Her eyes speak of truth and understanding, of sympathy and love, and her smile speaks of a sweet friendliness of character. Her presence breathes a calmness of thought and a serenity of feeling tinted with a sparkle of fun. Unassuming as she is, one would never guess that Alice was the dignified assistant of Freddie in Latin. Herein lies her charm, that unexcelled opinion of herself and her understanding and love for folks.

MARIE ANNIE ELWELL, A.B. "Maria"
West Buxton, Maine

"A woman without a laugh in her is the greatest bore in existence."

Born May 1, 1902, Portland, Maine; Samuel D. H. High School '21; Entre Nous 1; French Club 3, 4; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

Uproarious laughter followed by "Oh—dear" and we stop to listen to Marie's latest joke. The "Oh—dear" are words of appreciation which Marie never fails to express after a good laugh. Marie is always on hand for a good time and her presence adds decidedly to the jollity. Can't you hear her proclaiming the number of days before vacation? The reason for her unusually eager anticipation we will leave for conjecture. Marie is one of those ardent French students and now and then may be found studying hard for the next written.

GEORGE ALBERT EVERETT, A.B. "Ev"
Lewiston, Maine

"A merry twinkle in his eye, a kindly word for everyone."

Born January 10, 1892, Auburn, Maine; Edward Little High School 1911; Glee Club 2; Phil-Hellenic 3, 4; Outing Club 3, 4; Y. M. C. A. 3, 4.

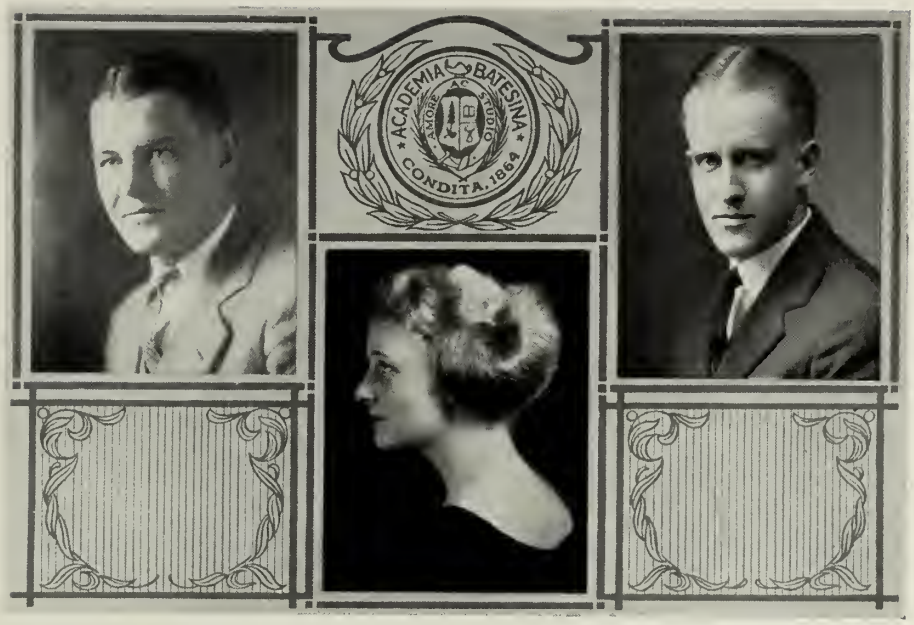
"Ev" is a man who, returning to college after a lapse of a few years, has successfully maintained a youthful and idealistic view of life. Those who know him at all intimately realize that he is a thoroughly dependable chap and unobtrusively, the best of good fellows. But for excellent reasons "Ev" would, undoubtedly, have taken a far greater interest in extra curricula activities. Those two excellent reasons are the Mrs. and George Everett Junior. All success to them and to him in his work in his chosen field, the ministry.

LELIA ETHELIND EMERSON, A.B. Buck's Harbor, Maine.

"Into the silent land!
Ah! Who shall lead us thither?"

Born December 16, 1896, Buck's Harbor, Maine; Machias High School, 1914; W. S. N. S. 1917; Y. W. C. A. 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 2, 3, 4; Hiking 2, 3, 4; Hockey 2nd 3, 4; Soccer 2nd 2, 3; Numerals; Deutscher Verein 4; Assistant in Education 4.

Lelia came to us smiling Sophomore year, and she has been smiling ever since, and saying little, so that we, friendly, smile back, and wonder what lovely things are behind her smile. She is a very busy small person, dribbling the ball down the field afternoons, and correcting our Ed. papers evenings, and maintaining her good nature when we rush rudely through her room to use her window. And all the things she knows about youngsters! say, Lelia, don't you just have to smile when the rest of us confide to you our fears of next year's work?



URBAN WILLIAM FELLOWS, B.S.
Clearwater, Florida
"Butch"

"He wore about him, like a mantle thrown,
An air of manhood, tinged with youthful strength."

Born Oct. 10, 1903, Exeter, N. H.; Holderness School, 1921; Military Science Club 2, 3, 4; Varsity Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 3; Class Basketball 4; Class Baseball 1, 2, 3; President West Parker Hall Association 4; Varsity Football 1, 2, 3, 4.

"Butch's" mighty toe has won many a football game for us. Remember the atter-eighteen-years-game! It brought a thrill to all of us, to watch those wonderfully placed spirals together with clever interference which made possible many a team-mate's long runs. His name belies his disposition, for there is no more good-natured, big-hearted fellow on the campus. He is forever the butt of some friendly joke and always enjoys it with the rest. We wish him all success during the rest of his education in the toughest school we know—Experience.

GERALD MIRANDER FLETCHER, B.S.
"Jerry"
Wilton, Maine

"Self-reverence, self-knowledge, self-control. These three alone lead to sovereign power."

Born August 31, 1901, Wilton, Maine; Wilton Academy 1920; Outing Club Director 2, 3, 4; Vice-President 3; College Choir 1, 2, 3, 4; Macfarlane Club 2, 3, 4, Pres. 3; Numerals in Track 1; Winter Sports 3; Captain 4.

"Jerry," as we all know him, is a tireless worker. Ever since entering Bates he has been pushing and booming. "Jerry" has been a sort of patron saint to all outside activities and it is largely through his efforts that the Winter Sports Team of Bates has become an important factor. But "Jerry" hasn't spent all his time skiing because he has also been Assistant in the Infirmary; and still another activity that he has engaged in has been co-education. "Jerry" is bound to be a success wherever he goes and in whatever he tackles.

CORNELIA ESTHER FLETCHER, A.B. "Connie" Providence, R. I.

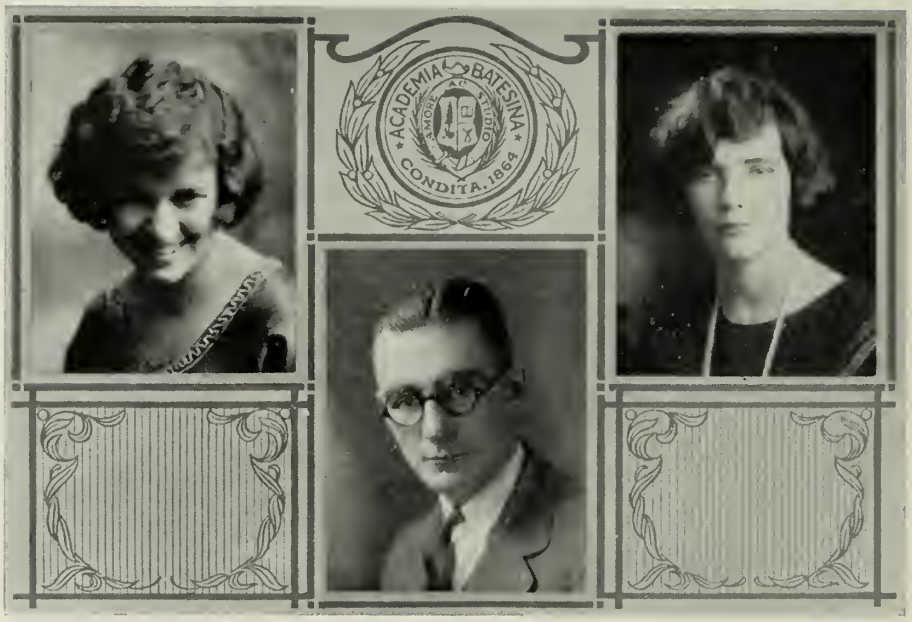
Technical High School, Providence, R. I.; Y. M. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Cabinet, 4; Christmas Bazaar Committee, 4; Entre Nous; Press Club, 2, 1; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Hiking, 1, 2, 3, 4; Soccer, 1, 2nd 2, 3; Basketball 2nd 1, 2, 3; Hockey, 2nd 2, 3, 4; Numerals; Cercle Francais 1, 2, 3, 4; Ivy Day Committee; Seniority 4; Mirror Board 4; Politics Club, Secretary-Treasurer.

Connie's manner has a piquancy, betrayer of her profile. Sunny waves of hair, eyes bluer than blue, and features clear—these are her portrait. Diligence is part of her—an untiring member of the Ladies' Aid is she. A worthy bit of scrappiness and tenacity in athletic contest, nimbleness of wit for repartee, and constancy, too—to the near and far, are here. So add to the pretty picture grace, good sense and wit for reply, and there she is, in brief.



MARY KATHERINE FOGG, A.B. "Froggie"

North Gorham, Maine

"Sometimes from her eyes I did receive fair speechless messages."

Born March 10, 1903, North Gorham, Maine; Windham High School 1920; Hockey, 2, 4; Volleyball 2nd 3; Soccer 3; Numerals; Entre Nous; Y. W. C. A.; Deutscher Verein; Portland Club 1, 2, 3, 4, Secretary-Treasurer 3.

Mary is the little girl with the big eyes and the infectious giggle and the co-educational record for the girls of '25. When she isn't decorating the reception room or "stepping out" Chase-Hall-wards, she finds time to be one of our best little athletes, although she does hate to keep training rules. She is our star child-impersonator, and when she appears in a skit or fancy dance, looks about four years old. We hope you'll never grow up, Mary; we want to keep you just this way.

PRISCILLA ELIZABETH FREW, A.B. 'Prilla"

Rumford, Maine

"Of Science and Logic she chatters
As fine and fast as she can."

Born October 20, 1903, Berlin, N. H.; Stephens High School '21; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Hockey 2d 3; Volleyball 4, 2d 1, 2, 3; Basketball 2d 1, 2; Numerals; Entre Nous 1; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Press Club 2; Glee Club 2, 3, 4; Student Council 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Seniority 4; Ramsdell Scientific Society 2, 3, 4; Vice-President 3; President 4; Philosophy Assistant 3, 4; Biology Assistant 3, 4. Honor Student, Phi Beta Kappa.

Priscilla's favorite haunt is the lab and she never tires of talking about "Bi" and "Zo" and "Bill" and "Pom." and—terms that we can't comprehend. Maybe the lab. has had other attractions for Priscilla than the microscope and slides. We rather suspect—and her blushing smile admits the accusation. Priscilla is one of the class artists. She can make the best looking posters and her lab. drawings are artistic wonders.

ALVIN WHITTIER FREELOVE, B.S. "Al" North Bridgton, Maine

"The man that hath no music in himself,
Is fit for treason, stratagems and spoils."

Born Mar. 19, 1898, Wakefield, Massachusetts. Bridgton Academy 1918; Macfarlane Club 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 1; Mandolin Club 1; Commons Orchestra 3, 4; Leader of College Orchestra 2; Bates Band 1, 2, 3, 4.

"Al" has been something of a traveler, but has caught here on the peg long enough to graduate with the best class ever. He has filled a big place in our college life. The Collegiate Syncopators are a feature of the Chase Hall dances which have evolved since we became Frosh, and the feature of the Syncopators is "Al." Then, too, many are the jaws that have wagged to the rhythm of "Al's" Commons Orchestra. He has more than musical genius, he has a happy temperament that has set him high in the esteem and love of everyone. "Al," we don't need to wish you luck.

RUTH EVELYN GARNER, A.B.

Kezar Falls, Maine

"Her air had a meaning, her movements a grace,
You turned from the fairest to gaze on her face."

Born January 18, 1904, Kezar Falls, Maine; Porter High School '21; Entre Nous 1; Alethea 2; President 3; Cercle Francais, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Social Committee 2, 3; Membership Committee 4; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Captain 3; Gym Meet 1, 2, 3; Sophomore Prize Speaking; Student Government Judiciary Board; House Senior; Student Council 3; Costume Mistress, Million Dollar Play.

Grace and dignity beautifully blended we find in Ruth. Whether she is in the role of House Senior or President of Alethea in hiking togs or dancing costume we see that same sweet, dignified personality. Let me present the costume mistress of the Million Dollar Play and you all acknowledge she's just the one. Ruth is one of the class twins. Where's Buddie? Ask Ruth. Where's Ruth? Buddie can tell you.

DREW BUTTERFIELD GILMAN, A.B.

Farmington Falls, Maine

"There is no truer truth obtainable
By man than comes of music."

Born Farmington Falls, Maine; New Sharon High School, 1917. Glee Club 2, 3, 4; French Club 2, 3, 4; Macfarlane Club 3, 4, Treasurer 4; Chapel Organist 2, 3, 4; Assistant in Spanish 4; Assistant in German 4; Honor Student.

As Orpheus with his lute charmed the beasts, so does Drew charm every one who listens to him. It makes no difference whether he is playing on the organ or the piano, he surely puts his whole spirit into that which he is playing. We who sit in the audience wonder if such glorious sounds can possibly come from ordinary pipes. But Drew has not only achieved success in music; he has conquered three foreign languages and has found time to delight many club meetings with his artistry.

MICHAEL BERNARD GILLESPIE, A.B. "Mike" Lewiston, Maine.

"Type of the wise who soar but never roam."

Born June 19, 1904, Lewiston, Maine; Jordan High School, 1920; Sophomore Men's Debate 3; Debating Council 4; Debating Editor, Student, 4; Politics Club 4; Mirror Board 4.

Yes, Mike is a sage that has soared to great heights. Ask him the meaning of mnemonic! He knows! His roaming has been chiefly between the campus and his home, for Mike is a native and has not lived with us. His keen wit and enormous vocabulary would have been a priceless addition to any hall. Mike is already ticketed for a successful career. You should be a lawyer, Mike, and always you will be our friend.

GRACE FULLER GODDARD, A.B. "Gracie"
Willimantic, Conn.

"Her feet are on the winds, where space is deep."

Born January 24, 1903, Exeter, Connecticut; Willimantic High School 1921; Entre Nous; French Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Seniority 4; Spofford Club 2, 3, 4; Vice-President 3; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Social Committee 4; Christmas Bazaar, Sophomore Chairman 2; Program Chairman 4; Student Board 2, 3, 4; Ivy Day Speaker; Hiking 2, 3, 2nd 1, 4; Hockey 3, 4, 2nd 1, 2; Volleyball 2nd 3, 4; Gym Meet 1, 2, 3; Soccer 3; Numerals, "B."

Elfin creature, Grace,—brown and woodsy like the sprite characters in her plays and poems. Like them, wistful sometimes, but merriest on the dark side of the moon. Our every-day Grace buries the clock when once in a while she studies. She plays bridge, and wields a wicked hockey stick. But sometimes, we come upon her perched high on a window ledge, her eyes dreaming against old Mount David, her fingers gentle upon ukelele strings—and this is the elfin creature.

WARREN HERBERT GOULD, B.S.
"Esperanto"
Buckland, Mass.

"Now by two-headed Janus, Nature hath framed strange fellows in her time."

Born December 8, 1900, Springfield, Massachusetts; Shelburne Falls High School 1919; College Orchestra 1; College Band 1.

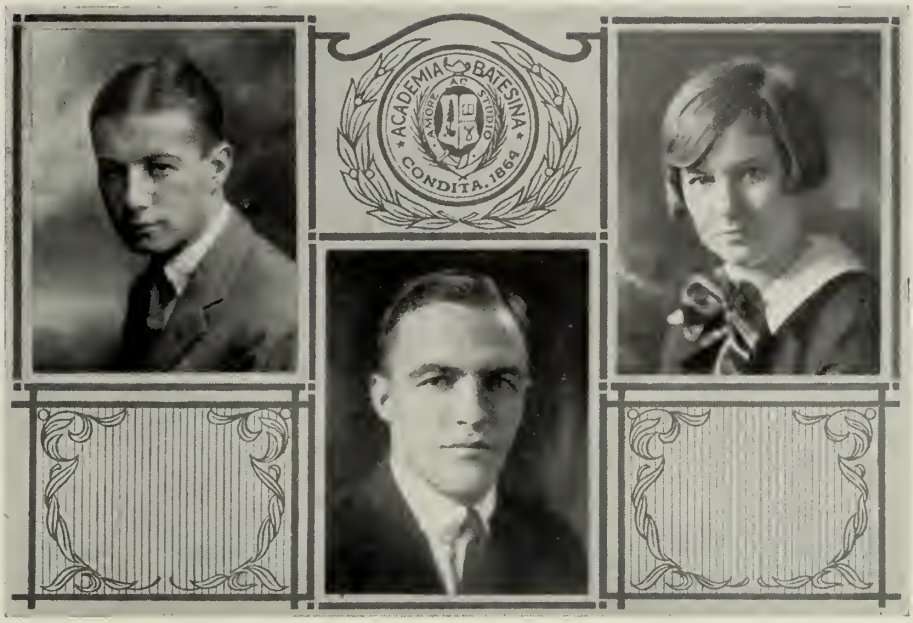
Warren is by no means, the least distinguished member of the class of 1925. His prominence is due to the fact that he successfully relegated the study of the ordinary subjects to the background and that he is a natural-born reformer. He would substitute Esperanto for English, the duodecimal for the decimal system, do away with the honor system and, ye gods! make chess the national game in place of poker. Whatever Warren undertakes, however, he usually completes, so without doubt, we may look, in the near future, for a completely "Warrenized" world.

ALICE ANTOINETTE GORDON, A.B. "Stubbie" Haverhill, Mass.

"His heart in me keeps him and me in one."

Born in 1904, Melrose, Mass.; Haverhill High School, 1921; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Ski Slide, 1st. 1; Ski Running, 2nd, 1; Hockey, 2nd, 1, 1st 2, 3, 4; Captain 4; Volleyball, 2nd, 1, 2, 4; Basketball 1st, 1, 2, 3; Tennis, 2nd, 1, 2, 3; Soccer. 1st, 1, 2, 3; Numerals, "B;" Entre Nous. Outing Club, Y. W. C. A. Conventions Committee 2; Ramsdell Scientific 3, 4.

Engaged longer than any girl in our class. That is Alice's unique distinction, but she enjoys also the honor of being one of our most hard working athletes. We call her Stubby, because she is such a little person and so vigorous in skiing or basketball or—well, just look at the list of teams above. Her brains in planning an attack are as useful as her brawn in executing it. We suspect her of gambling tendencies, too, Ralph. She is one of the Rand Hall bridge fiends, and you should have seen her bidding in on articles at the bazaar (towels and dishmats, of course).



DONALD ANDREW HALL, A.B.
Whitneyville, Conn.

"Don"

"'Tis not the tongue that makes the bell ring sweet,
It is the metal of the bell itself."

Born Dec. 6, 1903, Whitneyville, Conn.; Cushing Academy, 1921; Phil-Hellenic 3, 4; President 4; Assistant Manager Hockey 2, 3; Manager 4; Treasurer, East Parker Hall Association 4; Ivy Day Speaker; Bates Student 1, 2; Athletic Editor 3; Associate Editor, Mirror 4.

As an editor of snappy sporting editorials, "Don's" work is comparable to that of any sports-writer we have seen or read; as the manager of the hockey quintet, his motto has been "silent and efficient service;" and as the urbane collegians there are very few can measure up to the standard he has set. Despite his alert and unhesitating manner, however, there seem to be a few "ifs" and a couple of "Wells" about him at times. But who would cast the first stone?

GLADYS WINIFRED HASTY, A.B.
"Sonny"
South Berwick, Maine

"I would look up—and laugh—and—love and lift."

Born June 26, 1904, Rochester, N. H.; Berwick Academy 1921; Entre Nous; Hockey 2nd 1, 2, 3; Soccer 1st 1, 2, 2nd 3; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Numerals; Student Gov. Board; House Senior; Bates Student 2, 3; Women's Editor 3; Seniority 3, 4, Vice-President 4; Spofford 2, 3, 4, Sec. 3; Garnet Literary Editor 3; Mirror Board; English 4A Players 3, 4, Director 4; Assistant in English 2, 3, 4; in Public Speaking 4; Freshman Prize Speaking; Sophomore Prize Speaking; Junior Prize Speaking.

Gladys looks up—guided always by the lofty visions of which most of us catch only fleeting glimpses; and laughs—ever responsive to light nonsense or weighty subtleties; and loves—everybody within sight and out of it, which is why she is so universally popular; and lifts—by her little daily deeds of friendship, by her serene, earnest handling of our bigger problems.

RALPH HAMILTON, B.S. "Peanut" Farmington, New Hampshire.

"Little pitchers have big ears."

Born in 1902, Milton Mills, New Hampshire; Farmington High School, 1920; Baseball 1, 2, 3; Varsity, Military Science.

Here is one of the biggest men on the campus, and you wouldn't think so from outward appearances. That only proves again that size is not an asset to success even on the diamond. He might well be called "The Little Corporal" of baseball. Ever since he entered Bates he has been the ace of our pitching staff. Bates is sorry to lose you, "Peanut," but wishes you success in the years to come. Many a batter has come to the plate to scoff and remained to pray. He used Bible words, anyway.

GERALD WALDRON HENRY, B.S. "Jerry"

Rumford, Maine

"Charms strike the sight, but merit wins the soul."

Born November 6, 1901, South Paris, Maine; Mexico High School 1921; College Choir 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 2, 3; Macfarlane Club; Orphic Society 3; Assistant Manager of Track; Freshman Basketball.

How "Jerry" has ever weathered his last two years in college is beyond our knowledge. His life has been lived according to schedule, being divided between studies and Rand Hall. The saying goes that "none but the brave deserve the fair" and "Jerry" has sure fought. We can not but keep admiring "Jerry's" perservation in the scholastic line, for what he goes after he gets. So here's to "Jerry!" May he always keep his sunny disposition.

DOROTHY PRISCILLA HOYT, A.B. 'Dot"

Presque Isle, Maine

"Age cannot wither her, nor custom stale her infinite variety."

Born April 4, 1903, Presque Isle, Maine; Presque Isle High School and Aroostook State Normal School; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey 3, 4; 2nd 2; Basketball 2, 3, Capt. 3; Volleyball 2nd 3, 4; Soccer 2, 3; Hiking 2, 3, 4, Numerals "B;" Outing Club Director 4; Athletic Board; Basketball Manager 3; Politics Club, Vice-President 4.

Such infinite variety there is in the state of "Dot's" mind! Variety abounding, from the finest serenity and content to a tirade against some luckless institution or being "A woman of plain reason and sober sense, blessed with soft, sensible melancholy." Though would the melancholy be recognized as soft, plain reason and sober sense preside. There is, too, a half-recognized or a half-developed dramatic ability, which reveals itself most in mimicry of incident and manner. "Let 'Dot' tell it" is the common acclaim.

HELEN ELIZABETH HILL, A.B. "Betty" East Brownfield, Maine

"And all astir looked kind on her,
And called her good and fair."

Born March 31, 1904, East Brownfield, Maine. Bean Memorial High School 1919; Kent's Hill Seminary 1920; Entre Nous; Alethea 2, 3; Phil-Hellenic 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Cosmos Club 3, 4; Vice-Pres. 3; Class Sec. 3; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Convention Committee 2; Cabinet 3; Student Volunteer 2, 3, 4; Sec.-Treas. 3; Student Gov. Judiciary Board; House Senior 4; Athletic Board 1, 3; Sec. 1; Hiking Manager 3; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Basketball 1, 2, 3; Capt. 1, 2; Soccer 2nd, 2, 3; Volleyball 2, 3, 4; Hockey 2nd, 1, 2, 3, 4; Gym. Meet 3; Numerals "B."

Sympathy, ready, understanding, complete. Helen offers it straight from her heart, with outstretched hands, and love shining in her eyes, to us who need it often. Over all the branches of student activity in which she has a part—and they are many—the influence of her sympathy extends like streams of warm sunlight.

HOLMAN THOMAS HUNTINGTON, B.S. "Pop"

Mars Hill, Maine

"He whistled as he went for want of thought."

Born October 4, 1901, Mars Hill, Maine; Aroostook Central Institute 1921; Military Science 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

"Pop" is a product of Aroostook and came to us with an abundance of good-natured and ready wit. During our four years together our first impression of him hasn't been changed even a little bit. Holman accepts things as they come to him with a hearty laugh and a care-free manner, which hides a real seriousness that has put him through many difficulties. When "Pop" does decide to settle down (and we understand it will be soon) we are all going to crowd to the side of the road and watch his dust, for he certainly is going to get there.

FUJIO INOUYE, A.B. "Fuji"

Los Angeles, Calif.

"Go then merrily to Heaven."

Born June 10, 1901, Tokyo, Japan; Nippon High School and Queen Ann High School 1921; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Bates Rifle Club 2, 3; Phil-Hellenic 3, 4; Politics Club 4.

"Birdie" made a mistake when he overlooked "Fuji" as a debater, for this fellow from the Orient has occasioned the most heated arguments over co-education that the monastery ever heard. Fujio is the life of the dorm. He has shown marked ability in art. Just take a look at his Mem Book. He must also be classed in the list of those honored few, before whom we humbler folk bow in awe,—a "Greek shark." With his knowledge of three languages, and his experience in two countries, we believe he will become a very successful professor.

HAZEL MAY INGALLS, A.B. "Buddie" Denmark, Me.

"The worth of woman, like a gem's, is not measured by its bulk."

Born April 17, 1903, Denmark, Maine. Denmark High School, '21; Entre Nous, 1; Cercle Francais, 2, 3, 4; Sec. 4; Alethea 2, 3, Secretary-Treasurer, 3; Hiking, 1, 2, 3; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Publicity Committee, 1; Bazaar Committee, 3, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.

Tastily, stylishly dressed, she steps forth—Buddie, one of the tiny members of '25. How eagerly Buddie works when she is helping with the plans for a party or entertainment—remember the Sophomore-Freshman dance in the Gym? And say, have you discovered who the crying doll was at the Bazaar? Dancing is Buddie's favorite pastime and when we see her dance we wish her a wave o' the sea that she might ever do nothing but that.

JOSEPH ALPHONSO JAMES, A.B. "Jesse"

Livermore Falls, Maine

"He has a lean and hungry look, such men are dangerous. Would he were fatter."

Born February 13, 1902, Lewiston, Maine; Montreal College 1921; French Club 1, 3; French Plays 1, 3; Sophomore Public Speaking Prize 2; Orphic Society; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Assistant in French 1, 2, 3.

This fellow can "shoot" French as fast as Jessie James could shoot men. Judging from his activities we wonder if he ever had much opportunity for sleep, but what sleep he lost he easily made up in English class. "Jesse" has distinguished himself as a public speaker, actor, and musician. Here is a man who can excel in three lines.

BERNICE MILDRED JORDAN, A.B. "Bunny"

Mechanic Falls, Maine

"Where did you come from, Bunny dear? Out of the everywhere, into here."

Born November 28, 1902, Poland, Maine; Mechanic Falls High School; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Membership Committee 3, 4; Hockey 1, 3, 2nd 4; Capt. 3; Hiking 2, 3, 4; Basketball 1, 2, 3; Volleyball 3, 2nd 1, 2, 4; Soccer 2, 2nd 3; Gym. Meet 2, 3; Numerals "B;" Entre Nous; Cercle Francais 2, 3, 4; Athletic Board 2, 3; Volleyball Manager 3; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Director 4; Student Gov. Board 4.

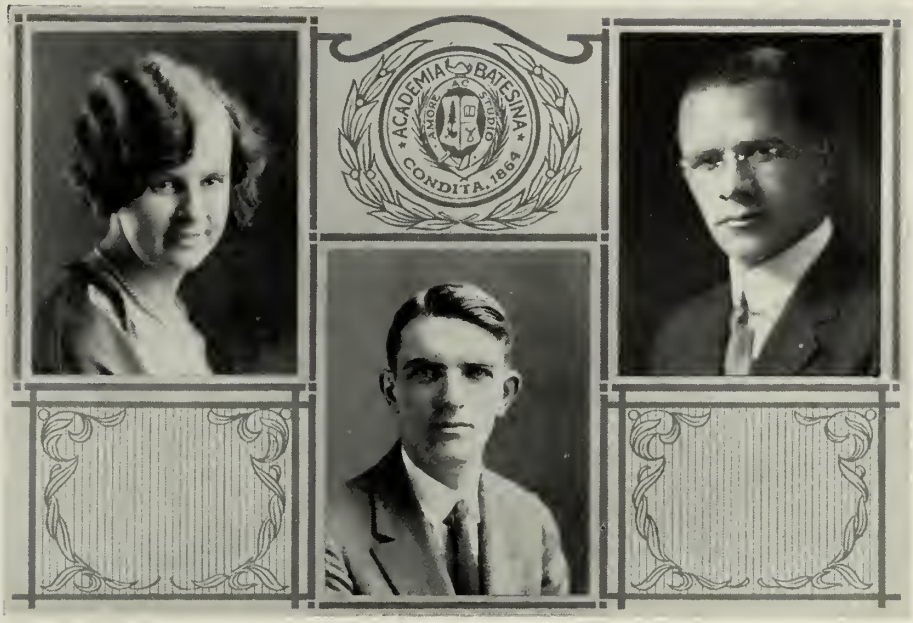
A being so divinely irresponsible you'll (you must) love her, possessed of that effervescent, enduring youth granted so few, and a little devil of impishness. There is no stopping Bun, when she's on a rampage —teasing poor Billie's patience, or anyone of convenient proximity. There is a manner of assumed dignity this Senior year though, witness conduction of Rand house-meetings—intimating that "Bun" could be Bernice, for a time.

RAYMOND KENNETH JONES, B.S. "Jonah" Auburn, Maine.

"Notwithstanding my experiments in electricity the thunderbolt continues to fall under our noses."

Born April 11, 1902, Auburn, Maine; Edward Little High School 1921; Jordan Scientific 3, 4; Stage manager in "Torch Bearers;" Assistant Physics 4; Assistant Mathematics 3; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; 4A Players 3, 4; Honor Student.

We honestly had grave doubts that "Jonah" would ever go through the four years without electrocuting himself or some of his friends, but he has had no serious difficulty as yet. He has been an assistant in about all the sciences and this little fact speaks for his ability as a scholar. Kenneth has a friend for every formula that he can recite in Physics, for everybody admires that even temperament and good nature of his. We would wish you the best of good luck but you don't need it, for your own ability will see you through. We're not worrying about you, "Jonah."



ELIZABETH JORDAN, A.B. "Betty"
Auburn, Maine

"A creature she all life and light and glee."

Born November 19, 1903, Auburn, Maine; Edward Little High School '21; Entre Nous; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Secretary 1; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Cabinet 4; Seniority 4; Mirror Board.

"Oh, Betty, you cunning thing!" Most often it is Helen who says it, mornings, in chapel; though Marion and Lois say it too, between gales of laughter, on the campus paths. But we all think it, when we hear her lovable chatter throughout Astronomy class, when she makes her demure replies to Monie's quizzing, when we see her gay and sweet in a dance-frock at Chase Hall. Of course Betty has dozens of other attractive characteristics—it is only that, most often, when we think of her, with her bright sweaters, and her rose-pink cheeks, and her contagious laughter, we say, "Oh, Betty, you cunning thing!"

HERBERT HASTINGS KNIGHT, A.B. "Herb"
Turner, Maine

"Wide was his parish, and with houses far asunder."

Born September 18, 1894, West Concord, N. H.; Huntington and Wentworth; Bangor Seminary 1923; Cosmos Club 3, 4; President 4; Y. M. C. A. 3, 4; Outing Club, 3, 4.

Those who would aspire to the dignified deportment and scholarly attitude of this gentleman must learn with him to practice the gentle art of burning the midnight oil. His mind digests with ease Pa Gould's History and Monie's English. In spite of this, his career is not one monotonous grind. Each week-end he experiences a little excitement when he journeys to his little flock in Turner. On these occasions he studies the Stars—but not alone. We heartily recommend this method to all who would become authorities in astronomy.

MALCOLM WILLIAM JORDAN, B.S. "Kippy" Mechanic Falls, Maine

"I would share the joyous comradeship of honest first-name friends."

Born Sept. 22, 1903, Harrison, Maine. Edward Little High School 1921; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Club 2, 3, 4; Varsity Baseball 1, 2, 4.

"Kippy" certainly swings a mighty club, and has kept the first-sack position in the family since our freshman year. He stepped into the shoes of "Kippy" senior and has turned out to be one of the best first basemen we ever had. His ability is only equalled by the excellence of his disposition. His ever-ready smile and fondness for jokes have made him a popular figure everywhere.

NELLIE MAE LANGE, A.B.

Lisbon Falls, Maine

"Maiden! now take flight:—inherit Alps or Andes—
They are thine."

Born November 14, 1905, Lisbon Falls, Maine; Lisbon Falls High School 1921; Hiking 1, 2, 3, 4; Entre Nous; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Soccer 2nd 2, 3; Numerals; Deutscher Verein 4; Seniority 4; Mirror Board; Assistant in Greek History and Literature 2; Assistant in German 4. Honor Student. Phi Beta Kappa.

Dreaming over her big books and smiling a little to herself, half wistfully, half mysteriously. But your dream times are not too long, Nellie Mae—they have not been allowed to keep you away from your hiking and soccer and tennis, from your clubs and your writing and your friendliness. Some, you have learned to know and love and open your heart to. With these you have left memories and philosophies and realities that will be cherished long after we have forgotten the high grades that you have so steadily maintained.

GLADYS JULIA LEAHEY, A.B. "Glad"

Lewiston, Maine

"Glide on to weave the dance."

Born January 25, 1901, Lewiston, Maine; Jordan High School; Entre Nous; Outing Club; 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Cercle Francais 2, 3, 4; French Plays 4; Freshman Prize Speaking, winner; Sophomore Prize Speaking, winner; Junior Orations.

As a danseuse, Gladys has few peers. Advertise "The Leahey Sisters" as a number on a college program, and a good audience is assured. Golden head high, blue eyes, big and bright, a merry little sailor-girl runs in and jigs a bit—or a stern-visaged young soldier clanks his sword and does a mad war-dance. Versatility,—Gladys must know well the meaning of the word. Her ability lies in interpretation, by song or dance or story, and by this she has gained her reputation, though we like her for her ready fun and friendliness.

EVERETT ROY LAWRENCE, B.S. "Ev" Andover, Mass.

"'Tis not in mortals to command success,
But we'll do more, we'll deserve it."

Born November 2, 1903, Andover, Massachusetts; Punchard High School 1921; Orphic Society 3, 4; Men's Musical Club 3, 4; Macfarlane Club 4; Assistant in Chemistry 4.

The trouble with most folks, according to "Ev," is that they don't smile enough to last them a full day through. Moreover, "Ev" is a practical exponent of his own sunny philosophy. He, however, believes that a liberal amount of hard work will effect as many wonders as a good natural disposition, so he combines both in a judicious mixture. "Ev," by his industriousness has won the respect, and, by his exhibition of sheer grit "under fire" in the Chem. Lab., the lasting admiration of all.

EVELYN COLE LINDSAY, A.B. "Ev"

East Machias, Maine

"And wisely tell what hour of the day
The clock doth strike by Algebra."

Born May 20, 1902, East Machias, Maine; Washington Academy '21; Entre Nous, 1; Ramsdell Scientific Society 3, 4; Secretary, 4; Hiking 1, 2, 3, 4; Hockey 2nd 4; Volleyball 2nd 3, 4; Basketball 1, 2nd 2, 3; Soccer 1, 2d 2, 3; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Numerals; Gym Meet 1, 2, 3. Honor Student.

Here is our mathematician—we really need one in the class, and Evelyn satisfies perfectly. "Ev" is one of those girls who spends the summer vacations waiting on tables and she has a store of interesting experiences to tell. Just get her started about Castine. A loyal member of the Athletic teams whether soccer, hockey, or basketball, and a good sport every time. Wasn't it fun to play basketball at Maqua, "Ev"?

ELOISE FLORENCE LORD, A.B.

Auburn, Maine

"The silent partner is the best."

Born Mar. 27, 1901, Auburn, Maine; Edward Little High School, 1920; Kent's Hill Seminary, 1921; Entre Nous; Y. M. C. A.; Outing Club.

She is a dainty, fragile figure done in woodsy brown; with her big dark eyes and her close clipped hair and her little pointed face, a veritable dryad. Eloise is the quietest of maidens, but her minute frame is packed full of fun and efficiency and modesty and the spirit of friendliness. Her words are few but always worth hearing; many a time have her advice and her good judgment served her friends well. If you want to learn how to do the most and the best in the shortest time, take a lesson from Eloise; she would be so glad to teach you, because, you see, she would be helping some one.

HAZEL RUTH LOOKE, A.B. Addison, Maine

"They modesty's a candle to thy ment."

Born August 20, 1902, Addison, Maine; Addison High School; Entre Nous; Enkuklios; Student Volunteers 2, 3, 4; Secretary of State Student Volunteer Union 4; Y. W. C. A., 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Volunteer Representative 4; Cosmos Club, 3, 4; Vice-President, 4; Gym Meet 1, 3.

Perfect grace and ease of motion. A personality veiled. Few of us know Hazel well—which is our sorrow, due to her years of college lived off Campus. Wide admiration she has won by the perfection of her gym work, her easy mastering of apparatus is to some of us appalling, and the rhythmic grace of her dancing. Such ease of accomplishment, extending to study even, is too rare. Hazel's cheery smile is her endearing charm. A smile of greeting, constant, waking slowly as the lazy dawning of summer, and beautiful to see.

HELEN MAIDMENT LOVELACE, A.B.
"Dutchie"
Danbury, Conn.

"True and tender, and brave and just,
That man might honor, and woman trust."

Born August 22, 1901, Brooklyn, New York; Morgan Park High School, Chicago, Ill.; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Hockey 2nd 3, 4; Basketball 2nd 1; Soccer 2nd 3; Entre Nous; Pres. Press Club 1, 2; Cercle Francais 1, 2, 3, 4; Million Dollar Play, 3; 4A Players 3, 4; Seniority 4; Ass't Public Speaking 4; Student Gov. 3, 4; Pres. 4; Politics Club 4.

Somewhere, there is a garden aflame with autumn, burning, glowing, and most strangely pervaded with the lingering order of mignonette. There she belongs, embodiment of autumn's flame, a vivid spirit, and questing. Loved daily, she wends the varied pathway of her life. Participant in social activities, leading in student government, high in popularity. Most loved of all for herself, that innermost self, a very loveliness of personality, which to see her is to think of.

ELEANOR LORD McCUE, A.B.
Berwick, Maine

"With shining gifts that fool all eyes."

Born November 10, 1902, Berwick, Maine; Sullivan High School 1920; Entre Nous; Hiking 2, 3; Hockey 1, 2, 3, 4; Volleyball 1, 2, 3, 4; Soccer 1, 2, 3, Capt. 3; Numerals "B;" Le Cercle Francais; Spofford Club 3, 4; 4A Players 3, 4; Vice-Pres. 4; Debating Council 3, 4; Seniority 3, 4; Secretary, Treasurer 4; Mirror Board; First Prize Winner; Sophomore Girls' Debates; Assistant in Gov. 4; Varsity Dehating Squad 3, 4; Politics Club 4. Honor Student, Phi Beta Kappa.

There's nothing complete without Eleanor, whether it's a championship hockey game or a prize debate, a plebeian feed or an esoteric discussion. She dashes off a satire on society, delivers a crushing rebuttal, marks a batch of papers as severely as "Pa" himself, loses her glasses and forgets to hang up her clothes —every act equally a manifestation of genius. But, after all, it's not her talent, but her own jolly self, that makes and keeps for her friendships deep and enduring.

DOUGLASS SIMPSON MacDONALD, B.S. "Mack" Mechanic Falls, Maine.

"Look, he is winding up the watch of his wit.
By and by it will strike."

Born February 27, 1904, Norton, Vermont; Mechanic Falls High School 1921; Sophomore Prize Speaking; Million Dollar Play 3; Public Speaking Assistant 3, 4.

Wherever you find "Mac" there's quite likely something doing. An excellent student, a jovial comrade, "Mac" has proven his worth over and over again. Mac has been a strong believer in the saying that "variety is the spice of life" and has proven that in taking a different girl to every dance. "Mac" hasn't given all his life to frivolities for he has been an active member of our Play Association, having taken part in "Cheating Cheaters." Always in for a good time whether playing cards, attending a dance, or at a church social "Mac" enters in like the true sport that he is.

RUTH LUCILLE MARSH, A.B. "Ruthie"
Gonic, N. H.

"She was all earnest—then gaiety—
Her pranks the favorite theme of every tongue."

Born September 17, 1903, Stratford, New Hampshire; Rochester High School; Entre Nous; Alethea; New Hampshire Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary 2; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Finance Committee 2; Convention Committee 3; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Director 2, 3; Seniority 4; Macfarlane Club 3, 4; Student Government Judiciary Board; House Senior 4; Hockey 1, 2nd 2, 4; Volleyball 1, 2, 4; Captain 2; Basketball 1, 2; Soccer 1, 2, 3; Captain 1; Hiking 2; 2nd 1; Numerals "B;" Athletic Board, Vice-Pres. 3; President 4.

Athlete of an ability recognized by the highest honorary office we have to bestow! But this does not give you a hint of the jolly, irresistible Ruth who is our joy and likewise our despair. Ruth declining Elsie's invitation to a spread, because she wasn't dressed up, and then pouring in just the same. "Ruthie," imp of our lives—darling of our hearts.

ARTHUR PERRY MARTIN, A.B. "Battler"
Stoughton, Mass.

"To be great is to be misunderstood."

Born November 12, 1902, Minturn, Colorado; Stoughton High Sshool 1920; Phil-Hellenic 2, 3, 4; Associate Editor of Student 3, 4; Wrestling Squad 2, 3; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

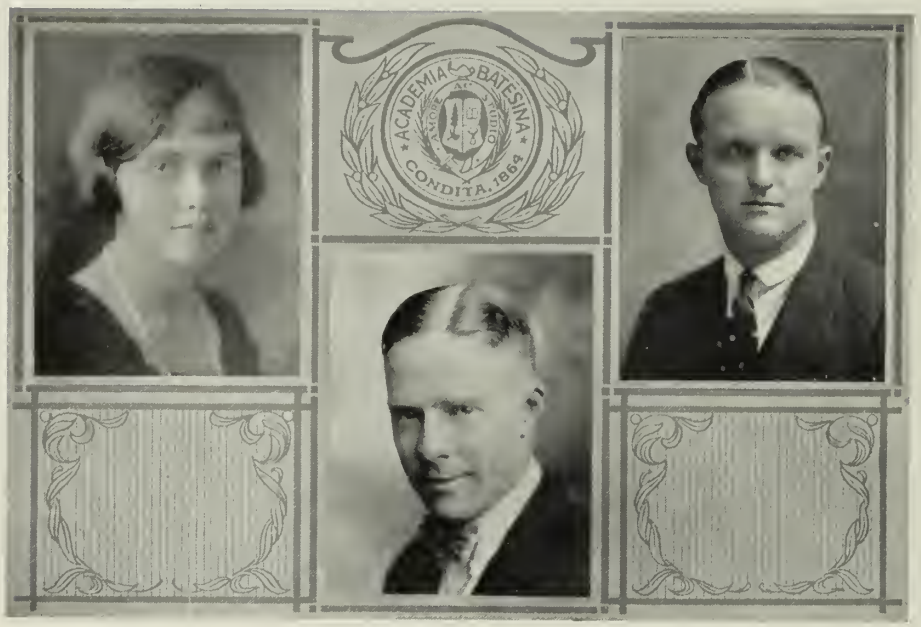
"Battler" is one of our athletes. He won his reputation in his Freshman year when he starred in the two-mile race. Since then his boxing and wrestling have won for him an added number of admirers. Seriously in his work for the Student, and in his studies, "Battler" has always shown those qualities of perseverance and industry which will insure him success in after life.

GEORGE ALEXANDER MARSHALL, B.S. "Doc." Seal Harbor, Maine

"See me, how calm I am."

Born Apr. 21, 1899, Portland, Maine. Westbrook Seminary; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4.

"Doc" came after the rest of us had a semester's start, but he overhauled most of us long ago. He accomplished this by minding his own business and minding it very well. He is by no means a recluse, for a more congenial spirit never existed. His experience with Uncle Sam during the war taught him to do well what he begins.



BERNICE MAYHEW, A.B. "Bernie"

Vineyard Haven, Mass.

"Dark eyes are dearer far.
Than those that mock the hyacinthine bell."

Born June 5, 1904, North Tisbury, Mass.; Miami, Florida, and Tisbury High Schools; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Bible Study Committee, 4; Entre Nous; Alethea, 2, 3; Hiking Capt. 1; Outing Club; Chairman of Dining Committee 4; Mass. Club 1, 2, 3, Pres. 4; Junior Exhibition; Student Council 4; Class Secretary, 4.

When Bernie bursts in upon a group, eyes shining and mouth agape, attention waits her—for, "thereby hangs a tale" is the common refection. There scarcely could be a more charming narrator. From appearance, this Bernie is the most flexible creature and easily persuaded. But somewhere beneath there is a firmness all her own. It seems an extreme contradiction to tell of this Spanish looking being, dark eyes and darker hair, with rich hues and tints of color—that her leisure hours are most busily employed. But therein lies her industry.

KENSON DEARBORN MERRILL, B.S. "Ken"

Bristol, N. H.

"We grant although he had much wit
He was very shy of using it."

Born March 9, 1904, Wentworth, New Hampshire; Whitefield High Sshool, 1921; Verein 4; Track Squad 2, 3, 4; Freshman Football; Outing Club 3, 4; Freshman Baseball.

There are only a few of us who have had the pleasure of knowing "Ken." He has been a rather quiet exhibit in our collection. But those who have known him have been the richer for the experience, for "Ken" is a good-natured, whole-hearted fellow, just non-obtrusive enough to be admirable. Down town seems to claim a great share of his time, so we'll pardon his seclusion somewhat. Good luck is just around the corner, "Ken."

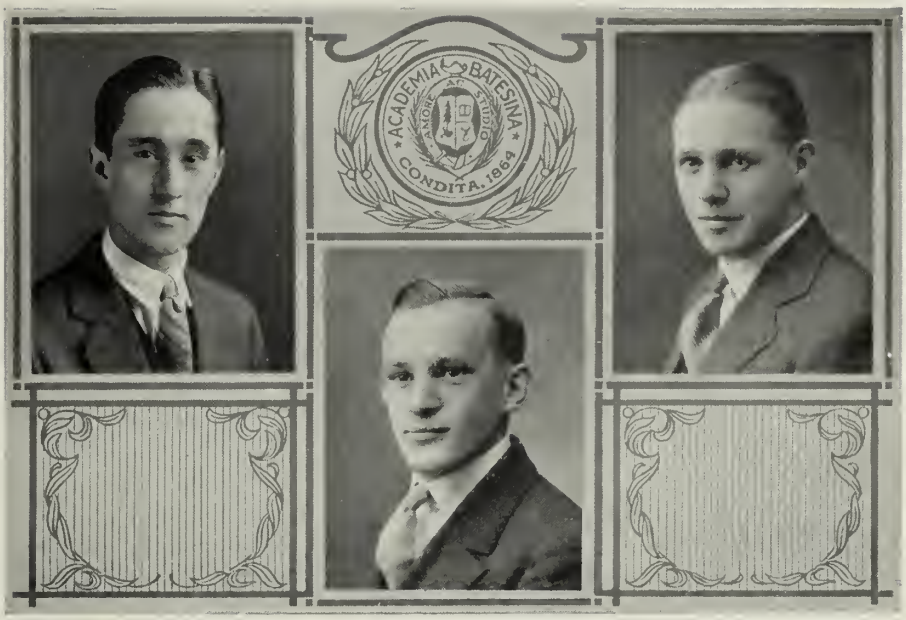
THOMAS RANDALL MENNEALY, B.S. "T. Randall" "Red" Lewiston, Maine.

"To those who know thee not, no words can paint!
And those who know thee, know all words are faint."

Born, July 7, 1901, Lewiston, Maine; Lewiston High School, 1919; Cheerleader 2, 3, 4; Military Science Club; Varsity Club; Varsity Baseball 3, 4.

"T. Randall" has had rather a hectic career during his college days. But his never failing sunny disposition and inherently "bright" nature have been a welcome addition to the class of '25. "Red" believes that a classroom without a liberal dash of humor and mirth during recitations isn't of much value. That is why he is present to give it "pep."

"Red" will also be remembered for his superb work as Varsity Cheerleader for three years. Time and again his keen wit and excellent leadership have roused us from legarthy of the doldrums to cheer our teams to victory.



CARL HAROLD MILLER, A.B.
Wilton, Maine

"He sings and he sings and forever sings he."

Born December 22, 1901, Wilton, Maine; Wilton Academy 1921; College Choir 1, 2, 3, 4; President 4; Macfarlane Club (President 4); Politics Club 4; Glee Club 1, 3; Class Treasurer 4; Mirror Board; Press Club 1.

And the multitude assembles to listen, for Carl is the silverest-throated of them all. His solos in chapel have been a real treat to everyone. He is even better known as the "fellow behind the desk" in the library. Carl is obliging almost to a fault and ready at all times to help anyone in any way. His personality is decidedly positive, for he has high ideals and the courage to stand up for his convictions under any circumstances. His scholarship record has been one to boast of, and everything foretells a successful career. Congratulations, Carl.

BLAKE CARLETON MOORE, B.S. "More"
Livermore Falls, Maine

"When beauty fires the blood, how love exalts the mind."

Born February 11, 1903, Livermore, Maine; Leavitt Institute 1921; Freshman Baseball; Track Squad 1; Outing Club 3, 4.

There seems to be no end to Blake's good nature. He can emerge as unconcernedly from a rough and tumble fight as he does from an examination. "More" might be described as the "Handy Man" of Parker Hall, always ready to set in at a head of bridge which he plays in his customary base manner.

Math. is the shining light in Blake's firmament of studies. There seems to be only one trouble—Blake suspects that these fellows, Newton and the others, must have been wrong quite often, for he doesn't always agree with them, which is much the worse for Newton. However, we may expect that Blake will be able to show these men something in a year or two.

ERWIN EDWARD MILLER, B.S. "Gus" South Poland, Maine

"Then he will talk, good Gods! how he will talk!"

Born September 1, 1902, Poland, Maine; Edward Little High School 1920; Assistant Manager Football 2, 3; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

As a chemist, "Gus" has no superiors; and as a co-educator he has valiantly tried to cram into the last year all of the co-educational courses that Rand Hall and Cheney House had to offer. Ever since his Freshman year when "Gus" was just tall enough to reach the lab. bench he has delved furiously into the chem. courses. "Gus" has a penchant for study when his roommates have also, and a desire to make merry when they are so inclined. However, we must withhold our decision as to the success of the co-educational course until we see "Gus'" diploma.

HERBERT BEAUMONT MORRELL A.B. "Daddy"

Brooklyn, New York

"To show the world that now and then Great ministers are mortal men."

Born April 16, 1901, Lakewood, New Jersey; Erasmus Hall High School 1918; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Cabinet 3, 4; President 4; Deutscher Verein 2, 4; Phil-Hellenic 2, 3, 4; Politics Club 3; Cosmos Club 3, 4; Debating Council 2, 3, 4; Class Track 1, 2; Varsity Debater 2, 3; Delta Sigma Rho; Ivy Day; Class Chaplain; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Mirror Board; Roger Williams Hall Association, President; Honor Student..

"Daddy," you may go down in history as the last monk to lead the Y. M. C. A. If you do, the dynasty from Roger Williams will have had a noble climax. Your earnestness and good-fellowship has made you more than popular, it has made you respected. Bates will have cause to be proud of you, we know, and we will be bragging that we were classmates of yours in college. We wish you every success with your flock. May it and its pastor prosper.

ELSIE LOUISE MOWRY, A.B.

Woonsocket, R. I.

"She that could think, and ne'er disclose her mind."

Born North Smithfield, Maine, 1903; Woonsocket High School, 1920; Entre Nous; Outing Club; Y. M. C. A.; Spofford, 2, 3, 4; Seniority.

Elsie has an apt wit and a becoming modesty, deep thoughts and a rougish smile to cloak them. Why should she waste words when a shake of her bobbed head or a glance from her expressive eyes will do as well? Clever brain weaving a web of fancy, deft fingers dealing a hand of cards—for these we will remember her, for her fortune telling and her merrymakings and her domestic felicity (was ever couple more happily mated than Elsie and Kay?)

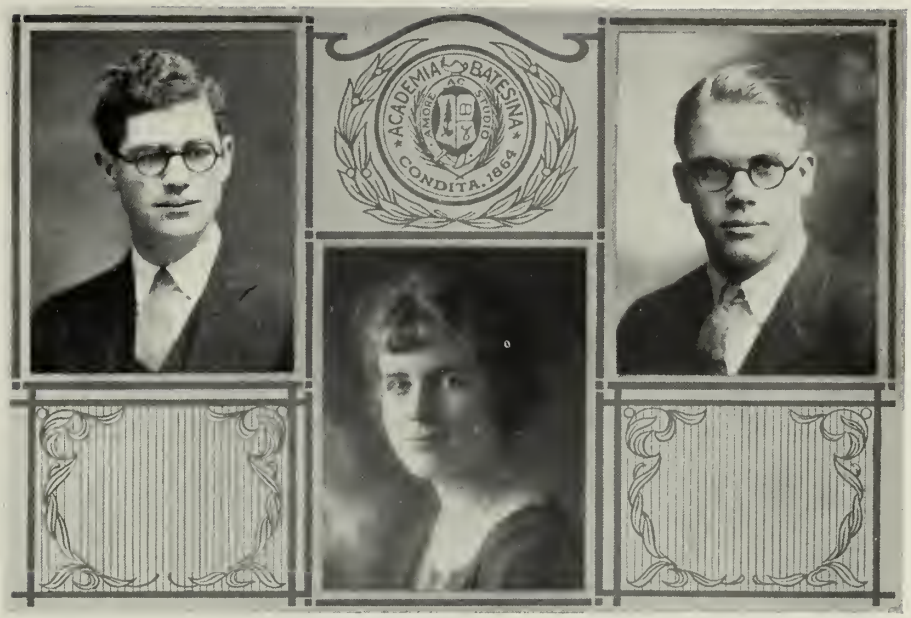
CARLETON EDWIN MORRILL, B.S. "Carl" Auburn, Maine.

"There was a jolly miller,
Lived on the river glee;
He worked and sung from morn till night;
No lark more blithe than he."

Born April 6, 1903, Auburn, Maine; Edward Little High School, 1921; Orphic Society 3, 4; Jordan Scientific 4.

Whenever a beam of sunshnie is needed in the Chem. Lab. as a catalytic agent in some chemical reaction, "Carl" starts beaming at a moment's notice. The Lab. would be a dull, drab place, indeed, if it were not that "Carl's" cheeriness enlivens its mustiness.

"Carl" is to be highly commended for his faithfulness in viewing every home game of his four years—from the window of Hedge Lab. "Carl" is one of that handful of men whose only affinity has been their work. Don't weaken, "Carl."



JAMES LEO O'HARA, A.B. "Jim"
Lewiston, Maine

"And I oft have heard defended,—Little said is soonest mended."

Born July 20, 1903, Lewiston, Maine; Jordan High School 1921; Politics Club 4.

It is not often that "Jim" bursts forth into a pyrotechnical display of argumentative effort, as others of us are prone to do, but, when such a rare event occurs, his sententious suggestions concerning the proper method of conducting a class might well receive the serious consideration of the faculty.

Off-campus work has kept "Jim" out of many campus activities, and his co-educational courses have been sorely neglected. To remedy these defects, if they be defects, it is recommended that "Jim" take his master's degree at Wellesley.

ARVID CONRAD BERNARD PETERSON, B.S. "Pete" "Porky"
Springfield, Mass.

"Happy am I; from care I'm free!
Why aren't they all contented like me?"

Born February 2, 1903, Springfield, Mass.; Technical High School 1921; Varsity Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Track 3, 4; Varsity Basketball 1; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Class Track 1, 2; Varsity Club 2, 3, 4, Sec. 4; Military Science 3, 4.

Pete needs no introduction—everyone knows him and everyone likes him, which speaks for itself. Behind that hearty laugh and happy countenance there is another Pete that perhaps all of us haven't discovered—a serious, deep thinknig student who is striving toward a well-planned future. We may be sure that he will play the game of Life the same as he does a game of football—clean, respectful to his opponents, and battling to the very end with a never-say-die spirit. Here's the best of success and good luck to you, Pete,—a student, a clean athlete, a true friend and a gentleman.

EVELYN WILMA PARKHURST, A.B. "Billie" Presque Isle, Me.

"Thoughtless of beauty, she was Beauty's self."

Born October 17, 1902, Presque Isle, Maine; Presque Isle High School; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Cabinet 3, 4; Membership Committee 3; Social Committee 4; Deutscher Verein 2, 3, 4; Vice-President, 4; Class Vice-President, 4; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Student Council, 3; Seniority, 4.

"Billie's" little air of serenity and poise is a thing most rare, and longed for. About her smile—a smile with enough of friendliness in it, desire to please, and willingness to do, there is still a hint of the unfathomable, suggesting in her nature something latent, that all eyes may not see. She is one of those who think, nor must reveal those thoughts. And by this little hint of the abstruse is she tenfold more worth knowing.

KOHE NAGAKURA, B.S. "Naga"
Tokyo, Japan

"And helped his neighbor to rise."

Born August 8, 1896, Tokyo, Japan; Westbrook Seminary 1920; 4A Players 3, 4; Jordan Scientific 4; Director of the Outing Club 4.

The "bell ringer" of Hathorn Hall is a very popular fellow in spite of his position. Even the fair sex is enchanted by his pleasant inviting smile. His experience in theatricals, his knowledge of science and his activity in winter sports have won for him the respect and good will of all. "Naga" has astonished many by his brilliant replies in English. Just test him by asking: "Who went to sleep?"

JOHN FRANCIS O'CONNOR, B.S. "Okie"
Dorchester, Mass.

"Nowhere so busy a man as he there was."

Born April 13, 1901, Dorchester, Massachusetts; Boston Latin; Brewster Academy 1921; Football 1; Freshman Hockey; Cercle Francais 1, 2; Sophomore Prize Speaking; Military Science Club 3; Student Board 1, 2; Athletic Editor 2; Athletic Editor Mirror 4; Politics Club 4; Cheer Leader 2; Varsity Club 3, 4; Pres. 4; Ivy Day Speaker 3; Hockey 3, 4.

"Okie" has had a finger in the pie, often being the complete filling itself, in so many activities that his dynamic personality has permeated the entire campus life. From giving impetuous speeches in Chapel concerning the missing "lynx" to wielding a weighty stick in a hockey game, "Okie" is among the leaders. "Okie," however, has one failing—he delights in handing impressive business-like interviews to Frosh cub reporters, seeking scoops, and they think that "Okie" really means everything that he says to them.

RUTH NUTTER, A.B. Salmon Falls, N. H.

"Steel true and blade-straight."

Born September 3, 1901, Salmon Falls, New Hampshire; Berwick Academy, 1921; Entre Nous; Outing Club 2, 3, 4; Hockey 1, 2; Hiking 2; Volleyball 1, 2; Soccer 1, 2; Numerals; Athletic Board; French Club 3; Phil-Hellenic 2, 3, 4; Ramsdell Scientific 4; Seniority 3, 4; President 4; Sophomore Prize Debate; Debating Council 3, 4; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Religious Committee 2; Finance Committee 3; Treasurer 4; Politics Club; Y. W. Christmas Bazaar Chairman 4. Honor Student; Phi Beta Kappa.

There is never a conversation that Ruth cannot lead, never a person whom she cannot interest, never a place where she does not fit—and what finer tribute could be paid man or woman? There is a brightly gowned, singing, feminine assembly which enlivens the gym after dinner, and then gather around the piano to discuss Bowdoin frat dances; there is a serious group pursuing Ed. notes behind exclusively forbidden doors. In each and every one of these, Ruth, much loved, holds an honored place, for which there is no substitute.

MARION PIERCE, A.B.
Auburn, Maine

"A daughter of the Gods, divinely tall and most divinely fair."

Born July 10, 1904, Old Orchard, Maine; Edward Little High School, 1921; Entre Nous; Enkuklios; Y. W. C. A.; Outing Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Gym Meet, 1, 2.

A charm of fascination is hers, the changing fascination of cloud forms and moving mist. To watch expressions play upon her, shifting, animation quick in every word, is pleasure. Endowed she is with a divine luck that knows no failing, yet haunted after every quiz with a strange obsession——— "Absolutely I didn't know a thing!" Or is it lack of realization of her powers—for when the gods sift down the grades hers is always well toward the top. One of our smiling memories is of that happy two, Marion and Eddie, loitering to class, laughing over some secret amusement at "Monie's" door as they await the last bell.

TRACY MINTON PULLMAN, A.B. "Trace"
Mechanic Falls, Maine

"An eloquent man, speaking the truth."

Born January 22, 1904, Lynn, Mass.; Hyde Park High School, Chicago, Ill.; Stephens High School, Rumford, Me., 1921; Politics Club, 4; Cosmos Club, 4; Y. M. C. A. 4; Varsity Debating Squad, 4.

Here is a gentleman whose main aim in life is to put a little red fighting blood in the ministry. Although he comes from St. Lawrence University he has the Bates fighting spirit. In the brief time he has been with us he has proved himself a likeable fellow who is not afraid to uphold his convictions. In addition to debating and preaching, he is also a successful co-educator.

RALPH FREDERICK PRICE, B.S. "Hap" Dalton, Mass.

"He rested well content that all was well."

Born Nov. 3, 1897, Dalton, Mass. Holderness School 1921; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Military Science Club 2, 3; Varsity Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Commons Committee 2, 3, 4; Class Basketball 1, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Football 1, 2, 3, 4; Captain 4; Varsity Baseball 1, 2, 3, 4.

This athlete is one of the leaders of the college. As a football captain, "Hap" left nothing to be desired. His example of self-sacrificing effort, and conscientious, was deserving of a championship. In the spring months he has been one of our mainstays on the mound. In every-day life, "Hap" is probably the most familiar figure on the campus. His position at the Commons has caused everyone to know him well and to know him for a gentleman.

ALTON EARLE RAMEY, B.S. "Red"
Lubec, Maine

"Wit is a dangerous weapon."

Born April 13, 1903, Lubec, Maine; Lubec High School; Class Basketball 1, 2; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Maine Intercollegiate Bowling Champ. 1925.

Shades of H. C. Witwer! This boy, to resort to vulgar parlance, sure possesses a mean line and no mistake. And he's a student, too, what I mean, but the social life exacts a great toll from him and Phi Beta Kappa thereby is the loser. Oh, by the way, did Tufts beat M. A. C. or how did the Bowdoin-Harvard fencing match come out? Ask "Red," he knows. He's a dopester of the first water. "Red" is also our champ bowler and has cleaned up everywhere from Lubec to the Pastime. Our horoscope for this red-haired prodigy shows him either as the proprietor of a mammoth bowling alley resort or as a future Neal O'Hara.

THOMAS ALDEN REED, B.S. "Tom"
Worcester, Mass

"The hand that hath made you fair hath made you good."

Born December 13, 1900, Gardner, Massachusetts; Milford High School 1919; Glee Club 2, 3; English 4A Players 3, 4; Jordan Scientific 4; Debating Council (Manager) 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Assistant in Public Speaking 3, 4; Assistant in Geology 4; Manager of Bates Mirror 4; Advertising Manager of Student 3; Chairman of Ivy Day 3; Assistant Manager Million Dollar Play 3; Manager 4.

We owe an everlasting debt of gratitude to Worcester Polytechnical Institute for letting Tom Reed slip through their fingers. He's been on the jump since the moment he first set foot on our virgin soil. How did you keep that spirit of good nature and cordial fellowship, Tom, with the burden of all these tasks on your shoulders? You don't need our heartiest congratulations nor our best wishes, but we want to shower you with them just the same.

ADA PRATT REED, A.B. "Ah-dah" Rumford, Maine.

"I know all that better than my own name."

Born September 30, 1902, Rumford, Maine; Stephens High School, 1920; Hiking, 1, 2, 3; Soccer, 1, 3; Hockey, 2, 3, 4; Numerals; Entre Nous; Outing Club; Y. W. C. A.; Deutscher Verein, 4; Program Committee.

If it's a soccer game or a crossword puzzle you'll want her help, and when it comes to studying, there's no question she can't answer. Dutchy is her favorite prof, but she adores Pom and laughs at all Mac's jokes, while in Monie's English the flood of her knowledge simply astounds us. Her spare moments are devoted to scattering music and good cheer; there's no entertainment complete, without "Ah-dah" at the piano. As the dashing young cadet at the Hallowe'en party, she captured all the ladies' hearts. After dinner or before chapel, when we want an accompaniment for our singing or dancing, she's the most important girl in the dormitory.

MILDRED ESTHER RILEY, A.B. "Mil"
Sabattus, Maine

"You smiled, you spoke, and I believed."

Born November 2, 1904, Sabattus, Maine; Sabattus High School; Soccer, 1st Team 2, 3; Hockey 1st Team 2, 3; Volleyball 1st Team 2, 3, 4; Hiking 2, 3; Basketball 2nd Team 1; First, 2, 3, 4; Sophomore Class Debate; Debating Council 3; Glee Club 3, 4; Athletic Board 4; Student Gov. Jud. 4.

Cheers for our off-campus athlete—snappy little forward, scrappy little halfback, happy little sport. How can you do so many, many things and live so far away? It must just mean efficiency, and you show that in your classroom work as well as in all your dealings with college problems. You have had a big part in earning points for '25, Mil, dear, and we have tried to show our appreciation by giving you a place on the Athletic Board, and on the Stu. G. Board and in our hearts.

JULIUS RUTSKY, B.S. "Rut"
East Boston, Mass.

"On with the dance! let joy be unconfined."

Born September 12, 1902, Russia; East Boston High School 1921; Varsity Club 3, 4; Football 3, 4.

Where's the dance? Yes, you'll probably find him there, perfecting the latest wrinkles in dance steps to the delight of the admiring local damsels. Much of his time has been spent in down-town restaurants, meat markets, etc., but although Rut has been busy he has had time to win a few football games for Bates in the last two years. That pass in the Rhode Island game was of the variety you read about but seldom see and we will remember it for many years. Harry W. would like to see you in the office, Julius.

FRANKLIN DANA ROWE, A.B. "Frank" Lewiston, Maine.

"He was wont to speak plain, and to the purpose, like an honest man and a soldier."

Born January 14, 1905, Lewiston, Maine; Lewiston High School, 1921; Deutscher Verein 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

Franklin is a youngster who possesses the valuable gift of being able to listen attentively to a person, even a "prof," until their argument is complete. But then he will turn and with a few decisive, crisp sentences tinged with perhaps a biting scarcasm, rip into shreds all that has been said. It may be that his explorations into the field of dead languages and abstruse sciences have made him cynical of the frivolities of this modern world but, then again, it may be that he is laughing at us while "getting our goats." One, however, cannot but feel a liking for a fellow as open and frank as Franklin.

ROSCOE SPRINGER SCOTT, B.S. "Scotty"
Melrose Highlands, Mass.

"A man he seems of cheerful yesterdays and confident to-morrows."

Born August 19, 1904, Melrose Highlands, Massachusetts; Melrose High School 1921; Bates Student, 1, 2, 3; Spofford Club 2, 3, 4; Men's Glee Club 3; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Assistant in Spanish 3, 4; Assistant in Geology 4.

A series of hearty laughs, prolonged vocal strains, issuing from somewhere in the immediate vicinity and one looks about to find "Scotty" as per usual giving vent to his inclinations of jollity and song. It's a fact, he holds the New England record for marathon laughing. But "Scotty" has a serious side as well—an amicable sort of seriousness—and he's a student, having hung up a creditable record in the Spanish and Geology departments where he has served two apprenticeships. "Scotty" is bound to go big imparting knowledge to young America, or young Cuba, or wherever he hangs his hat.

LEAH SHAPIRO, A.B.
Auburn, Maine

"In sweet music is such art, killing care and grief of heart."

Born May 27, 1903, Auburn, Maine. Edward Little High School; Entre Nous; Enkuklios; Outing Club 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Deutscher Verein, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club, 3, 4; "The Dress Rehearsal" 3; Freshman Prize Speaking Division; Macfarlane Club 4; Million Dollar Play, 1; 4A Players, 2, 3, 4. Honor Student, Phi Beta Kappa.

Leah's joy in music, ranging from the classics to the latest jazz favorite, is faithfully reflected. Such a cheerful small person she seems, with radiancy and constant buoyancy of temper. Far back in Freshman days her dramatic powers were recognized in that memorable Million Dollar Play, "Nothing But the Truth." We have heard it whispered that Leah's grades are of the highest, and reliable witness is borne by her stellar recitations in class work, fluency that leaves one mentally gaping.

LILLIAN ETHELYND SEGAL, A.B. Lewiston, Maine.

"O wad some power the giftie gie us
To see ourselves as ithers see us."

Born June 11, 1903, Rockland, Maine; Portland High School; Phil-Hellenic, 4; Le Cercle Francais, 4; Outing Club.

Lillian is the kind of girl we like to have around, and although she has been with us only three years, she has made many friends who want to know her better. When she talks to us about herself, we don't pay any attention; we just draw our own conclusions, for Lillian's invariable modesty is her one great fault, amounting almost to an inferiority complex. Look at yourself just once in the mirror of your friends' regard, Lillian. You will see, as they have always seen, gayety and charm, earnestness and vivacity.

GEORGE CROSBY SHELDON, A.B.

Augusta, Maine

"My ventures are not all in one bottom trusted."

Born May 17, 1902, Augusta, Maine; Cony High School 1921; Sophomore Debate; Bates Student 1, 2, 3, 4; Business Manager; Business Manager of Musical Club 3; Assistant Manager of Million Dollar Play 3, 4; Manager of 4A Players 4; Assistant Manager of Mirror 4; Politics Club 3, 4; Debating Council 2, 3, 4; Vice-President 4; Spofford Club 4; Ivy Poem; Junior Exhibition 3; Assistant in Economics; Varsity Debater; Delta Sigma Rho. Honor Student, Phi Beta Kappa.

Why, to be sure, everyone knows George. Remember the fellow who sold you that "mem" book and those banners? That was George. He's the fellow who corrects your Economic tests, too. Perhaps you didn't know that he wrote poetry, and not everyone is aware of his ability as a teller of droll stories. He does both. But why ramble on about George? Can a man with a Delta Sigma Rho and a Phi Beta key go wrong?

LOIS MADELYN SIMPSON

Auburn, Maine

"Her eye was large and dark, Suppressing half its fire until she spoke."

Born June 9, 1903, Auburn, Maine; Edward Little High School; Entre Nous; Class Vice-Pres. 1; Enkuklios; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Sophomore Prize Speaking Division; Student Gov. Council, 1; Outing Club, 2, 3, 4; Gym. Meet, 2, 3; Million Dollar Play, 1; 4A Players, 2, 3, 4.

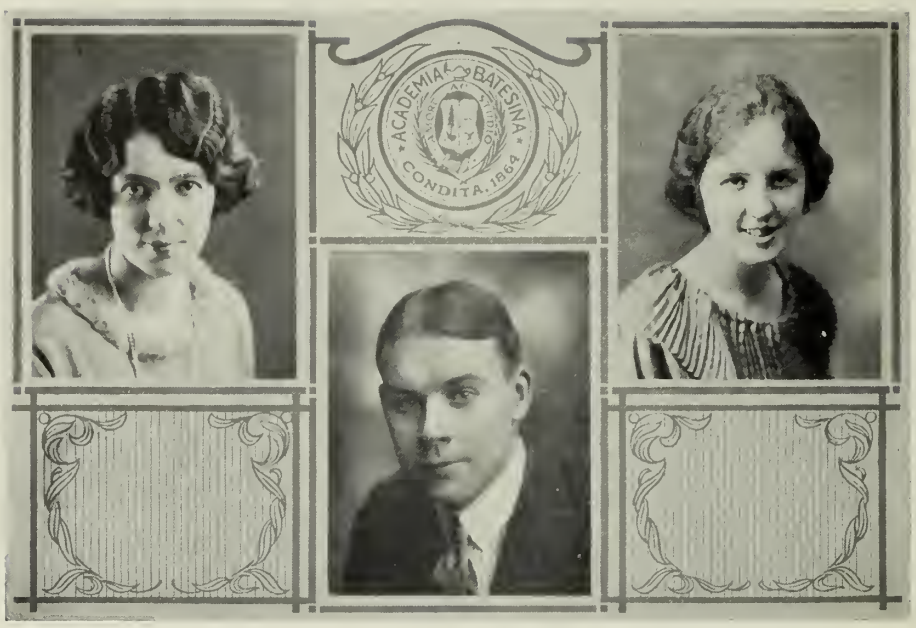
One of the merry town girl bunch, and does cross-word puzzles in ink. Imagine that superlative of assurance, and the self-confidence which should belong to more. But it's a worthy trait and one that wins, the first to finish. When she has made up her mind, "so 'tis"—"I will not retreat a single inch, and I will be heard." And you can hear her. Rollicking mirth, expression of an extravagant vitality. Her laughter is the spite of jollity, and who ever heard of gloom in such a presence?

HAROLD BEST SIMPSON, B.S. "H. B. S." Pawtucket, R. I.

"His tribe were God Almighty's Gentlemen."

Born December 27, 1901, Pawtucket, Rhode Island; Arlington High School 1924; English 4A Players 3, 4; Million Dollar Play 3; Ivy Day Speaker; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Society Editor of Mirror 4.

"A dish fit for the Gods" is the impression that Harold leaves with us—our own model fresh from Vanity Fair, at once the personification of charm and grace. His field is the field of society and he follows it amazingly well. No social function has been complete without Harold—our acknowledged social leader. And do you remember the superb acting he did in "Cheating Cheaters?" But his virtues do not lie completely on the surface. Altogether Harold is a friend to prize, a pleasing personality, a well-rounded gentleman.



ELLEN ELIZABETH SMALL, A.B.
Auburn, Maine

"When life's deep stream, 'mid beds of flowers
All bright and peaceful glides."

Born April 4, 1903, Auburn, Maine; Edward Little High School; Entre Nous; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Le Cercle Francais 4; Deutscher Verein 3, 4.

What does it matter if you are five minutes late to chapel, Ellen? Of course, we all understand that there are ever so many interesting things to talk about. But please don't forget to come at all, in your sweet absent-mindedness,—because we want at least a small share of your time for ourselves. Such a snowy-starched, spic-and-span Ellen, such a dusky-haired, red-lipped Ellen, such a smiling, friendly Ellen,—and since freshman year you have almost let us forget the attraction of your comradeship, and your gossip, and your fun. Almost, but not quite, because—well, because we just couldn't.

ANNABEL KELSEY SNOW, A.B.
Lewiston, Maine

"Take the Sunday with you through the week,
And seventeen with it all the other days."

Born August 31, 1904, Pine Point, Maine; Gould's Academy, 1921; Entre Nous; Y. W. C. A.; Outing Club; Cosmos Club, 4; English 4A Players, 3, 4.

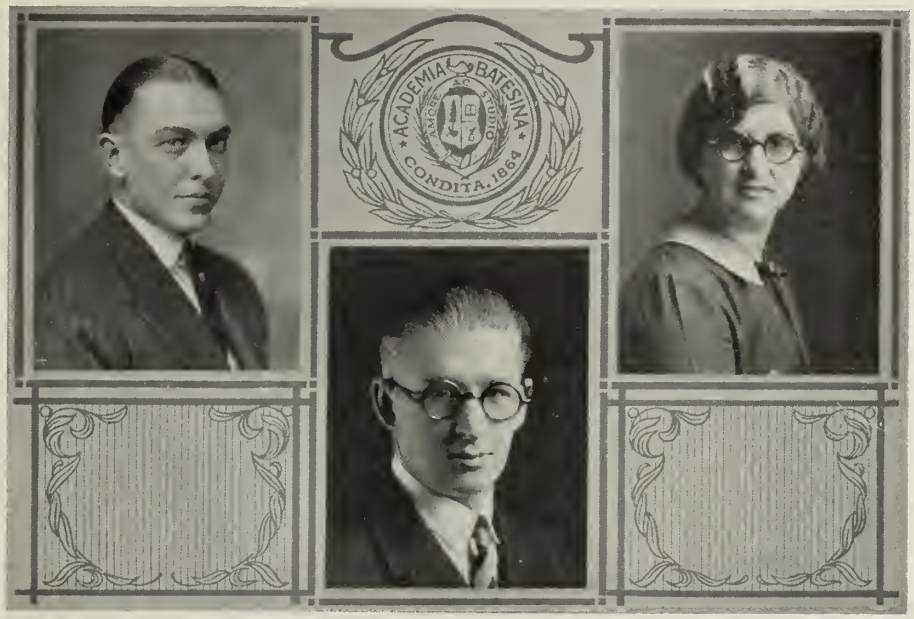
Annabel seems to be a most saint-like maiden, but you can't always tell—she has never lived in a dormitory! She has a keen sense of humor, as we know from her clever little comedies. (Oh, no, she doesn't write morality plays all the time, although "Behind the Oaken Door" was a good one, wasn't it?) Religious work finds ample room in her program, and she never misses a Sunday at Doc Finnie's Bible Classes. She has a deep love for the beautiful in nature or in the pages of a book, and her chief ambition is to become a poetess. The Muses speed thee on thy way, Annabel.

JOHN JOSEPH SMITH, B.S. "Jack" Bar Harbor, Maine.

"Fate tried to conceal him."

Born July 24, 1902, Bar Harbor, Maine; Bar Harbor High School 1920; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Military Science 3, 4; Politics Club 4.

Fate couldn't conceal our only bona-fide business man, not even by naming him John Smith. Most of all the noisy Frosh meet "Jack" very early in their career and become quieter forthwith. The young ladies may meet him at Peck's but he doesn't mind it. His heart is away over the mountain on Main Street. We don't blame you, either, "Jack." In his studies he puts Adam Smith to shame. He gallops right along and when the rest of us are mired he'll still be galloping.



HAROLD BYRON SNYDER, B.S. "Snyde"
Exeter, New Hampshire

"To be a well formed man is the gift of fortune."

Born March 28, 1903, Brentinavel, New Hampshire; Sanborn Seminary 1920; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Glee Club 3; Assistant Manager Hockey 3.

"A man of parts," that's "Snyde." He's been more or less elusive perhaps but in time of stress he's to be counted on. His courtesy and dignity are unsurpassable. Maybe he did think he held a first mortgage on the J. B. telephone but we'll forgive him for that. All's fair in love you know, and distance does lend enchantment. Incidentally "Snyde" was an invaluable asset to the Glee Club with his whiskey tenor. We look for no little achievement from him.

DORIS ELIZABETH STANLEY, A.B.
"Dotty"
Kezar Falls, Maine

"To make the world a friendly place
One must show it a friendly face."

Born May 5, 1902, Kezar Falls, Maine; Porter High School '19; Gray's Business College '20; Entre Nous 1; Hiking 1; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Conventions Committee 2, 3; Cabinet 3; Alethea 2, 3; Le Cercle Francais 1, 2, 3, 4; Christmas Bazaar 3, 4.

Hello, here's Doris! A flood of pleasant memories come to our minds—house-parties where Doris looked after the eats—trips to Paradise Farm on snowshoes, and one especially when Doris took a jump over the bank to avoid being run over by an onrushing interurban—Maqua, and the enthusiasm of Doris' committee in getting together the delegation—parties in "Dots' and Mil's" room—and just Doris with her big-hearted, generous friendship for all.

CLIFTON VINCENT STANLEY, A.B. "Jimmie" Kezar Falls, Maine.

"A cheerful temper joined with innocence."

Born October 14, 1904, Kezar Falls, Maine; Porter High School 1921; Junior Exhibition; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Sec. Hall Ass'n 4.

Here's another case of hiding light under a bushel basket. "Jimmie" you have been keeping something from us. By throwing up a smoke screen of seclusion, you have left idle much ability that would have been warmly welcomed. The J. B. boys have one or two inklings as to your merits, however; we know you pick the mandolin. It's a fact! Well, "bonne chance" in your instruction of the young, anyway, Clif. We know you'll throw off that smoke screen then.

MILDRED SYLVIA STANLEY, A.B. "Mil"
Kezar Falls, Maine

"What else but music frees the mind it holds?"

Born, January 16, 1905, Kezar Falls, Maine; Porter High School; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Social Committee 2; Entre Nous; Alethea 2, 3; Vice-President, 2; Le Cercle Francais 2, 3; Seniority 3, 4; Macfarlane Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Secretary 3; Vice-President 4; Freshman Prize Speaking; Sophomore Prize Speaking; Sophomore Debate; Assistant in Public Speaking 4; Student Council 3, 4; Student Government Judiciary Board, Secretary-Treasurer 3; House Senior 4; Woman's Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Reader 3; Accompanist 3, 4; College Choir 1, 2, 3, 4; Orphic Society 3, 4; President 3, 4; College Organist.

It is "Mil" who enthralls us with her piano solos. It is she who fascinates us by her reading and convinces us by her arguments. Furthermore, Student Government demanded Mil's interested aid for two years. How she found time to prepare lessons is perplexing but her scholastic record assures us that somehow she did.

KATHERINE ADDIE STONE, A.B. "K"
Waterford, Maine

"Our hands are full of business, let's away!"

Born January 29, 1901, Waterford, Maine; Bridgton Academy 1919; Entre Nous 1; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Seniority 4; Deutscher Verein 4; Macfarlane 4.

Kay's college career was interrupted by a year of teaching and that's why we can claim her. We are glad to have her. She is just the sort of a little person that one is happy to know and have for a friend. Her wit is rare and her humor highly appreciable. Kay has helped notably in raising the reputation of our English class by always having an answer for Monie's questions of "Who wrote —and "Where was somebody born?" Do you want some good fudge? Ask Kay to make it.

WILLARD JESSE STEVENS, A.B. "Steve" Milan, N. H.

"There was a star danced, and under that I was born."

Born 1903, Deerfield, New Hampshire; Coe's Academy, 1921; Press Club, 2; Politics Club, 3, 4, Vice-President 4; Asst. Tennis Mgr. 2, Manager 3; Varsity Club 4; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4.

Willard hasn't said much during his stay at Bates, but he's thought a lot, and those of us who know him have profited from the expression of those sentiments. He has subscribed regularly to the "American Mercury" and has also prevented the monastery from becoming too ministerial. During his four years on the campus he has shown his business ability in many ways, especially as tennis manager. He says he isn't interested in "Co-eds." Well, there's a reason, as a photo on his desk will testify.

ALICE THERESA HILDAGARD SWANSON, A.B. "Al"

Thomaston, Conn.

"There's such a charm in melancholy,
I would not, if I could, be gay."

Born November 8, 1904, Thomaston, Conn.; Thomaston High School; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Publicity Committee 4; Volleyball 2; Outing Club; Junior Exhibition; College Choir 3, 4; Macfarlane 4.

"Al" can be at choice, a most gracious person, all beauty and loveliness. "Could swell the soul to rage, or kindle soft desire." She is the sort of person, even, who inspires quotation. There is so much to say of such a one, so much that is merely suggestive —dramatic talent, a golden voice, and withal a nature somewhat skeptical. More beauty cannot be dreamed than "Al's" voice raised in fragments of song, or Christmas Carol.

ARTHUR SHAPLEIGH TWOMBLY, A.B. "Prexy"

Eliot, Maine

"Every man has his fault, and honesty is his."

Born November 20, 1903, Eliot, Maine; Eliot High School 1921; Military Science Club 3, 4; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Pres. J. B. Hall Association.

"Law and Order" and "Prexy' Twombly are to us synonymous. Years ago he waged that inoubliable political campaign which made him the best known campus figure and gave "25" a permanent fixture of inestimable value. Not the least of his helpful activities is his scintillating career as guiding star of the J. B. Hall Association. Here's a phophecy, years hence when the rest of us are forgotten figures, "Prexy" will be hailed as one of the leading Bates "Institutions."

URSULA ELIZABETH TETREAU, A.B. "Teddie" Portland, Maine.

"The fairest garden in her looks
And in her mind the wisest books."

Born August 23, 1902, Haverhill, Mass.; Portland High School, '21; Entre Nous 1; French Club 1, 2, 3, 4, Vice-President 3, President 4; Seniority 4; Debating Council 4; Assistant in Argumentation 4; Sophomore Debates 3; French Plays 2, 4; Outing Cluh 1, 2, 3, 4. Honor Student, Phi Beta Kappa.

Ted joined our class one semester late but there is no more loyal '25 girl. If there is anything that she can't do—and, what's more, do well—we haven't discovered it. From assisting Birdie in Argumentation to leading cheers on the hockey field, Ted is right there. We always feel that there is more in her original hrilliant personality than has been brought out. Ted gets along famously in classes and pulls wonderfully high marks. (Just ask Ted about Pa Gould's government class.)

ALICE LESLIE WALKER, A.B. "Bobbie" Canton, Maine

"She is brisk as a bee."

Born January 30, 1906, Canton, Maine; Canton High School, 1921; Entre Nous; Le Cercle Francais; Hiking 1; Deutscher Verein 4; Outing Club; Y. W. C. A.

The very first person out of every exam. from Freshman Physiology to Senior Education, has been "Bobbie" Walker. She rushes about from Main Street to Hathorn, downtown and back again, somehow finding time amid her many household cares to keep up her ranks and her friendships. She is such a speedy person that she managed to hustle through high school and enter college years younger than the rest of us, and she has done everything since in proportion. It was a loss to us all when you went off campus, Bobby.

LEWIS EDGECOMB WALTON, A.B. "Ike"
Whitman, Mass.

"A fair exterior is a silent recommendation."

Born Halifax, Mass. May 15, 1903. Whitman High School 1921; Student Board 1, 2; Debating Editor, 2; Managing Editor, 3; Soph. Prize Debate, Debating Council, 3, 4; Deutscher Verein, 3, 4; Politics Club, 3, 4. Honor Student, Phi Beta Kappa.

Judging from his list of activities Ike certainly hasn't wasted his time in college. He isn't any relation to the authority on fishing, yet he has done some successful fishing along some lines during the last four years. "Everything comes to him who waits," even Cupid. "Ike" has proven himself to be one of the most conscientious, tireless workers the Student ever had as its managing editor, and one of our ablest students.

CHESTER WILLIAM WALKER, A.B. "Chet" Upton, Mass.

"All wisdom's armory this man could wield."

Born September 17, 1903, Upton, Massachusetts; Upton High School 1921; French Club 2, 3, 4; French Plays 2, 4; News Editor Student 4; Mirror Board 4.

Yes, he writes poetry, good poetry, too. His contributions to the Student have been numerous and invariably good. It is astonishing to see this fellow absorb knowledge. He doesn't need to plug as hard as the rest of us, which is the reason he is so far ahead. Not an ardent co-educator, he has not the sympathy with other human beings which this sport induces, but rather an elevated philosophy of which we, his class-mates, are justly proud.

AVIS ELIZABETH WARREN, A.B.

Buckfield, Maine

"There is more in one than thou understand'st."

Born 1903, Buckfield, Maine; Buckfield High School 1921; Entre Nous; Outing Club; Y. W. C. A.; Hiking 1, 2; Soccer 2nd, 2; Volleyball 2nd, 4.

Whenever Avis, Mary, Floppy get together there's sure to be a frolic. Avis' room has been the scene of wild doings since freshman year at Whittier when she lived down on the first floor away from the house committee. She really likes to study, except when it comes to speech making and French composition. Her bright wavy hair, her flashes of unexpected wit, and her ability to translate our Latin are attributes that we all have recognized. Yet there is something in her more than these; in all her years with us, Avis has never completely revealed herself. Her true worth only the future can gauge.

CAROLINE REBECCA WELLS, A.B.

"Brin"

West Andover, N. H.

"What we admire we praise."

Born April 15, 1905, Andover, New Hampshire; Franklin High School 1920; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Hockey 2nd 2, 3, 4; Soccer 2nd 1, 2, 3; Numerals; Entre Nous; Sophomore Prize Speaking; Outing Club; Y. W. C. A.; World Fellowship Committee; Student Council 4, Social Committee 3; Cabinet 4; Chairman Social Service Committee; Phil-Hellenic Club 4; New Hampshire Club, Vice-President 3; President 4; Ivy Day Speaker.

Her clubs and her athletics and her speechmakings are only a small part of Caroline. There are her clever vogue and her friendly heart and the comfort of her presence, which all of us have known; there are her deep-voiced ghost stories and her little would-be wickednesses and her interest in judging speaking contests or watching East Parker

RUTH LETITIA WASS, A.B. Brunswick, Maine.

"I do but sing because I must,
And pipe but as the linnets play."

Born Sept. 17, 1902, Malden, Mass.; Brunswick High School; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Bible Study Committee 4; Tennis 2, 2nd 1, 3; Volley Ball, 2nd, 1, 2; Gym. Meet, 2, 3; Entre Nous; Alethea 3, 4; Cercle Francais 1, 2; Deutscher Verein 3, 4; Seniority 3, 4; Macfarlane 3, 4; Glee Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Leader 4; Chapel Choir 1, 2, 3, 4; Vice-President 4.

A merry comrade, with a loving spirit, with yearning for the joy of life. Laughter as widely infectious as the range of her lilting voice. Laughter that we have heard, too, on the near end of a campus telephone conversation many times and long. Spring, a swinging tennis racket, and Ruth are synonymous. A graceful dancer of the minuet, she is, too, in puffs and flounces of colonial days, a pretty addition to Chase Hall programs.

LUCY MARTHA WELLS, A.B. "Luce"
West Andover, N. H.

"A day of wind and laughter,
A flower blown are you,
Whose eyes are in the morning,

Born April 23, 1903, West Andover, N. H.; Franklin High School; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Bible Study Committee, 2; World Fellowship Committee 3, 4; Entre Nous; Student Volunteer 1, 2, 3, 4; Cosmos Club 3, 4; Outing Club.

Lucy—or call her "Luce," we do—isn't so strictly religious and devout as all this would imply. That is, not in that sense. That we see her scarcely ever alone is granted—and that the other of the two is rarely other than "Don" may have its own sense of the devotional. Lucy has the true big sister spirit. Her room is the den of many an underclass group, and she the treasured friend of them all.

MELVILLE WILSON, B.S. "Mel"
Cumberland Center, Maine

"He had kept the whiteness of his soul and thus men envied him."

Born May 12, 1902, Cumberland Center, Maine; Pennell Institute 1921; French Club 1, 2; Freshman Track; Y. M. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Jordan Scientific 4; Demonstrator Biochem Jordan Scientific Society 1924 exhibition.

"Mel" goes about his work in a quiet, unassuming way. Although he does not proclaim it from the housetops, he is one of our scientific experts. His hours spent at Carnegie are not wasted, for he is planning to become a surgeon. He is, in fact, one of our most skillful dissectors. His use of the "gloves" has proved to many that in spite of his four years residence in the cloistered walls of the monastery he has not become an ascetic.

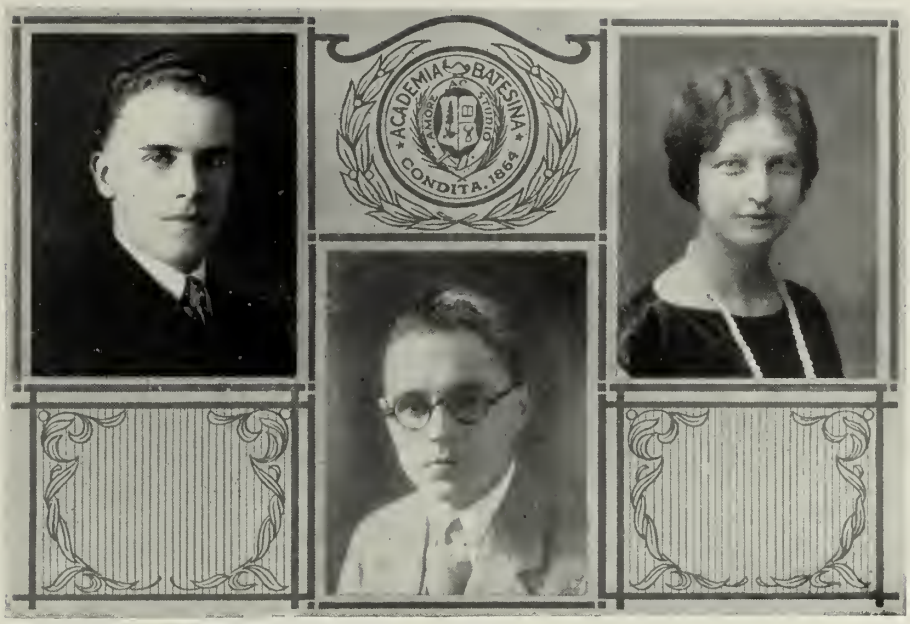
RUSSELL GARNER WILLS, B.S. "Russ" Lewiston, Maine

"The Devil hath not in all his quivers choice, an arrow for the heart like a sweet voice."

Born December 29, 1902, Lewiston, Maine; Edward Little High School 1921; Glee Club 2, 3; Million Dollar Play 3, 4; Orphic Society 3; English 4A Players 3, 4.

If ever a fellow exuded good-fellowship and jollity it is "Russ." His expansive smile together with his "business-like" appearance should marvelously fit him for an executive position in some large concern.

"Russ'" work in the Glee Club and his silent but impressive portrayal of "John Law" in one Million Dollar Play and as "Mr. Stage-Manager" in another has been a worth-while addition to college activities. If, however, 'Russ" ever wished to display his histrionic talents at their best he should portray the character of "Falstaff."



STANLEY ERVIN WILSON, B.S. "Stan"
West Falmouth, Maine
"With wings on his feet."

Born May 22, 1904, West Falmouth, Maine; Westbrook Seminary 1921; Varsity Club 3, 4; Varsity Track 1, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Cross Country 2, 3, 4; Jordan Scientific 3, 4; Secretary Jordan Scientific Society 4; Athletic Council 3, 4; Athletic Association Secretary 4; Chemistry Assistant 4.

Stan has a determined nature that has come to the fore in his favorite sport as well as in his studies. He has developed into a real runner, and it was his own hard work and diligent training that got him there. Stan also has a strong leaning toward Chemistry and he is usually found either inhaling fumes in the lab. or blowing them out on the track. He has always run a hard, fighting race and we are banking on Stan to do the same after he has left Bates. We know he'll win.

RUBIE CHRISTINE WOODCOCK, A.B.
Thomaston, Maine
"Your spirit is attentive."

Born January 31, 1903, Thomaston, Maine; Thomaston High School; Entre Nous; Alethea 3; Outing Club 1, 2, 3, 4; Y. W. C. A. 1, 2, 3, 4; Social Com. 2; Hiking 1, 2, 3; Phil-Hellenic 1, 2, 3, 4; Ramsdell Scientific 4; Seniority 4; Student Government Board 1, 2, 3; Freshman Rep. 1; Sophomore Rep. 2, Vice-President 3; Mathematics Assistant 3, 4. Honor Student.

Capability personified—that is Rubie. Smilingly busy, always accomplishing what is expected of her, she goes hurriedly on her successful way. Library assistant, math. assistant, Stu. G. executive,—we wonder how she does so many things that require strict attention. Then too we remember her, merry and care-free among all her duties, in the days when she lived in the dorm. Do you miss us at all, Rubie? You seem so very happy!—but you and Karl and Hazel were always the best of chums, and it is a cunnin' youngster! But anyway, Rubie, we miss you.

EDMUND GREENWOOD WOODCOCK, B.S. "Eddie" Newtonville, Mass.
"Tho' modest, on his unembarrassed brow, nature had written 'Gentleman.' "

Born December 31, 1899, Newtonville, Massachusetts; Cushing Academy 1920; Military Science, 1, 2, 3, 4; Varsity Club 4; Manager of Track 3; President of Maine Intercollegiate Track and Field Association; Faculty Dance Committee.

Here is a man who can put himself into any surroundings and with his quiet, easy manner come through in fine fashion. Eddie is always welcome at any kind of gathering and his level-headed business ability has been used to great advantage when the class wanted something to go over real big. His occasional jaunts to Auburn are now accepted as a matter of course but we do not hold this against Eddie. We feel sure that he will meet with the same success in the business world that he has had during his sojourn at Bates.

CHARLES EVERETT WOODMAN, B.S. "Ev"

Auburn, Maine

"The winds and waves are always on the side of the ablest navigators."

Born October 12, 1903, Auburn, Maine; Edward Little High School 1921; Varsity Club 2, 3, 4; Politics Club 3, 4; Mirror Board 4; Ivy Day Marshal 3; Vice-Pres. Student Council 4; Varsity Basketball 1; Varsity Football 2, 3, 4.

In "Ev" we see that admirable combination of genuine qualities of leadership with an entire lack of self-consciousness characteristic of few who have risen to such popularity as his in college life. His incomparable work as a speedy, crushing, indomitable football back in those games with Bowdoin and Colby will be retold many times when we meet as "old grads." Despite "Ev's" lack of ostentatious display he has made a lasting impression upon us.

ADELBERT HENRY GOOGINS "Bert"

Born at Portland, Maine, 1903. Died July 28, 1924. Deering High School, 1921; Candidate for A.B. Degree; Freshman Prize Debater, winning team; Sophomore Prize Debater; Member, Bates Debating Council; Committee Chairman, Bates Y. M. C. A.; Member, Jordan Scientific Society; Assistant in Zoology.

We all had a very dear friend in "Bert" Googins, and during the two years and a half that he was with us, the class had a loyal supporter in its every activity. He was brilliant in his studies, an assistant in Zoology, and a very able debater. All of us remember "Bert's" grin, and his ever-refreshing good nature. We have missed him.

WISDOM

I dreamed
There was a city like a floating mist of towers,
Fashioned of all the steadfast dreams of those
Who treasured knowledge and with valiant spirit chose
The way of harder conquest that it might be ours.
A city of an old ideal—and on the road
That stretches outward from its gates, from light to light,
Three journeying somewhere toward a dim, far-distant height.

One walked
With eyes turned, brooding, downward, as if all the earth
Were shot with quivering rays of wealth and he alone
Might read its ancient pattern and possess. And one
Studied the changing shapes that mark the constant birth
And vanishing of clouds in colored phantasies,
Bowed at celestial altar forms which vaguely tell
Of strange gods wrapped in mists of things ephemeral.

And one
Loitered beside the way and scattered all the store
Of treasured things that he had brought, to make the way
More beautiful for pilgrims of another day,
Using the hard-earned broidered guerdon that he wore
To bind another's wounds and free his soul,
Lifting his face only to clear his gaze
By some far-flaming vision shining through the maze.

I thought
That in the shadows of the journey's end, the hand
Of one was trembling in a feeble glint of gold,
And one was gazing on a canvas scene, grown old
And fading, like the shores of a retreating land.
But one stood empty-handed, with a strange, sweet light
Upon his face. And in my heart a voice
Breathed to a sudden harmony—"Make this thy choice."

DOROTHY CLARKE

Class Ode 1925

Tune: "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton"

Our dear Alma Mater, upon thy fair brow
There shines the pure light of an immortal vow;
Thy hand holds aloft the proud guerdon of truth
That conquers the world through the spirit of youth.
The heart of a thousand beats firm in thy breast,
Who have answered thy challenge and followed thy quest,
And seen in the flame thou hast lifted on high
Thy vision of duty—a light in the sky.

Mid paths of confusion thou standest secure,
To teach men that freedom and faith will endure;
Thy message a steadfast devotion to right,
When out of the darkness men reach after light.
Be guard of the dreams we have laid at thy shrine,
Where the purpose of youth holds a promise divine.
Oh, leave us the vision that strengthened thy name
And kindle our hearts with thy radiant flame.

At last we have gained our equilibrium and stand in the honored ranks of upper classmen. There is no doubt that we are a class with a rep, guaranteed to have the pep, as has been shown in our campus activities.

And as to our ability! We have contributed members to dramatics, to intercollegiate debating and to athletics. Our social activities also are by no means in arrears, and our Sophomore Hop was a most memorable affair. Indeed our names appear in all college functions.

Now, as we approach the end of our third delightful year in college, we resolve to keep up our good record, continue it through our Senior year, and prove '26 to be the best class ever.

Ivy Day Poem, 1926

AFTERWARD

What memories will there come to you and me
When upon some far-off, lonely day
We're dreaming of the years that were to be?
What haunting beauty shall ask to stay?

The singing wind brings back the melodies
Of campus nights, the wail of muted strings—
The joyous lights come dancing through the trees—
Youth calls to Youth, and we forget the things

That make the heart ache. May we keep
The shining glory of the dreams we had
Like clear white lights, to cheer the steep
And shadowed paths our weary feet must tread.

May the lives that touched our lives, the silent hours
When each unspoken thought was understood,
Come like the lingering fragrance of soft flowers
To give us peace, and tell us life is good.

Sophomores

Class of 1927

President, WILLIAM B. LEDGER

Vice-President, KATHERINE V. THOMAS

Secretary, LILLIAN B. SWAN

Treasurer, CHARLES B. RAY

Oh, what a wonderful feeling to be Sophomores—after being Freshmen, yet, already we, of 1927, are looking forward to being upper-classmen in the true sense of the word.

Before we do that, however, let us turn back the leaves and glance over the pages of our achievements. See, here is the record of our athletes, and a long and splendid one it is, too. Here are our debaters and speakers, of whom we are justly proud. This page is devoted to those of the class of 1927, who exemplify the dramatic talent so well. And thus it goes, from the story of how we did our best to point out to the erring Freshmen the way in which they should go to our ardent cross-word puzzle fans.

Above all we have striven to attain through true spirit of Bates and to uphold the honor of our Alma Mater. As we turn to the new leaves whereon will be written the record of our next two years, may we ever hold before us this ideal and do our best—nay, more than our best—to make the class of 1927 one worthy of Bates.

Sophomore Prize Speaking

Class of 1928

President, CHARLES H. COOLIDGE

Vice-President, BEATRICE E. MILLIKEN

Secretary, DANA L. INGLE

Treasurer, WILLIAM E. WOOD

The class of 1928 is one of the largest which has entered Bates. We soon recovered from the strangeness of being Freshmen after having been of so much more importance in High School.

Our class has done its best and been well represented in many activities. The Freshmen have produced an exceptionally good football team, and an even better hockey team, of which we are justly proud. Some of our members have been successful in debating and in dramatics.

From the beginning of the year when we arrived, an utterly new and untried class, we have striven to enter into the spirit of Bates, and to be a worthy representative of our College. Now we are looking forward eagerly to enjoying the privileges of Sophomores, and to becoming upper classmen with all their age-old rights over the incoming class.

Freshman Prize Speaking

The annual Freshman Prize Speaking Contest was held on March seventh, at Hathorn Hall. The prizes were awarded to Miss Marion E. Carll of Waterboro, and John S. Hooper of Auburn. The program:

"Vitai Lampada," Katherine Sibyl Tubbs.
"A Message to Garcia," Walter Francis Ulmer.
"The Church at Kehoe's Bar," Marion Elinor Garcelon.
"The Dreamer," Charles Hunter Guptill.
"The Little God and Dickey," Eleanor Burditt Howe.
"In His Own Defense," Maxwell Arthur Wakely.
"Rip Van Winkle," Marion Esther Carll.
"Behold the American," Wilford Earland Bailey.
"The Old Man and Jim," Muriel Frances Doe.

Like all classes, 1925 considers that it has produced approximately the ultimate in year-books. While the annually repeated claim to supremacy in the publishing field is apparently ridiculous, a glance through the volumes on file at the Alumni office reveals the fact that there really has been consistent and steady improvement from year to year.

The present edition of the Mirror represents an earnest effort on the part of the class of 1925 to record not alone the achievements of its own members, but also to preserve the doings of the year, and make permanent in print what has happened at Bates during 1924 and 1925.

Among the innovations to which the publishers point with pride are an opening section in colors, a faculty section revised and brought up to date, a new style of making up the personal section, and artistic borders and pencil sketches on each page.

The season of 1924-25 was a busy and prosperous one for the Bates Student.

Various innovations were introduced, and the paper was dressed up in many ways. A more professional and business-like appearance was accomplished by means of a new system of heads, and by carrying more stories over from the front page to following pages. The literary department was converted into a humorous column in charge of the literary editor.

The editorial policy has been to make the paper, without undue radicalism, a more complete and constructive means of voicing student opinion on campus and college affairs.

Student Council

Vice-President, CHARLES E. WOODMAN, '25

Secretary-Treasurer, ROY U. SINCLAIR, '26

The Bates College Student Assembly became an active orgnization on the campus in 1910. This organization consists of every male member of the student body who is in good standing. The purpose of this organization is to secure such co-operation as will aid in carrying out the general policy of the College, promote in all ways the best interests of the College, and improve the general conditions of student life. The officers of the assembly are the members of the Student Council, composed of ten men; four from the Senior Class, three from the Junior Class, two from the Sophomore Class, and one from the Freshman Class. These men hold office by virtue of popular election by members of the assembly.

The Council has full power to act in all matters pertaining to the interests of the male student body. It is also the duty of the Council to foster friendly relations among the students in general. It has the responsibility of adjusting the Freshmen to their new environment and to control their relations with the three upper classes, in particular those with the Sophomore Class.

Since the spring of 1921, the women of Bates College have governed themselves under the Student Government Association. The Judiciary Board is composed of fourteen women: the officers of the association, the house seniors, and representatives from each class, all elected by popular vote. This board has full power to act on all matters concerning the women of the college. Its aim, however, is to take an interest and active part in all campus activities in order that it may not be merely a disciplinary body. Because the support of the student body has been given so wholeheartedly, and because a respect for the honor system is in every Bates woman, the principles and ideals of Student Government can be maintained.

The Bates Association is a member of the National Intercollegiate organization as well as the New England association for coeducational colleges. Delegates are sent to conferences annually held by these organizations.

This year several innovations have been put into successful operation to which the management may point with pride. The ruling requiring all Freshmen men to eat at the Commons, was extended to the men of the Sophomore year, thus insuring the management a regular and continuous patronage. The plan of assigning regular tables which proved so satisfactory last year was continued. In the fall for the first time a regular student orchestra was engaged to furnish music during the meals. This has been a very popular innovation.

At all times the management has tried to make the Commons something more than "a filling station." Thanks to the efficient work of Mrs. Pratt and "Mother" Stevens, the committee feels that they can look back on the year with satisfaction.

The College Choir has been under the supervision of Mr. Edwin Goss again this year and has been an integral part of the chapel exercises.

Perhaps the best thing of the year was the presentation of the Lenten Cantata, "The Crucifixion," by Stainer. In this the choir was assisted by two soloists, Mr. Munroe and Mr. Clough. The chorus consisted of forty voices from the choir.

A Community Sing was held in the College Chapel during Music Week. The first part of the program was a recital by the College Choir, assisted by the church choirs of the two cities.

The College Choir has been fortunate in having as its leader a musician of the ability of Mr. Goss and a great deal of credit is due him for his part in its success.

There are two aspects to the work of a Christian Association on the campus: the social, and the religious. Without the first, the association would fail to apply Christian principles to the needs of students; without the second, it would be false to the purpose for which it was founded, namely, to extend the teachings of Jesus on the campus, and to maintain the spirit of Christ within the student body. A summary of this year's work shows that those who have been actively engaged in it have done so faithfully and efficiently.

One of the purposes of the Association is to help Freshmen to acquaint themselves with college life, and to give them assurance of friendship in their new surroundings. To this end, hand-books, or "Freshmen Bibles," were distributed early in the fall; Freshmen were met at trains; a tent was set up on the campus as an information bureau. Later in the week, a stag reception was given at Chase Hall to give the new men a chance to meet upper-classmen. In co-operation with the Y. W. C. A. a reception was given the entire Freshman Class. At "Uncle Johnny's" ride, there was a good attendance, showing that this custom is still a popular one. In these various ways the new class is aided in developing not only a class spirit, but also the spirit of democracy and friendship so characteristic of Bates.

Many men who have come to college in need of work have found employment through the Association. Only those who have been active in this branch of the work can fully appreciate the time and effort required to meet the needs of the men.

The entertainment committee has functioned very successfully all year. At least every other Saturday night, moving pictures were shown, and dances were held at Chase Hall.

Not at all insignificant is the work of the second-hand book agency. Books are sold for the students, and the money is returned in full to the owner of the books, so that there is no profit to the Association. This is just another form of social service.

Although some may consider the kind of work just described as very useful, others would say that the religious program that is carried out each year is the most vital. Voluntary discussion meetings were ably led by Dr. Frank D. Tubbs, Professor of Geology and Astronomy. His lectures have helped many to find a firmer basis for their religious beliefs, and have helped others to see that the acceptance of the results of scientific investigation need not mean the denial of Christianity.

Weekly meetings were held each Wednesday night. Speakers of prominence in business, teaching, law, the ministry, and Y. M. C. A. were heard. A departure from the usual type of meeting was begun by the introduction of forums on the problems of motives in life; race; and war.

Early in the year, the chairman of the church relations committee performed quite a valuable task when he wrote to all the pastors of Freshmen inviting them to communicate with the Lewiston pastors so that they would make the acquaintance of the new men in the fall. The work of the deputations committee has been notable. Many churches have been served. This kind of work gives men a chance to help the local church, to help maintain the good name of Bates, to receive valuable experience and training.

It has been customary in past years for the Y. W. and Y. M. to support a Bates in China movement. Because of the death of Wayne Jordan, who was doing Y. M. C. A. work in China, the Association was unable to continue this work this year. In its place the students were asked to pledge for the support of the Student Friendship fund. This work together with all that has been mentioned could not have succeeded without the co-operation of the publicity department.

Perhaps the greatest work that has been done was the management of the Sherwood Eddy meetings. Not for some time has the campus been so awakened to the claims of Christianity on the personal and social life of man. Dr. Eddy had a message that challenged all who heard him. The result of such work as this cannot be computed in figures. Its results in many cases will not be revealed for years, but the seed that is sown grows unseen in the heart, and some day will develop into a life-giving plant. After all is said, there can be no higher motive for any Christian Association than that of inspiring men to give their lives for others.

Y. W. C. A.

Vice-President, BEATRICE WRIGHT, '26
Treasurer, RUTH NUTTER, '25
Secretary, BELLE HOBBS, '27
Undergraduate Representative, MARION HALL, '26

Amidst the rush of club activities, social times, and studying, one night a week is saved for Y. W. For about an hour after dinner on Wednesday nights, the girls meet together to hear of the work of some Y. W. committee or of some broader Christian concern. The main purpose of the meetings, however, is to establish a type of relationship among the girls which is natural after worshiping together.

Our association is in no danger of having these weekly meetings their only important function. The cabinet, composed of the five officers named above and nine others—chairmen of committees, is continually finding new opportunities for bettering conditions on the campus, and for helping in the community.

In order to understand quite fully the tasks ahead of them and in order to understand each other better, the new cabinet members met with the old cabinet at a house party at Ocean Park in the spring of 1924.

It is well for Bates girls to meet in this way, but it is better still to meet with girls from other colleges as well. The Bates delegation at Maqua this year was among the largest again. Girls who had been there before said that they enjoyed this year even more, the "spirit" was so fine.

During the summer, Y. W. was not inactive. Each member had become an upperclass "sister" to a Freshie or two. Being a sister involves writing letters and answering the numerous questions Freshmen always have.

HELPS FOR FRESHMEN

The Freshmen are the most important factor on the campus for a week or so. The first few days some who know the surroundings are kept busy meeting trains and helping Bates seem homelike. Then, there is the reception on Mount David. Somehow, if the reception were given anywhere else, it does not seem as though it would be a real welcome. The first Saturday night of the year, the Y. M. and Y. W. give a more formal reception to both the men and the women of the Freshman Class at Chase Hall. This social, and the Stanton class ride to Lake Auburn, are the two most important events in the life of a Freshman—before co-education rules are off, anyway.

RELIEF WORK

Among the first things that Y. W. was called upon to do after this was to give money for relief funds, always an important function of a Christian organization. The Y. M., Y. W. and Phil-Hellenic Club together raised $60 to "adopt" a Greek boy, Cleon Chirakis, for a year. Then, Golden Rule dinner was observed at Rand, and the $30 saved in this way was sent to the Near East Relief. The biggest drive of the year came in January, the drive for the Student Friendship Fund.

SOCIAL SERVICE

Meanwhile, actual work in social service in Lewiston and Auburn was occupying the attention of quite a group of girls. The Lewiston Y. W. C. A. states that they do not know what they would do, if it were not for the Bates Y. W. girls. The girls feel it is an opportunity to know girls and women from other countries whom they can teach sewing and English and meet in a social way. There has also been a real spirit of friendship between the Bates Y. W. and the different clubs of the Auburn Y. Young people have tried to brighten up the Sunday afternoons at the Old Ladies' Home. Perhaps, too, the little things done during the year for some shutins have shown our spirit of wishing to be helpful.

A new phase of work in surrounding communities has been started this year and will probably be an important factor in a short time. Sending out deputation teams has been a valuable piece of service carried on by the Y. M. C. A. The Student Volunteers and Cosmos Club have also sent out such teams. This year the Y. W. has organized quite a group of girls who will be ready to conduct socials and church services in places near Lewiston.

The observance of quiet hour on Sunday in the dormitories has been very successful this year. For five or six Sundays before Christmas, Bible study groups were held. Mrs. Chase led the Freshmen, Mrs. Gray the Sophomores, and Dr. Tubbs the Juniors and Seniors. These groups are always helpful as a matter of development in Christian understanding and as a means of meeting Christian leaders.

After Christmas, through Student Government and the Y. W. C. A., campus problem discussion groups were held. These were small groups held in the rooms of the group leaders. The success of these discussions was an expression of the interest of all the girls in the vital things in college life. This, too, is a definite expression of the feeling of co-operation between Student Government and Y. W.

SNOW CARNIVAL

We must not leave unmentioned the Snow Carnival. No, we are not enroaching upon the Outing Club's territory. This is the form the Christmas Bazaar took this year. Chase Hall became a veritable North Pole and the home-made waffles and syrup were indeed appropriate amidst the snow-balls and Christmas candles. The sketch and the dance and song in the evening filled Chase Hall.

The work of the Bates Y. W. C. A. is interesting because of its wide scope. Behind and through it all is the attempt to express Christianity in practical terms. To those who are to continue the work of next year, we hope you, too, enjoy it and are truly successful.

Student Volunteer Group

Program Chairman, HELEN E. HILL, '25

The Student Volunteer Group is composed of those students who are looking forward to Christian work in foreign fields. Meetings are held every two weeks throughout the year with the purpose of bringing together for fellowship and education those students who have signed the Student Volunteer card. The Group this year, together with the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. entertained the State Student Volunteer Conference at which there were delegates from the several Maine colleges and the normal schools of the state.

Politics Club

Officers

President, AUGUSTUS T. CANTY, '25
Vice-President, WILLARD STEVENS, '25
Secretary-Treasurer, RAYMOND CARTER, '25

The Politics Club can well regard the year 1924-25 as one of the most active and profitable yet experienced by the Club. Applications for membership were put on a regular basis of recommendation by the Faculty members of the departments of History or Economics. The total membership of the club was restricted to twenty men from the upper classes.

Meetings were held regularly every other week and economic and political questions of local, national and international scope were discussed. Among some of the subjects presented before the club were "The Dawes Plan," "The German Elections," "The Japanese Question," and the various bills for changing the city government of Lewiston. Following the presentation of subjects by the club members, general discussions of an informal nature were held in which the Faculty and student club members mingled freely.

The Club was fortunate in securing President Sills of Bowdoin College to address one of its open meetings on "The League of Nations in Action." President Sills was able to present personal observations gathered during his recent trip to Europe.

Jordan Scientific Society

Officers

President, FRANK E. DORR, '25

Chairman Executive Committee, KENNETH JONES, '25

Secretary-Treasurer, STANLEY WILSON, '25

This society was organized in 1910, in honor of the late Dr. Lyman Granville Jordan, due largely to the inspiration imparted by him during his long career of service at Bates. The purpose of the society is to stimulate thought, study and research in scientific fields, aside from that required by the curriculum, and to promote organized meetings where scientific matters might be presented and discussed.

Meetings are held every two weeks at which original papers are presented by the members. Special meetings are held periodically at which members of the Faculty or outside speakers deliver lectures on matters of scientific note.

This year the Jordan Scientific Exhibition was not held as usual, it being the opinion of the members that a biennial exhibition would be more expedient, giving a greater opportunity for the acquisition of new equipment and exhibits.

A special feature of this year's activity was the presentation to the student body and their friends of "The Life and Work of Louis Pasteur," a six reel moving picture skillfully portraying the invaluable career of this world-famous character.

Spofford Club

Officers

President, C. K. CONNER, '25
Secretary, DOROTHY W. CLARKE, '25

Spofford, one of the most active organizations on campus, meets every week. Its membership is limited to fifteen, admitted on one ground only—excellence and originality in composition. Thus all members have an unusual interest in literary matters. The program every week consists of original work; either story, poem or sketch, readings of especially noteworthy bits of current literature, and the discussion of new books.

One night a year, "Spofford Night," is reserved for the club. On this evening it presents something of literary value to the entire student body, such as the lecture given by Mr. John Clair Minot, literary critic of the Boston Herald, who reviewed the season's novels.

The club has many social activities during the year, such as dinners at Paradise Farm and the "Traditional Spofford Ride."

Phil-Hellenic Club

Officers

President, DONALD A. HALL, '25

Vice-President, A. EVANGELINE TUBBS, '27

Secretary-Treasurer, EUTERPE BOUKIS, '25

Program Chairman, MARION E. HALL, '28

The Phil-Hellenic Club was organized in 1916 by those students who were most interested in the Greek language, life, customs, and literature, assisted by Professor George Chase, who has continuously given his untiring efforts in furthering the activities of the society.

It is now one of the most active clubs on campus, holding bi-monthly meetings with very full and varied programs, in which all members are actively interested. Often outside speakers and members of the faculty have attended and addressed the club with lectures on the music, literature and customs of modern Greece.

An annual event is the Greek Symposium which is held every spring, and depicts the Hellenic as closely as facilities will permit.

The influence of the Phil-Hellenic Society is clearly shown by the constantly increasing interest of the students, resulting in the closest co-operation and friendship between the society and many resident Greeks.

The Macfarlane Club

Officers

President, CARL H. MILLER, '25

Vice-President, MILDRED STANLEY, '25

Secretary-Treasurer, DREW GILMAN, '25

The Macfarlane Club was founded in the spring of 1917. The Club takes its name from Will C. Macfarlane, for many years Municipal Organist of Portland, Maine. The purpose for which this Club was established was to create an appreciation of the best music and to acquaint its members with the composition and lives of many composers.

The Club's membership is limited to twenty-five members; beside these, there are numerous honorary members.

This year the Club has been very fortunate in having many of its town friends participate in its meetings.

At the regular meetings, papers are read on various men and women of note in music, and these papers are followed by extracts from the composition of these music masters.

BATES MIRROR

Deutscher Verein

Officers

President, ALBERT DIMLICH, '25

Secretary-Treasurer, ALICE EAMES, '25

The membership of the German Club is limited to thiry-five—preference being given to those students doing advanced German, and secondly, to the Seniors and Juniors who have had at least one year of college German or its high school equivalent.

The meetings are held twice a month, and consist of much varied programs—papers on the social and political conditions of Germany, reports on the famous German operas which usually are accompanied by musical numbers, and lectures by authorities. At a recent meeting, Mr. Berkelman, who visited in Germany last summer, gave a very entertaining account of his experiences there.

The program of the meeting is usually followed by a social half-hour. At this time the club plays German games or sings German folk songs. The Christmas Party with its tree and clever gifts is always one of the most attractive occasions. The German plays, two of which were given this spring, are coming to be an important part of the activities of the club.

The members of the club feel that they owe very much to Dr. Leonard, who has done so much to make the club interesting and successful.

Le Cercle Francais

Officers

President, URSULA TETREAU, '25
Vice-President, DIANE CAILLER, '25
Treasurer, ALBERT F. KING, '27
Secretary, HAZEL M. INGALLS, '25

Since 1922, when the separate French clubs for men and women were united in the Cercle Francais, this has been one of the most active and interesting of organizations of its kind at Bates.

The club aims to stimulate and encourage the understanding of the French language, and to give sympathetic appreciation of the people to whom this is a mother tongue. Members are required to have attained an average rank of B in their college French.

The studies undertaken by the club this year have included Rostand and Bernhardt, French folk-songs, universities dialogue and theatre, and lectures by Professor Brown and Miss Townsend.

Ably coached by Miss Townsend, Professor Brown and Mr. Joseph A. James, the club members presented the annual French plays to an interested group of faculty, students and towns-people.

Much of the success of these plays and of all the club activities may be attributed to the unfailing help of Professor Brown and Miss Townsend, and the constant sympathy and interest of Lewiston people.

Ramsdell Scientific Society

Officers

President, PRISCILLA FREW, '25
Vice-President, KATHERINE WORTHLEY, '26
Secretary-Treasurer, EVELYN LINDSAY, '25

Ramsdell Scientific Society, which was named in honor of Professor G. E. Ramsdell, is composed of young women who are particularly interested in the development of science. The club is an honorary society, and for this reason, membership is restricted to fifteen from the Junior and Senior classes, based on the recommendation of professors of science.

The meetings, at which the members read original papers on scientific subjects, are held at Carnegie Science Hall bi-monthly.

Many interesting subjects have been discussed this year. Among them were: Glaciers, The Montespan Cave, Vaccination and Small-pox, and Seasonal Diseases.

Occasionally, the program is varied by the addition of outside speakers. One very interesting lecture of this season was Dietetics by Mrs. A. Craig Baird. An open meeting was also held in co-operation with Jordan Scientific Society.

At various times during the year trips are taken to points of scientific interest. This year Central Maine Hospital and the Lewiston Journal Company are among the places visited.

Woman's Politics Club

Officers

President, KATHERINE C. BURKE, '25

Secretary-Treasurer, CORNELIA E. FLETCHER, '25

In February of this year a long-felt need and desire of Bates women was fulfilled by the organization of the Woman's Politics Club. Although at present the membership includes but the eleven charter members, in the future it will embrace fifteen members from the Senior and Junior classes, whose admission will be based on recommendation from the heads of the departments of Political and Social Science.

The aim of the club is to promote an active and intelligent interest in political and economic problems through the study of present day affairs. From the character of the meetings held thus far, a permanent interest seems assured. Vital problems of the day are the subjects considered, led by some member of the club—followed by a spirited discussion. Sometimes, also, open meetings with outside speakers are held in co-ordination with the men's organization.

From the enthusiasm and interest thus far, a successful future may safely be prophesied, and much credit we attribute to the interest and enthusiasm of our adviser, Professor Gould.

Seniority

Officers

President, RUTH NUTTER, '25

Vice-President, GLADYS HASTY, '25

Secretary, ELEANOR McCUE, 25

Seniority is an honorary literary society whose aim it is to stimulate interest and appreciation in literature, and to encourage original work on the part of its members. The club is essentially for Seniors, although each year a group of five Juniors is selected which may perpetuate the spirit of Seniority. Membership is based entirely upon excellence in English.

The bi-monthly meetings are held in Rand Reception Room, where a variety of literary subjects are studied. This year, the club is endeavoring to accentuate particularly the literature of various countries—studying their customs, folk-lore and writers. Outside speakers are often present, two favorite guests being Dr. Finnie and Professor Hartshorn.

The club also introduces a bit of social life by its faculty teas and open meetings.

Alethea

Officers

President, INEZ G. FARRIS, '26

Vice-President, BERTHA L. JACK, '25

Secretary-Treasurer, A. EVANGELINE TUBBS, '27

Alethea is distinctly a literary organization, whose membership is restricted to students of the Sophomore and Junior classes.

Its aim to promote sympathetic appreciation of the liberal arts, and a more cordial understanding of current problems—is achieved by the successful meetings which are held bi-monthly.

At these meetings, each member takes an active part in the program which includes varying phases of art, music, and literature.

The social life of the club is also an important one. To the winter snowshoe parties, steak roasts at the river bank, and the annual dinner at Paradise Farm, cling a host of happy memories and glorious comradeship. These social affairs, together with the more serious element, make a society which is felt to be both profitable and instructive.

Entre Nous

Officers

President, PAMELA LEIGHTON, '28

Secretary-Treasurer, MARGARET MORRIS, '28

The Entre Nous society, which is open to every Freshman girl, was first organized in 1917. Its purpose has always been to afford the girls of the entering class an opportunity for self-expression and development of their talents in the direction of music, literature, dramatics and leadership.

Through the good attendance, willing co-operation and enthusiasm of the girls, largely due to the informality enjoyed, the bi-monthly meetings have been very successful. The program committee varies for each meeting, thereby affording an opportunity for each member's originality to be expressed. Some meetings have been entirely devoted to music and others to literary endeavors which include discussions of current topics, books, plays and poems, and also to some original sketches of college life and unique charades. It is through these meetings, also, that the success of the Freshman class songs is due.

At the end of every college year Entre Nous holds an open meeting to which interested members of the upper classes and faculty are invited. The final meeting is held in the autumn of each year, when the responsibility for guidance is bequeathed to the entering class.

The Cosmos Club

Officers

President, HERBERT H. KNIGHT, '25

Vice-President, HAZEL R. LOOKE, '25

Secretary, ESTHER M. SANBORN, '27

Treasurer, J. ELMER FRAZEE, '26

The Cosmos Club is an organization composed entirely of students who plan to devote their lives to definite forms of Christian service. Such service includes that of ministry, mission field, Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. work, social or such teaching as is of a distinctly religious character.

The Club seeks to provide a channel through which students may learn of various types of Christian life work and to bring together in Christian fellowship those who are already committed to that end.

The members have participated in the programs of the club much more than usual this year. The special speakers, although few in number, have contributed a vital part toward the realization of its purposes.

The kindly helpfulness of Prof. H. R. Purinton in promoting the interests of the club, is remembered with grateful appreciation.

Girls' Glee Club

Officers

Leader, RUTH WASS, '25 Manager, GRACE BRACKETT, '25

The Girls' Musical Clubs are composed of both the Glee Club and the Orchestra which co-operate with each other in the production of their excellent programs.

Students from all the classes are eligible and the final membership is selected on a competitive basis.

The club not only co-operates with other organizations to aid in their endeavors, but also gives several concerts on the campus and in the surrounding towns. An extensive schedule was planned for this year in which Mildred Stanley—reader, and Virginia Ames—violinist, were decided attractions.

An operetta was given in the spring, crowning the year's activity with pronounced success.

Orphic Society

Officers

President, MILDRED S. STANLEY, '25
Vice-President, RONALD L. WATERMAN, '26
Secretary, EVANGELINE TUBBS, '27
Librarian-Treasurer, ARTHUR SAGER, '26
Conductor, ALLAN B. SMITH, '27

The Orphic Society, at the end of one year's work, has proved itself to be a worthy permanent Bates organization.

At present there are thirty-five members in the orchestra. The club does not limit its membership numerically, but welcomes any and all students who play a musical instrument with a fair degree of success, and who are willing to devote one afternoon weekly to earnest, serious work. The purpose of this society is to acquaint its members with a high type of orchestra music, to increase their musical appreciation, and to present to the public on various occasions throughout the college year programs of merit and distinction.

This year, unfortunately, the orchestra was unable to play at the Million Dollar Play, but appeared at the French Club Plays at the Little Theatre in the fall, and furnished programs at other college and community gatherings. At present definite plans are under way for a formal concert to be given in the chapel later in the spring, which, it is hoped, will be a real achievement in the year's work.

BATES MIRROR

The Million Dollar Play

The third play for the benefit of the Gymnasium Fund was presented by Bates undergraduates at the Empire Theatre on January 15, 1925, matinee and evening. "The Torchbearers," by George Kelly, a brilliant satire on the Little Theatre movement as indulged in by wealthy amateurs, was the vehicle, and the excellent work of the actors, the splendid directing of the coach, combined with the native cleverness of the play itself, caused the production to be enthusiastically received by audience and press alike.

For the third time, Miss Louise Clifford acted as directress, and it was because of her tireless efforts and her great ability that this play—like its predecessors—was remarkable for its polish and charm.

Financially as well as artistically, the production was highly successful. The annual play has grown to be an institution, a thing looked forward to by students and towns-people alike, and it is probable that the custom of presenting a play will be continued even after the Gymnasium is a reality instead of a project.

The English 4A Players

Officers

President, C. K. CONNER, '25

Director, GLADYS M. HASTY, '25

Manager, GEORGE C. SHELDON, '25

The first production of the 1924-25 regime of the English 4A Players in its work of keeping alight the torch which it received from the hands of its distinguished predecessors was a play-reading given May 21, 1924. Three plays written by Bates students were presented, the casts being selected from students desirous of being elected to membership in the club. "The Silver Ball" and "The Answer from the Hills" were well received, and considerable dramatic talent was disclosed by the performance.

The fall and early winter season was occupied by the Gymnasium Fund play in which production much 4A talent took part.

In late April, a program of three one-act plays, "Thursday Evening," by Christopher Morley, "Trifles," by Susan Glaspell, and a comedy by George Kelly, were presented with great success.

The French Club Plays

The members of the French Club this year continued the excellent custom of presenting a program of plays in the French language. The plays presented were Le Cuvier, L'Andalouse and L'Homme Qui Epousa Une Femme Muette. Much credit is due the club members for staging so entertaining a program as well as to the coaches, Professor Brown, Miss Townsend and Joseph James.

Not only were the plays well attended by the student body, but also by a number of French people from Lewiston and Auburn and another link was thereby forged in the chain binding Bates to the two cities.

The French Club has gone far toward making the French plays a regular event on the dramatic calendar of the college. Such activity is commendable not only from the standpoint of the department concerned but also from the viewpoint of college dramatics. Much of the leading dramatic talent of the college has been uncovered by these annual programs.

Der Deutscher Verein Plays

This year following the precedent set by the French Club, the German Club for the first time presented a program of two one-act plays, The Far-Away Princess, and Eigensinn. The success of the venture should certainly encourage the Club to continue this excellent practice. The acting was of a calibre creditable to the regular dramatic interests of the college and the interest of the audience was at all times held.

All credit is due to the actors and to the coaches, Miss Leah Shapiro, John Miller, and John Davis, '26, for staging so successful a program from the personnel of the Club without outside aid. It is hoped that the German Club plays may take their place beside those of the French Club as annual occurrences contributing to a more active and better rounded dramatic program for the college.

Professor Baird

It was learned with deepest regret that Bates was to lose the services of Professor Baird, the debate coach, at the end of this year. To him more than to any one else is due the credit for Bates' success in the forensic world. Under him international debating was inaugurated at Bates, and indeed, it was through his work that teams representing other colleges were encouraged to follow Bates' initial step. He is one of the outstanding authorities on argumentation and debating in the country. Under him the Bates Interscholastic League was founded. Professor Baird was a firm friend of women's debating and coached the first women's team representing the college. The loss to Bates cannot be calculated in mere words.

The Bates-Cambridge Debate

On September 26th the Lewiston City Hall was the scene of the fourth international debating contest between Bates College and an English University, this time Cambridge University in place of Oxford.

It was the third consecutive international debate held in Lewiston. The subject for debate was, "Resolved: that all countries should recognize the present government of Russia." English customs of debate were more closely followed throughout than ever before. In the first place it was a mixed debate. A. P. Marshall and J. G. Sparrow of Cambridge with John P. Davis, '26, represented the affirmative, while R. A. Butler of Cambridge, with Erwin D. Canham, '25, and Fred T. Googins, '27, upheld the negative. Decision was made by a vote of the audience on the merits of the question, conforming to the English practice. The vote of the audience resulted in a decision for the negative by 800 to 150. The gentlemen from Cambridge were met at Halifax, N. S., by Dr. Finnie on their arrival from England, and motored through Canada and Maine to meet Bates in their first contest in this country. It is indeed gratifying that four times Bates should be honored by being chosen as the first opponent of debating teams from England. It is indisputable recognition of Bates' standing in the forensic world.

Bates vs. Cambridge

The Bates-Yale Debate

On the evening of March 16th, Bates continued the annual custom of meeting Yale in debate. The Bates team representing the affirmative was composed of Charles H. Guptill, '28, Fred T. Googins, '27, and Harold H. Walker, '26. The question was "Resolved: that this house views with alarm the present tendency of the Eastern College to stress a standard of business and professional education." The judges' vote gave the decision to Yale.

Bates vs. Yale

The Southern Trip

Early in April, Bates sent a team to invade the south composed of her strongest debaters, Erwin D. Canham '25, John P. Davis '26 and Harold H. Walker '26.

The Bates-Colgate Debate

Bates met Colgate at Springfield, Massachusetts, March 30th, on neutral ground in the deciding contest of the series of debates between the two institutions. The question as in the Pennsylvania debate, "Resolved: that the President's Cabinet should have seats and a voice in the deliberations of Congress." The vote of the judges resulted in a two to one decision for Colgate.

The Bates-Pennsylvania Debate

Meeting the University of Pennsylvania a day later, the Bates team scored a two to one victory over their old rivals. Incidentally this victory takes away some of the sting of the defeat received at the hands of Pennsylvania in the previous contest held at Lewiston.

Bates vs. Colgate and Pennsylvania

Bates vs. Mass. Aggies and Cornell

The Bates-Mass. Aggies Debate

Following the precedent so ably set by the first women's debating team against Boston University last year, a second women's debating team defeated the men's team representing Massachusetts Agricultural College by a unanimous decision at the college chapel on February 21st. The Bates team was composed of Evelyn I. Butler '26, Marion J. Crosby '27, and Elsie L. Green '26. The question for debate was, "Resolved, that Congress shall have the power to enact laws over the veto of the Supreme Court by a two-thirds vote." This debate is notable in that it was the first time Bates women had met a debating team of the opposite sex.

The Bates-Cornell Debate

Backed by a win over Massachusetts Aggies, the same women's team invaded New York to debate the women of Cornell University on their own platform. The question as in the debate with Massachusetts Aggies concerned Judicial Supremacy. The decision reached by a vote of the audience resulted in a win for the Bates team. The debate is noteworthy because it maintained unbroken the string of victories which the Bates women have gained, because it was won by the vote of a foreign audience, and finally because it was the Bates women's first debate away from home. The women have indeed set a very creditable record in their two years of debating.

Bates vs. Oregon

On April 13th, a team from the Oregon State College met a team representing Bates in the college chapel in the first intersectional debate in the history of the college. The question for discussion was, "Resolved: that Congress should have power by a two-thirds vote, to veto decisions of the Supreme Court." Bates was represented by Frederick H. Young '27 and Tracy M. Pullman '25. The debate was conducted along English lines with but one rebuttal for each side and a vote by the audience. Those present decided 230 to 99 in favor of Bates.

The International Trip

This year the hopes of several years have been realized and Bates is again sending a team to England to meet universities of that country and Scotland in debate. A team of four men, Erwin D. Canham '25, John P. Davis '26, Harold H. Walker '26 and Fred T. Googins '27, will sail on the Samaria May 10th for England. After the plans for the trip had practically been completed Bates was further honored by being chosen by the American University Union to represent America in the coming contests. Thus instead of being simply representatives of Bates the team is representing this country in England and Scotland. The subjects for debate will be recognition of Soviet Russia and the prohibition of the opium trade, both subjects of vital interest to England. Among other universities, Bates will debate: Oxford, Cambridge, Liverpool, Birmingham, Manchester, St. Andrews, and Edinburgh. Other debates are pending and the schedule may be even more extended. This is the most ambitious schedule ever attempted by an American college in England. The trip is further notable in that it makes Bates the only institution to cross the water twice to debate abroad.

International Debaters

The Sophomore Women's Prize Debate

The annual prize debate for the women of the Sophomore Class was held at Hathorn Hall, April 21st. The question for discussion was, "Resolved: that a convention system of nominating candidates should be substituted for the Direct Primary in Maine." The Negative team composed of Mary Geary and Florence Burke, won a two to one decision over the Affirmative team consisting of Grace Hussey and Ellouise Townshend. The honors for best speaker were divided between Miss Townshend and Miss Geary.

The Sophomore Men's Prize Debate

The annual Men's Sophomore debate was held on the same evening as the Women's contest. The question for debate was, "Resolved: that members of the President's Cabinet should have a seat and a voice in the deliberations of Congress." The negative, represented by Leon Townsend and Elmer Campbell, won a unanimous decision over the affirmative, represented by Fletcher Shea and John Scammon. Elmer Campbell was voted to be the best speaker of the debate.

The Interscholastic League

This year the Bates Interscholastic League continued to grow and was truly a state-wide institution with over forty schools representing all sections of the State participating in the preliminary contests. The question this year was, "Resolved: that the United States should recognize the Soviet Government of Russia." Deering High School again won the championship cup awarded by the local chapter of Delta Sigma Rho.

On Monday evening, May 18, 1925, the annual Freshman debate was held at Hathorn Hall. The question was, "Resolved, That Capital Punishment should be abolished." The trials were open to the entire class and the array of talent which turned out speaks very well for the first year class. From the thirty contestants the judges with great difficulty selected a mixed team representing both the men and women. The affirmative was represented by Miss Beatrice Libby of Lewiston, William Marshall of Auburn, and Ralph Blagden also of Auburn. The negative was upheld by Miss Clara Parnell of Lewiston, George McGoldrick of Whitefield, N. H., and John Davis of Portland. The judges for the debate were Professor J. Murray Carroll, Professor G. M. Chase and Mrs. Roberts. Dean Pomeroy presided. The debate was in charge of Clarence H. Clark, '25.

Freshman Debating Council

This year with the recognition of special Freshman interests in athletic lines came a like acknowledgment in the line of debating. A Freshman Debating Council was organized, modeled on the parent organization. Ralph Blagden was elected President, Charles Guptill, Vice-President, and Auburn J. Carr Secretary and Treasurer. Meetings were held bi-monthly and varied programs consisting of debates or open forum discussions were staged. This recognition of Freshman interest in forensic lines was rewarded by the largest number of contestants for the Varsity and Freshman debates in recent years. It is hoped that this very laudable step will be continued in the future under the auspices of the Varsity Debating Council.

The Year's Greatest Achievement

The greatest achievement of the Outing Club for the year 1924-1925 has been, in the opinion of many, the establishment of two permanent cabins. It has long been the ambition of the club to have a more fully developed cabin and trail development, and the present year has seen a long step taken in this matter.

The Sabattus Cabin

During all the spring and summer of 1924 negotiations were under way for the purchase or lease of a lot of land on Mt. Sabattus. Finally a lease was secured upon a most desirable spot near the summit of the mountain. Immediately logs were felled and the erection of a log cabin started. Before the Christmas holidays the work had been completed. Nearly everything had been done by students, and the amount of labor necessary in the erection of such a cabin is not inconsiderable. The cabin is made of peeled hemlock logs, and the construction throughout is of the best possible sort. There have been no makeshifts, and all of the building has been with the ideal of permanency in view. There is a small cooking stove and a neat stone fireplace. Low lounges flank the fireplace, and there is a roomy sleeping loft over the porch. From the porch itself there is a fine view, and the White Mountains are easily seen.

There have been a great many visitors to the Sabattus Cabin during the course of the winter. Perhaps the greatest event in connection with the cabin was the dedication ceremonies. As is well known, the cabin is dedicated to the memory of Henry Alexander Rich, late president of the Outing Club, who was the first to conceive the idea of erecting a cabin on the Sabattus site. It was the memory of his keen interest that kept the work moving during the present season, and in a very real sense he was responsible for the cabin. As a part of the carnival exercises, the official dedication of the cabin took place. Nearly a hundred men and women made the trip to Sabattus, and despite an unpleasant drizzle, enjoyed the visit to the cabin and the simple but impressive ceremonies. The party crowded into the cabin, and there, in the fast growing twilight, lighted only by the flicker of the fireplace, two of Henry's firmest friends told of their love for him, and their admiration for his character. A beautiful tablet in memory of Henry was hung over the fireplace, and on either side were placed a Bates shield won by him and a splendid portrait showing him as he was known at Bates.

The Albany Cabin

During the Christmas holidays a troupe of hard-bitten winter sport enthusiasts journeyed to Albany, Maine, where, despite the rigors of the winter's lowest temperature, they fitted out the second Bates cabin. It was an old lumber camp, but it makes a perfectly adequate outfit, and is only the first of a chain which may lead

Coach Ray Thompson

most admirably up to the White Mountains. The Albany Cabin is at the doorway to a wonderful wild country, and stands in the foothills of the White Mountains. Almost undiscovered ponds and lakes stand within easy hiking distance, and little, hidden valleys hold many secrets to be solved by the venturesome hiker. Intriguing peaks and ridges are all about, for the cabin is the center of a most attractive country. As time goes on, it will doubtless gain in favor, and come to be a big part of Outing Club equipment.

Both of the cabins have seen some merry times on different occasions. The co-eds as well as the men have joined heartily in making possible some fine outings to these cabins.

Mt. Katahdin Trip

Another very important feature of the program for this year was the trip to Mt. Katahdin. Although the trip had not been made when the MIRROR went to press, yet the plans were well made and everything indicated that a group of twenty or so men would make a four-day trip to this rugged height before and on Memorial Day. Two days are required to go by automobile to Sourdnahunk Stream, the end of the road.

Then a sixteen mile hike brings one up the Sourdnahunk Valley, across the plateau, up the mountain itself, and then down the eastern slope to the Great Basin lying below.

Mt. Katahdin's charm lies primarily not in the abruptness of its slopes but in the extreme ruggedness of the surrounding country. Scarcely any signs of habitation can be seen—only on the distant horizon appear the faint outlines of villages.

At Lake Placid

Such a trip is one of the best experiences of its kind which could come to a college man, and it is planned to have one every year either to Katahdin or Mt. Washington in furtherance of a program already put under way in past years.

Winter Sports

The winter sports season was once more very successful under the patronage of the Club. The season started with a bang when Bates sent five competitors, Matsunaga, Fletcher, Wills, Chadbourne and Archibald, to Lake Placid, N. Y., to represent her in the college events. It was enough of an honor to be invited to send men at the expense of the Lake Placid Club; it was better still when Bates tied for third, defeating McGill University, the University of Wisconsin and University of Ottawa. The Bates men were placed:

Ski cross country, Fletcher second, Matsunaga fourth.

Skating race, Archibald third.

Snowshoe dash, Wills fourth.

Lake Placid Team

Then came the Mechanic Falls carnival on Jan. 31. In this three men, Frost, Bagley, and Scammon, doing a combination cross country and jump, carried off for Bates a $125 loving cup. Chadbourne, Fuller, Wills, Matsunaga, and Huntington represented the college individually.

Colebrook, N. H., was the next objective. Here Hopkins and Huntington, two of our ski-fliers, performed in fine shape on the big jump, turning in leaps of eighty-two and eighty-seven feet respectively.

No meet was too big for the ski-snowshoe crowd. At the International World's Championship Snowshoe Meet at Lewiston on February seventh the Bates boys turned in some fine cards. Allie Wills, star track man, pulled a second, third, and fourth place; Chadbourne came second and third in two events, and Fuller copped a second. It was a remarkable showing for the team.

The Maine Championship

The big event at home was the Maine Intercollegiate Carnival held here on the twelfth, thirteenth, and fourteenth of February. This was the only official Maine Carnival and consequently was eagerly awaited by the Garnet Snow-birds. In the midst of a gala time the Bates men walked off with championship honors, cleaning up 58 points as opposed to Bowdoin's 14 and the U. of M.'s 8. The results of the races were as follows:

Seven mile cross-country ski race—Won by Bagley of Bates; second, Fletcher of Bates; third, Spear of Bowdoin. Time, one hour, seven minutes, three seconds.

Three-mile snowshoe cross-country—Won by Wills of Bates; second, Chadbourne; third, Turner of Maine. Time, 18:41 2/5.

Jump—Won by Flynn of Bates; second, Tubbs of Bowdoin; third, Gould of Maine.

Ski mile—Won by Matsunaga, Bates; second, Scammon, Bates; third, Atwood, Bowdoin. Time, 8:11.

Snowshoe dash—Won by Fuller, Bates; second, Wills, Bates; third, Eastman, Bowdoin.

The eastern championship events at Montreal were cancelled on account of weather conditions.

The ski-snowshoe men turned in some fine records this year, in spite of poor conditions which made training hard.

Along with these events occurred a program which included social as well as intra-mural athletic events. The carnival was a huge success in spite of lack of snow, and the Outing Club, in building up this part of its program and turning out some stellar snow performers, certainly deserves hearty congratulations.

With the gathering of the clans on our campus last fall the Bates Varsity Club started on its most successful season since the club has been organized.

The biggest thing that club has tackled is the establishment of the Bobcat as the Bates totem. For sixty-one years Bates has been without a totem, but largely as a result of the efforts of "Archie" and the Varsity club, the Bobcat was chosen as the Bates Totem by popular vote of the student body.

The Club took the initiative in directing student enthusiasm at all football games and this spring has directed the cheering at the baseball games. At the end of the football season to bridge the gap between football and hockey the Club organized the Inter-Dormitory League and in addition managed the usual Inter-class games. In the Interscholastic Basketball Tournament the Varsity Club was very helpful as guides and officials. Visiting teams have been met and cared for by the Club during their stay at Bates.

Football Season 1924-25

Whitewashing the Colby White Mule after eighteen years without a victory over the Blue and Gray, was the crowning success of Ralph "Hap" Price's Garnet football eleven during the past gridiron season. That 13-0 victory alone, over a rival which had not suffered defeat from a Bates football team since October 20, 1906, was sufficient compensation for every other loss on the schedule.

After considering the sweetness of revenge over Colby, it would be contradictory to state that the season was a poor one. True enough, it was not as good a season as might be wished for, but it compares favorably to other seasons in the number of victories. It equaled the victories of the previous season, which season was considered the best in the past six years. The loss to Bowdoin was most keenly felt, and the loss to Maine, though not entirely unexpected, was more overwhelming than the three hundred or more rooters that followed the team to Orono had anticipated. But it must be remembered that Coaches Wiggin and Cutts were confronted with several vacancies left by the class of '24, which were difficult to fill. New men had to be developed to play the line and end positions, and the team did not fully find itself until the Colby game.

The season started with an easy win over Lowell Textile in a 19-0 whitewash for the Garnet grid warriors. Peterson, playing his fourth year of Varsity football, scored twice in the first five minutes. Hap Price blocked a Lowell punt and Pete fell on the pigskin behind the enemy's goal-line. Later, he intercepted a Lowell pass and ran 20 yards for a touchdown. Ev Woodman scored the third and final touchdown on a beautiful pass from Moulton. Massachusetts Aggies defeated the Garnet, 19-6. Charlie Ray scored the lone Bates touchdown. Tufts emerged a 12-6 victor from the annual battle with the Jumbo. Ev Woodman, who entered the game despite injuries, scored for Bates. Charlie Diehl, who was playing a great game in the line, sustained a fractured nose, but did not leave the ship until the game was over. Bates was on the long end of a 13-7 score in a loosely played game with Rhode Island State College. The season closed with a decisive defeat by New Hampshire.

Injuries throughout the season were a great worry to the coaches and were largely the cause of the losses. "Hap" Price was injured early in the season. Johnny Daker, a fighter through and through, but too brittle for the rugged game, was hurt early in the season, but returned to play the Bowdoin game until he was taken from the field with his arm dangling at his side as a result of the old shoulder injury sustained in his Freshman year. It was one of the greatest exhibitions of grit ever witnessed by the followers of the Garnet and Black. The work of Charlie Diehl and Gus Canty, who played game after game with their noses, which had been broken in previous games, strapped up by layer upon layer of tape, was another example of the sand prevalent in our fighting Bobcats.

State Series

The Garnet started out in the first State Series game with a defeat from the University of Maine. The defeat was a severe blow to the three hundred followers of the football team who followed the team to Orono. In spite of the hard work of the line, they did not seem to be able to stop the Big Black Bear. The work of Peterson in the line featured the game, and very few Maine plays were made through his position. The Bobcats did not seem to be able to get going at all, and time after time their rushes were halted. In the third period, Roy Sinclair who was playing quarter, made the best tackle of the day. Panther Blair of Maine picked up a fumble and started on a romp down the field with one man to form his interference. He passed all the Bates men but Sinclair, who cleared the man who tried to clip him and brought down Blair with a hard, clean tackle. Bates was up against a better team, and in the face of the odds, the only thing to do was to fight. They fought hard, but it was of no avail, and the Garnet was forced to come home defeated.

The second State Series game was with Bowdoin. This game was one of the most heart-breaking games of the season. Bowdoin suffering under the sting of two defeats, came to Lewiston and by superior plunging and open-field running defeated Bates 13-0. Playing as hard as they could, the Black and White backs were often stopped by the Bates line, but the end-runs of Farrington were the cause of Bates' defeat. Fumbles played an important part in the defeat, and several times Bates was in scoring distance and failed to get the oval over the line. The failure of the Bates passing game was a great disappointment to the Bates followers, but it seemed to be a bad day for the Garnet. As usual, Peterson, Ray and Woodman were the bright lights for Bates, but the lack of team-work was very evident.

In spite of the two previous defeats the Garnet prepared to do battle with the White Mule. Colby came to Lewiston confident of taking home a nice new Bobcat, but oh, how they were clawed up. 13-0 sounds awfully good to those people who realize that for eighteen years the Garnet had not had a taste of White Mule. They surely did take a good bite of it on Armistice Day. After the game, Colby was perfectly willing to have peace.

Colby started off making two first downs in rapid succession, but suddenly the sky fell in on them. Bates held everything, and a kicking duel ensued in which Butch Fellows punted high and far, keeping the Mule in its stall underneath the bar. In the second period Bates lost a chance to score when a forward was intercepted by a Colby man, but they gained nothing, and the half ended with the ball on Colby's 27-yard line.

The second half took the kick out of the White Mule, and set the Bobcats into a seething rage from which they didn't recover until the end of the game. The way in which they tore and clawed their way through Colby formations was a work of perfect destruction. The first touchdown followed a long pass from Moulton to Ray, who was downed on Colby's five-yard line. Ev Woodman then crashed through the Colby line for the first touchdown. This left Bates on the long end of the score at the end of the third quarter. The last quarter was one of smashing drives and exciting runs. Forwards were heaved that made the spectators gasp—for joy, and play after play was made good. All the men played like demons. Colby hit a stone wall on every play, and when they kicked they lost ground on Fellows' return punt. The last touchdown came after a march down the field to the twelve-yard mark. Here Woodie was presented with the ball, and he picked out a safe path through the whole Colby team and scored the last touchdown.

This game was the crowning event of the football year. The work of the Senior men who were playing their last State Series game was of the highest order, Peterson and Woodman being the bright lights of the game. The work of Eld at center was a revelation. He fought the Colby center right off his feet, and will prove a worthy successor to Hap next year. Joe Folsom, Captain-elect, played the best game of his career, and his work was of the highest quality, as he played all around Soule, who had the reputation of being the best end in the State before Joe came in.

After eighteen years of a fast on Colby White Mule, this victory came like a blessing upon the heads of men who for four years had worked to beat the Blue and Gray. It acted like a prod on the newer men who will make up next year's team, and Bates hopes to develop from them, men of the same calibre as Peterson, who will always be remembered as long as football is part of Bates.

Captain Price has played Varsity football for four years, and has made quite a record for himself in football as well as baseball. Another man who graduates is Peterson, who has never been taken from a game in his four years at college. He has played more football than any two men on the team, and throughout the season his work has been of the highest grade. He has been on the mythical All Maine elevens ever since his first year, and his fight, and spirit of co-operation will be sadly missed in the years to come. The other men who have played their last game for the Garnet are: Moulton, quarterback for three years; the hard-working halfback, Ev Woodman, Charlie Diehl, Julius Rutsky, Gus Canty, Johnnie Daker, Chisholm, Dow and Fellows.

Season '24-'25

C. Ray Thompson — Coach
Walter Ulmer — Captain

This fall the Freshman Class was represented for the first time with a well organized football team with a special coach. C. Ray Thompson, Bates '13, coached the yearling squad, and turned out a creditable team, whose members will be excellent 'Varsity material next fall.

The first game was with the strong eleven from Coburn Classical Institute, Waterville, which the visitors won, 6-0. Next the Freshmen met the Stephens High outfit from Rumford and gave them a decisive 25-0 licking. Walter Ulmer was elected Captain, and proved a capable leader as well as a fighting tackle who is almost sure to land a berth on the Varsity eleven next fall. He had formerly played at Maine Central Institute and Bangor High. In the next game, Captain Ulmer's crew took over his old prep school, M. C. I., 7-0. In the final game, Coach Thompson's gridders succeeded in holding the heavy Hebron team from scoring and the game resulted in a scoreless tie. Captain Ulmer was the outstanding player of the 1928 team, but he shared honors with several others of merit. White and Oviatt, playing quarter back, gave a good account of themselves as also did McCurdy and Knox at half back.

Penn. Team

The Penn. Victory

With the disappearance of the snow and the hardening of the track, Coach Jenkins turned out his charges on Garcelon Field. The first outdoor competition for the Bates Track Team was to be at Philadelphia where the relay team was to compete in both Class C and Class B.

The coach had three veteran relay men to work with and his problem was to find two others who could measure up to the standard of the veterans. When the final trial was held, Fisher was picked as fourth man and Oviatt as number five. It is interesting to note that the three veterans were all seniors, Archibald, Wilson and Corey, and the two new men were Freshmen.

Oviatt led off with Corey running second. The sturdy Corey turned over a five-yard lead to Stan Wilson. Wilson and the Virginia runner came in shoulder to shoulder while Capt. Archibald and the Virginia anchor man matched strides for the first three hundred yards. Then the midget Garnet Captain crept away from his towering opponent and finished five yards in the lead. The time for this race was 3.25, which was bettered but twice during the Meet.

Just one hour later Coach Jenkins entered his group in Class B Championships of America. It may be truthfully said that the relay men had no idea of running this race. They were, however, going to run to the best of their ability with the true Bates spirit urging them on. Before the start of the race, Wilson noticed that his trunks were on inside out. At the request of Archie, Stan wished that they might win this race while he changed his trunks before 40,000 people. "This," Captain Archibald is quoted with saying, "had more to do with the winning of the event than anything else."

Good old "Mike" Corey led off for Bates. "Mac's" position was on the extreme outer edge of the track, making it necessary for each man to run twenty yards further than his opponent. Corey whizzed around the track in another quarter under fifty-one seconds. Fisher ran second, replacing Oviatt, and turned in the remarkable time of 50 3-5 seconds. Fisher handed Wilson a lead and Stan maintained it. Archie just naturally flew around the cinder path and Bates was the champion of Class B. The time for this race bettered the Class C Division, being run in 3.23. Georgetown University, racing Yale and Holy Cross, was the only team to better this mark.

The demonstration received by the team was entirely deserving. The best was none too good for these five men. Seniors—it means to us that Bates has never lost a relay race since we have been in College, and to cap the climax, our boys have brought to our campus the emblem denoting us as the Champions of America in the Class B relays.

Not enough can be said for Coach Jenkins. It is his unfaltering zeal and confidence in his men, combined with his thorough knowledge of running, which has made it possible for Bates to attain to such high honors in track. To Archibald, Wilson, Corey, Fisher and Oviatt go our admiration and respect for their wonderful achievement. It is an accomplishment we shall not forget.

New Hampshire Meet

On May second, Bates entertained the New Hampshire State University Track Team. The Garnet spiked shoe men wiped out last year's defeat by gaining a sweeping victory over the New Hampshire team.

The features of the meet were the clean sweep made by Bates in the hundred, two-twenty, and half-mile events. The mile event proved to be the best race of the day. The four-lap grind became a dual between Peaslee of New Hampshire and Archibald. On the last straightaway, Archie passed his man and led him to the tape by ten yards.

Stan Rowe was high point man for Bates. The former Hebron Star romped home a winner in the hundred, took second in the two-twenty, and won the running broad jump. Costello in the high hurdles and running high jump figured in the high scoring. Peterson pleased his supporters by winning the hammer throw.

Following are the points taken by the colleges in each event:

State Meet

On Saturday, May 16th, the Garnet tracksters justified the hopes of their supporters and came within a lone point of upsetting Bowdoin's supremacy in Maine track. It was Garnet's best bid for premier honors in years. "Archie," "Stan" Wilson, "Allie" Wills, "Hypie" Rowe, Costello and Cobb took first places while Corey, Baker, Wardwell, Hinds, and Rutsky helped to amass the forty points with seconds and thirds. A failure to register in the dashes, hurdles or weights alone prevented Bates from gaining an easy victory.

The meet between the Freshmen and Edward Little High was certainly an entertaining affair as well as a closely contested race. Hooper trotted over the course, entering the oval at the finish a few yards ahead of Wardwell, waiting for the latter to catch up with him. The two then finished together, being clocked at sixteen minutes flat. It was some minutes before Roberts, the plucky little High School lad, trotted home for third place. Chase and Littlefield, two Freshmen of promise, finished fifth and sixth.

The running of Hooper and Wardwell was easily of Varsity calibre, and had it not been for the one-year rule, these men would without doubt have competed with the Varsity.

The cross-country season of 1924 was most successful although no championship team was produced. The highest of praise is due to Coach Jenkins and Captain Dorr, the sole survivor of the 1923 New England Championship team, for producing from material which at the beginning of the season seemed practically non-existent, a team which contended strongly for the State title. The pluck and courage of Captain Dorr was a feature of every race. No less honor belongs to Archibald and Wilson, two track stars in dashes and middle distance runs, who trained vigorously and with amazing success to fill the shoes of the lost stars, McGinley, Holt, Ward, Hurley, Hobbs, and Cahill. Allie Wills, a plucky, cheerful lad, took "Cyk's" place as leader of the Bates harriers. His running was sensational, and he bids well to mature into the Nurmi of Maine intercollegiate distance running. Brown, Chadbourne, Hollis McGinley and Peck, did much to rescue an apparently off season from a dismal fate.

No records or accounts of runs can picture the achievements of a cross-country team. It is not a matter of results, but of endurance and fight to the finish. The first run of the season was with Springfield Y. M. C. A. College. Bates lost by a small margin of six points, the final score being 25-31.

Maine captured the State title, her team running a race nothing short of phenomenal. She placed four men among the first six to finish. Hillman and Patten took the first two places with Hart and Geroux finishing fifth and sixth. Colby and Bowdoin were out of the race at the start, leaving Maine and Bates to fight it out. The Bates harriers followed on the heels of the Maine men who set a gruelling pace. Ham of Bowdoin beat Wills, who was suffering with cramps, to the tape for third place. Archibald finished second for Bates in ninth place, followed by four more of the Garnet team in succession. Ordinarily Bates' score would have taken the meet, but with Bowdoin and Colby lagging far in the rear, figures meant nothing.

Williams, continuing her series of athletic triumphs, took the New England cross-country title. Wills finished seventh and Captain Dorr, twenty-first. Lermond of Boston College achieved individual honors, followed by Larrivee of Holy Cross, Hillman of Maine and Peaslee of New Hampshire.

Prospects for next season suggest another State Championship team. To the list of stellar performers including Wills, Peck, McGinley, Chadbourne, Brown and former stars Sanella, Ward and Hobbs, who have returned to Bates, will be added the names of the sensational Freshman harriers, Hooper and Wardwell.

Season '23-'24

The 1924 baseball team, led by Joie Cogan, one of the greatest athletes that ever donned the Garnet, was a likely looking team at the first of the season, for the fielding ability of the team was not doubted in the least and the hopes of developing batters like Daker, Jordan, and Cogan was the aim of the coach. However, the batting strength of the team did not materialize as might be wished for and the number of victories, therefore were less than the fielding and pitching ability of the team would warrant.

Season '24-'25

At the present writing the 1925 baseball season is not very far along, and it is entirely too early to attempt to forecast the outcome of the State Series title, yet, it may reasonably be said that the Garnet is represented by a nine that, at present, looks like the best baseball team that Bates has put on the diamond in the four years that we have watched Garnet ball clubs. The fielding ability of former years and the pitching strength of the past few years is still prevalent and perhaps better. To these two has been added a batting strength that is beyond anything we have yet seen in Maine college ball.

At the present writing the team has played six games. The first game, the exhibition game with Bowdoin, was lost to Whittier Field luck in the ninth inning by a score of two to one. On the southern trip, the Garnet defeated New Hampshire 12-6 in a game featured by heavy Bates batting and the pitching of Hap Price. At Tufts, the Wigginites took the Jumbo over on an 8-3 score. At Lowell Textile, the Bobcats received a 6-1 defeat. In the first State Series game of the year, Charlie Small pitched Bates to a victory over U. of M. and thus established himself in the hall of fame as the first Bates pitcher, with the exception of Peanut Hamilton, to win a State game in five years. The Bates boys batted the Maine hurlers unmercifully and crashed out 15 hits out of 30 trips to the plate. Elliot Small got a triple, Charlie Small got two doubles, Jordan got two doubles, Moulton got a double, and each of the other men got at least one hit.

With the close of this season, Bates loses some of her best baseball material. Captain Johnny Daker will be one of the biggest losses because he has been a factor in more Garnet wins than any other fielder on the team. Peanut Hamilton has a most enviable record which has already been spoken of in part. He has been a real strike-out pitcher, has been very miserly with his hits, and has rarely passed a man and never with any dire results. Hap Price can still point with pride to his record against Harvard, New Hampshire State and Tufts, and before this season is over will undoubtedly be among the State Series winning pitchers. Doc Moulton will be a big loss to the catching berth and to Bates in general. Dimlich's loss to the infield and Red Mennealy's loss to the outfield will be felt.

The 1925 Bates hockey team received no real opportunity to show its true wares in Maine because of the early season thaw which caused a curtailment of the schedule just at the time when the team was at its best. But two games of the State series were played and Bates won and lost one of these, and the loss was the first game of the season with a practically new combination on the ice for the Garnet.

Coach Wiggin was confronted with a serious problem when the call for hockey candidates was made this year. Joie Cogan, for four years the mainstay of the Bates offensive power, and Dick Stanley, a bulwark on defense during those same four years, were both lost to the team by graduation last June. Ralph "Mac" Corey was the one player left to the Garnet ice squad who compared favorably to the men Bates had lost. "June" Stanley, a defense man, Dave Wyllie, a goal-tender, and O'Connor, a forward, were the only other veterans. The one semester rule prohibited the use of Freshmen until February and this proved an additional handicap to the Bobcat coach.

The opening game was with Bowdoin at Lake Andrews. Two new men, Sinclair and Lane, were in the line-up. The Polar Bears emerged victorious 2-1, after a close game in which neither team showed any stellar hockey ability as a team.

The next game with St. Dominiques on the Bartlett Street rink was a fast contest and a harder fought game than the 6-1 score seems to indicate. St. Dominiques had a faster aggregation on the ice this year than they have ever had previously and the game that "Mac" Corey's team put up against this professional club was a credit to them.

At Waterville, Bates whitewashed Colby 4-0 in a game in which Coach Wiggin's men clearly showed their superiority to the White Mule. Corey and Stanley each caged the rubber twice. This was the last game that Bates was able to play in the State Series because of the loss of all ice after the late January thaw. The game with University of New Hampshire was played under very adverse conditions owing to a blizzard which swept across the rink. There was snow on the ice at all times during the game and it was almost impossible to carry a puck at all. The visitors won 2-1 after a gruelling contest.

The annual Massachusetts and New York trip was not a success as far as victories were concerned, but the men learned a lot of hockey and the new men especially were treated to a sight of real organized team play. Williams College, with one of the fastest, cleverest, best coached college teams in the east defeated the Bobcats 8-1. Bates played faster, better hockey in this game than in any of the previous games and hopes brightened a little. At West Point the team suffered a 5-1 defeat in a game that would have made the previous State Series contest appear slow. At Amherst

Bates played a great game against the M. A. C. team, and forced the Aggies to 75 minutes of play before admitting defeat. Going into the last period the score stood 3-0 for the Bay State Farmers. Then the Bobcats began to show their teeth and claws. Corey, by fast skating, clever dribbling, and accurate shooting, caged the rubber twice in quick succession. Andy Sinclair, improving with every game and showing a world of real pluck, skillfully eluded the entire Aggie team but one defense man, passed to O'Connor who scored from in front of the cage. This tied the score and the game went into overtime periods. Three ten-minute periods were necessary to decide the contest and it was dark before the Farmers could put the necessary score past the Garnet goalie. The following day, Bates met the sextette from Amherst College. For two periods the game was close and rough. Sinclair went up the wing and scored the lone Bates tally on a long shot. The score remained 1-all for two periods, but in the final frame the effect of the overtime game the previous day told on the Bobcats and the final score was 5-1. The team returned from this trip with a world of experience and able to go at a pace that would easily have carried them to top honors in the State championship if it could have been completed.

Ralph "Mac" Corey was the real star of the ice sextette this winter and his loss by graduation will be keenly felt next year. He had plenty of hockey ability, and for three years was the fastest skater in Maine hockey circles. O'Connor is the only other man lost to the squad through graduation.

June Stanley has three years of Varsity hockey as a background for his final year, and his election to the Captaincy was fully warranted. He is as clever a dribbler and stick handler as has represented the Garnet in recent years. Dave Wyllie, at goal, will be another mainstay in next year's team. Roy "Andy" Sinclair cannot be given too much credit for his rapid rise in the ice game. Andy had never played hockey previous to this year, but his aggressiveness and pluck were a big factor in his success. A hard worker at all times he gradually picked up the fine points of the game and by the end of the season was quite a factor in the Bates team. Though he played defense this past year, his size and type are more suitable to a position in the forward line and he will probably play a wing next year. Al Lane, a Sophomore, has plenty of ability and was a good offensive forward for the 1925 team, though he alternated with Stanley between center and defense. Lloyd Proctor and Al Dimlich, used as relief men, also played well when called on. Proctor was a beginner this year and learned a lot, much that will serve him in good stead next year.

This year for the first time the Freshman Class has been represented by a hockey team. The first year men can well be proud of their team which boasted two and three stars and much in the way of promising material. The early thaw upset the season schedule for the Frosh as well as for the Varsity, but not until Coach Thompson's men had had ample opportunity to show their ways. The yearlings opened the season triumphantly, defeating Portland High 17-0. They emerged with laurels from a nip and tuck 2-1 struggle with Deering High. They suffered defeats at the hands of St. Domonique seconds 3-1, and Jordan High 4-1. Although some of the scores do not indicate it, the team gave good account of itself and often the playing was of prospective Varsity calibre.

Season '23-'24

The 1924 tennis season was an abbreviated one. Due to decidedly inclement weather the State Tournament at Orono and the dual meet with University of Maine had to be called off. However, the Garnet racqueteers performed in three meets, and performed creditably.

On May 19, Captain Fairbanks and Purinton journeyed to Boston and participated in the New England Intercollegiate Tennis Association tournament, which was played on the courts of the Longwood Cricket Club at Chestnut Hills. The Bates players were matched with the representatives of Amherst and Williams in the singles and were both defeated. The next day they were defeated in the doubles match by the team from Dartmouth.

On May 27, the team travelled to Brunswick and were defeated five matches to one by the White netmen, "Dick" Stanley being the only Bates player to win his match, defeating Kimball. While nearly all the matches were closely contested, by far the most interesting was the duel between Purinton of Bates and Don

Hill, the lanky Waban ace, who finally emerged the victor after a spirited three set contest by the score of 6-3, 5-7, 7-5. In the other singles matches Phil Lord, the Maine Intercollegiate Singles Champion, defeated Gray, and Cushman defeated Captain Fairbanks.

On May 31, Bates made its final appearance on the courts against Colby. The matches were played on the home courts and Colby was fortunate to secure an even break, each team winning three matches.

Season '24-'25

Although two of the veterans of last year's team, Captain Fairbanks and "Dick" Stanley, were lost by graduation, the prospects of a winning season are brighter than they have been for several years. Captain Purinton and Paul Gray, the remaining members of last year's team, received valuable experience and should make a good showing on the courts. There are a large number of promising candidates for the other two places. Of these, Landman and Matsunaga of last year's squad look especially good and are experienced players. They are being pushed hard for positions, however, by McCrae and Davis, two of the Freshman candidates. Davis is a former schoolboy star and was the winner of the Freshman tournament. McCrae is a newcomer but is a polished performer and should show well on future teams.

In addition to the usual dual meets with all Maine colleges and the State Tournament, Manager Knightly has entered the team in the New England Intercollegiate Tournament and has arranged a meeting with the Tufts team at Medford. Coach Britan is working with the candidates and is confident of turning out a successful team.

Women's Athletics

Dean Niles

Dear as the smile of our Dean Niles, that might itself have inspired the poet's words,

"In her eyes the rays of morn
With sudden splendor break," are a host of other memories that refuse to be crowded away. Days and hours in Carnegie, shrouded in study of human anatomy; scarlet days of quarantine and one fair week of winter sports; militant director of Junior gym, revealing the intricacies of vaults and ring-work. The Dean whose sympathy and understanding is our love and our boast—and whose love for Bates is supreme.

Miss Francis

Coach of athletics and a jolly good sport. No laggardly coaching, by far—spurring us on to play the game. Who could forget the many quips on the hockey field; "Play over there, stand on your own ten-cent piece," or "Wake up and hear the birdies sing!" Such round-eyed jollity, with a fund of song and dance. And energetic!—yes.

Miss Milliken

"Vivy" has always been one of us, graduated as recently as 1924—so the old order simply didn't change. As assistant in the Physical Education department, she has been the initiator of Winter Sports, a newly organized sport this year. Nor does her work stop here—difficult though pioneering is. Active in the Outing Club, she is now sponsoring week-end parties for the Co-eds to the Albany Cabin.

Women's Athletic Association

The Athletic Board, under the leadership of Ruth Marsh, has just completed a busy year. With the co-operation of Miss Francis and Miss Milliken, the women's athletic program has been enlarged by the addition of the Winter Sports Department, which aids considerably in making athletics, as they should be, a part of every girl's college life. The requirements for a stripe and half-stripe in Hiking have been changed, and after a consideration of training rules at other colleges, a more liberal set of rules has been adopted.

Athletics at Bates means more than mere physical efficiency in some sport. In inter-class games the highest type of sportsmanship and self-control is always displayed by both players and cheering sections. Training, besides tending to increase physical vigor for the games, is a factor in character-building which should not be overlooked. The Honor system is used in connection with training rules with excellent results, for there is practically never a "break" in training not reported by the girl herself.

To Miss Francis and Miss Milliken we owe much, not only for coaching but also for their whole-hearted interest in broadening the Athletic curriculum at Bates.

"B" Girls

What does a "B" mean? Ask any Freshman girl two weeks after college opens, and she will probably say, "Oh, it means that you've played in ten first team games or its equivalent."

Now ask a girl who has won a "B" what it means to her, and she will reply, "It means hours of fun in the gym, and on the athletic field with my classmates, and hours of hard work perfecting team-play before the games. It means twenty weeks of training with all its accompanying comedies and the small tragedy of "breaking." It brings back the memories of a score of inter-class games in which I have played. It means that I am interested in my class and in my college. It has taught me co-operation and self-denial, and, most of all, it has given me friends who, had I never won victories and lost championships with them, might still be only acquaintances."

Twenty-six girls now in college have earned "B," and eighty-six per cent of the total number in college have at least one half-stripe. Athletics are not for the few, but for all at Bates.

Women's Gymnastic Meet

On March 24 came the crowning event of the athletic year—the annual gymnastic meet, when all classes join in putting on a representative program of their winter's work. Gallery and all available floor space was crowded with interested and sympathetic spectators. The following numbers were included in the program:

1	Studies: Valse de Boheme, Valsette, Moment Musicale	Seniors
2	Drill	Sophomores
3	Amazons; Skaters' Waltz	Juniors
4	Drill	Freshmen
5	Athletic Pageant; Galanterie	Sophomores

11	Report of the Judges (Woodcock, Ingalls, Brickett.)

The Freshmen were awarded the honor of winning the entire meet, while the silver cup representing the highest number of championships won throughout the year was earned by the Seniors, Class of 1925. At this time, the President of the Athletic Board also awarded several silver athletic medals, varsity "B" sweaters, and class numerals.

First Team Hockey Champs, 1925

Hockey, chronologically the first sport of the year, supplanted basketball this year and was first in popularity as well. After a month's hard practice and two weeks more of training, the first game was scheduled for November 4th, and on that date it was played in spite of a snowstorm which came the day before. It takes more than an inch of snow to daunt Bates hockey players, male or female, and "Pa" Gould's history class saw Mr. Grey and a squad of girls armed with brooms sweeping off the entire field. The Sophomores and Juniors played at 3.30 per schedule.

In the semi-finals, the Sophomores defeated the Juniors in a clean, fast game which ended with a score of 8-4. The teams appeared to be evenly matched, and 1927 worked hard to penetrate the Junior defense, and used every ruse to gain those eight goals that brought them victory.

Seniors Win

On the next day, the Seniors, outplaying 1928 in the greater part of the game, ended the first half with a goal credited to each of their five forwards. Later the Freshmen rallied and at the end of the game the score stood 10-3 in favor of the Seniors. The pluck of the Freshmen playing a losing game left no doubt in the minds of the onlookers that although 1928 might improve next year in hockey technique, "Bates Spirit" was already their middle name.

Senior Champs

In the championship game, one of the fastest and most closely contested of any ever played at Bates, the Seniors gained the victory over the Sophomores by a single goal, and won the championship with a score of 3-2.

Second Team Champs, 1925

Second Teams

The second team games in hockey were no less interesting than the first, and the outcome of the championship game between the Seniors and Juniors was no less gratifying to 1925, for the Seniors won the championship in this game as well. It is a singular honor for one class to have both first and second teams champions in the same season. Therefore 1925 has every reason to be proud of her record in hockey this year.

Senior Hikers

Three years ago the farmers passing two Co-eds somewhere between Lewiston and Greene—or Sabattus—first thought they had wandered down from Augusta, and whipped up their horses without further delay. By the next year, experience had taught them that the pedestrians were sane, and they, in the kindness of their hearts, obligingly offered "lifts," which to their surprise were always refused.

Volley Ball

Each class sent out a large percentage of its members, and interest was never lacking throughout the season. Games were played off just before the Christmas vacation, and resulted in victories for the Sophomores and Juniors. On December 16, the Sophomores came out on top and won the honors of the season.

Basketball

The first game, Juniors vs. Freshmen, resulted in a tie, 14-14. Then came the Sophomores' victory over the Seniors with a score of 48-16. To break the tie the Juniors and Freshmen played a second game with a 14-11 victory for the Freshmen. On March 13, came the championship game between the Freshmen and Sophomores, resulting in a 1927 victory, 26-6.

First Team, 1925

First Team Champs, 1925

Soccer

Soccer, the favorite game of the spring season, brought out an unusually large number of players in 1924. After a half-dozen weeks of hard training, all four teams seemed so evenly matched that no one dared to prophesy as to the outcome of the games. However, the class of 1924, former champions, were especially formidable opponents, and probably the odds were slightly in their favor. Nevertheless, at the end of the championship game, 1925 was found to have won the victory. This was our first soccer championship. May it not be our last!

In the second team games, which were no less interesting than the championship match, 1926 was successful.

Tennis

Last year intra-Class competition, which resulted in a victory for the present Seniors, was especially well played. 1925's record in tennis has been very creditable. Each year we have qualified for the championship game, and, when Sophomores, lost it by a single point. "Dot" Clark and Ruth Wass upheld the banners of our class. Last year we were victorious and for our first tennis championship in doubles we may thank Florence Cooke and "Dot." That same year "Dot" also gave plenty of competition in the championship game of singles.

Track

Track, although still a minor sport, is becoming better organized each year and is calling out a larger number of girls. Last year at the beginning of the season all four classes were well represented and baseball throws, jumps, races and shot-puts were faithfully practiced as the records of the final track meet would prove. With a single Senior and two Juniors representing the upper classes, the struggle for the championship took place between the classes of 1926 and 1927. Each furnished keen competition for the other, but 1926 proved herself superior and carried off the honors at the end of the day.

Winter Sports

Winter Sports may be our youngest, but it is not our weakest department of athletics. The co-operation of the Outing Club, "Viv" Milliken's enthusiasm and leadership, Iwao Matsunaga's coaching,—all these have helped to make Winter Sports successful. Stripes are awarded to the first two girls in each class who are most proficient in skiing, skating or snowshoeing, while half stripes are awarded to the second two in each sport.

The work of the girls at the Meet showed a marked improvement over that displayed at previous carnivals, while the skiing, with Oris Barden and Dorothy Griggs as stars, was exceptionally fine. Because of weather conditions, the skating events were canceled, but stripes were awarded to those fulfilling the requirements of training and practice. The results of the ski and snowshoe races gave this first Winter Sports Meet to the Juniors with a total of 21 points, while 1925 took second place with a score of 10 points.

May fortune favor our new department, and may it continue in the future to meet with the success which it so richly deserves.

Dedication

Peter Schuyler Van Snoots, A.M., LL.D.

Oleson Chair of Scandinavian Copyright Law.

(The dedicatory ode to this popular faculty member was thrown open to competition, with disastrous results. This, the least uncomplimentary, would never be published anywhere except in section of expurgations, and then only because of the lyric beauty of its last line.)

Old egg, you've never failed to mark us
For cuts, when we were barely late to class.
With simple glee we'd willingly have shot you,
Ah many, many times adown the past.

Personals

Egbert Quasimodo Auster, A.B. "Egg"

Egbert is not a good egg. Egbert is not a bad egg. Egbert is just an egg. He is musical, and his pestilential genius was manifest at the tender age of three years. At this stage of his career he used to play cornet and flute solos so tirelessly from morning to night that several of his neighbors snapped under the strain, and were led away to institutions for the care of the violently insane. An attempt was made to drown him when he was nine years of age and in full swing as a child prodigy. A group of public-spirited citizens had him neatly sewed up in a weighted sack, and he was halfway over the railing, when rescued by a police officer with a misdirected sense of duty. He has never given up his pretty, childish ways, however. We hope you choke, Egbert!

Alain Tomson Beauchamp, A.B.

The Class Brummel, who was determined that no picture of him unmonocled should descend to posterity. He has never worn the blooming eye-piece while at Bates, but claims to have practiced during vacations at his home on Beacon Street, Boston.

CHARLES WATSON GILBERT, B.S.

Y. M. C. A. (1, 2, 3, 4), Jordan Scientific (4).

Up to his Senior year Charlie wasn't much with the ladies, but then he got started; or at least he thinks he did. He now fancies himself the original heart-breaker, and really believes that when he passes down the street, maidens turn to each other and whisper in awed tones, "Some sheik." Charlie you have no doubt perceived, has a vivid imagination.

WILLIAM SHORTMAN ROBBINS, B.S.

Football (1, 2, 3, 4), Captain (4).

Not, needless to say, a Phi Bete man, but girls! What a practical vocabulary!

Halls and Campus

Parker Hall, as it appeared one bright June morning to a Senior who had been lubricating his spiritual machinery for the coming grind of Commencement.

This is John Bertram Hall in the good old days when it was Nichols Latin School. The Nichols, simple, domestic people, lived in the cupola, and the picture gives a glimpse of the tasty interior, while the charmingly domestic arrangements on the roof bespeak the true home-lover.

Mr. and Mrs. Nichols used to retire to their cupola every night, leaving the boys to have their fun. That the boys did so, is made patent by the court plaster repairs where they kicked a hole through the wall in some joyous moment.

The figures at the foot of the path and on the cupola were sculpted from putty by the child Franklin Simmons, then a pupil in the school.

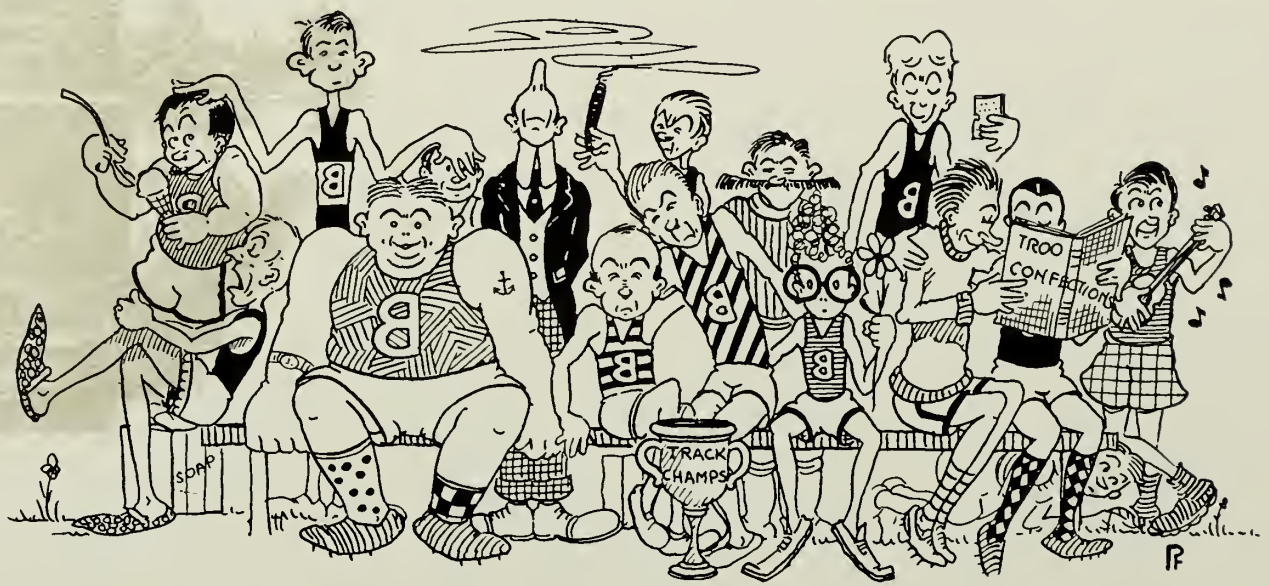
Note the swinging doors in what is now the Commons entrance. This shows that good fellowship prevailed even in those days.

Our dramatic club, in the costumes of characters which they have made famous.

Notice the disgruntled look on the face of the president, who is seated next to the cowboy. He is desperately trying to arrange his feet and limbs in the graceful manner best suited to a dramatic artist.

Standing alone at the rear is Prof. Albert Craig Baird, State Director of the Drama League of America, whose curtain speeches on "The Little Theatre Movement at Bates" have done much to stimulate local wearers of the sock and buskin.

Athletics



This is our track team. In the center, behind the beautiful loving cup is seated Captain Clarence Archibald; note that married look.

The gentleman in plain clothes, with the prominent nasal orifice, is coach Jenkins, snapped in a characteristic pose.

The members of this group are too well known to require cataloging.

The Honor Roll

Tallest—As far as feet and inches go, there was no question of the superiority of Harold Snyder for the boys and Ada Reed for the girls, although Clarence Clarke and Ruth Nutter were lengthy seconds.

Shortest—While way down at the other end of the ladder Peanut Hamilton and Elouise Lord carried off the honors, as fully one-half inch shorter respectively than Gus Miller and Bunny Jordan.

Sleepy Head—Did you ever see Gus Canty in Monie's English? Yes—well—did you ever see him awake? And as for the girls, how many mornings is top floor Rand confronted with Grace Goddard's "I'd like to know who was doing all that screeching at 8.30 last night. Most waked me up."

Class Babies—Here they are, ladies and gentlemen, the Walker youngsters, Chester and Alice, guaranteed just as young as they look! And the lack of years in Stan Wilson and Nellie Mae Lange is shocking, too.

Class Grind—It's all a grind anyway—and so Dimlich and Walton have found run the votes. Lessons, baseball, student—week in and week out. Then there's Priscilla and her cat courses, and it must have cost Ada some midnight oil to Mongsolize Monie's English so.

Best Disposition—Carl looks pretty grim sometimes, when Pa Gould springs a written, and occasionally he is known to crab, but it must be all a bluff, for his name leads all the rest when it comes to votes for the best disposition. On the other side of the campus we hear Ruth Wass' infectious giggle, and it seems that Bunny Jordan never really gets cross.

Best Orator—Canham's Philippics are quite in a class by themselves, and oh, won't they bowl the bally Englishmen this summer?

Best Dancers—Jazz is MacDonald's middle name, and as for Rutsky, he steps his own brand now. Ruth Garner leads for the women with Mary Fogg a close second.

Most Efficient—George just exudes efficiency and economics; he'd feel so un-at-home if he wasn't managing something; while Ruth Nutter calmly makes hundreds of dollars in a bazaar and precisely balances her Y. W. budget and books in the most approved Sheldonian way. Tom Reed and Elsie Brickett show some promise in this line, too.

Rand Hall Pest—Anywhere or everywhere, there's always Don Hall, and if by some chance you find some place where Don isn't, there Jerry Henry is—so it doesn't matter.

Class Vamps—Al Swanson's work in this line should make Nita Naldi look to her honors. Of course Al is young, but then, it's experience that counts.

Biggest Line—We hand it to you, Kenneth. Why isn't the moon Venus. Dr. Tubbs will tell you. And oh, Leah, no Leah, not really!

Class Sheik—Sheik Dow earned his title years ago—nor has he lost it. Yes, Harold, we do think you are growing more sheik-like every day, but Dow had the start.

Noisiest—Peterson has the record of being the man who breaks the record every time he opens his mouth. No competition at all. For the girls, Aletha's shrieks vied with Bernice's shrills, and lost—by a slight margin.

Best Dressed—Walking illustrations from Vogue. Here they are—Eddie Woodcock, Harold Simpson, Ruth Garner, and Florence Cooke, sport togs, clothes formal or informal, and they know how to wear 'em.

Senior Championship Hockey
Ruthie & Dot
K. P.
Ivy Day
A Top Floor Bunch
Cookie and Jim
Sophomores

Most Popular—Peanut is little, but oh my! The landslide of votes speaks for itself. Helen Lovelace won among the girls.

Wittiest—As a Class we are all wits and humorists. But even at this, there are the super-scintillants, Kenneth Conner and Aletta Childs first, then Canham and McCue.

Most Brilliant—It seems too bad for you to hog so many honors, Erwin, but we hand it to you. There's no doubt that you and Dot Clarke shine with a brilliancy that makes Mars' feeble attempt in July look like a firefly.

Time Killers—Harold Simpson and Florence Chamberlin can find more attractive ways to do nothing than any members of the class, although Stevens and Tetreau spend much of their time in a similar manner.

Woman Hater—No, Raymond Carter hasn't the scarlet fever. It's a perpetual blush, for he just can't help meeting co-eds when he is on campus. And even the ready sympathy of Clifton Stanley doesn't help him much.

Man Hater—All man haters sing alto. Maybe that is what Birdie would call a hasty generalization, but Grace Brackett leads in the race away from the opposite sex with Ada Reed close at her heels.

Best Looking—We didn't half appreciate the beauty in our class until we tried to decide who was best looking. High point winners in The All Bates '25 Beauty Contest: Evelyn Parkhurst, Marion Pierce and Bernice Mayhew; and for men, Ev Woodman, Harold Simpson and Ralph Corey.

Best Athlete—Stars in anything from baseball and football to yodelling! Daker is our best athlete. Peanut's pitching honors are mighty big, too. And when it comes to skill and versatility, there's Cookie, while Alice Gordon was never known to be missing from a Class team of any sort.

A Chronology of Bates

1864—September 15. Academia Batesina condita in a little grey barn, about one mile outside Lewiston, Maine, by Oren B. Cheney, at the expense of much suffering and personal sacrifice. Sixteen students attend first session, ten of whom stop after first class to borrow books and otherwise kid Oren into giving them good marks. Oren falls for it so nicely that the custom goes down in history as the first of the famous Bates traditions.

September 17. Two Bowdoin students, out joy-riding in a top buggy, pass the campus, and when told that this is Bates College, they sneer hideously, and hasten back to Brunswick where they recount what they have seen to Longfellow and Hawthorne, who fall into each others' arms, and laugh till the welkin rings.

November 3. First chapel cut taken. President threatened with apoplexy when the culprit pleads sleepiness as an excuse. Offender suspended from a beam by his thumbs for two days. President in an eight-hour sermon to the undergraduate body makes plain the fact that as an "unequivocably Christian institution," Bates cannot tolerate the heathenish practice of cutting chapel. Twelve trustees resign.

1875—August 14. Hathorn Hall completed. Its plastered interior, its window-glass, and its atrocious cupola considered triumphs of the architect's art by the simple, unlettered folk of that day and place. First visitor to the campus miscalls the new edifice "Hawthorne Hall," thereby establishing a tradition for campus visitors. Much talk of tearing down the little grey barn, but trustees decide that the time is not ripe.

October 30. Bates and Bowdoin establish athletic relations with a grand free-for-all, originally scheduled as a ball game. Large crop of black eyes garnered by both sides. Each college announces publicly that it won the battle.

1880—March 23. Parker Hall built.

March 24. Faculty suspect drinking in Parker Hall.

March 25. Faculty start a fruitless investigation which has lasted down to the present date (1925).

1894—January 26. Pack of playing cards discovered in Parker Hall. Entire college suspended. Nine trustees resign. Six-hour sermon by President brings to students' attention fact that the wages of sin is death. Open letter written to playing card manufacturers by President.

1896—June 4. Man discovered selling soda-pop on campus. Faculty ladies in an excess of aggressive virtue arm themselves with hatchets, a la Carrie Nation, and bust poor man's pop bottles. President borrows horse-whip and scourges pop-seller from the campus, but three trustees resign regardless of this salutary action. President bluntly reminds student body that the wages of sin is death.

1897—Uncle Johnny Stanton collects his 2,845th bird. Banquet given by the faculty to celebrate this triumph in the field of intellectual achievement.

1898—Brittania Franklin Anthony dies, full of faith and good works, leaving Bates, Roger Williams Hall, on the condition that it never be defiled by tobacco smoke.

1899—May 4. 10 A.M. Stanton Elm officially dedicated.
12 M.M. Another Bates tradition starts.

1900—October 22. Building authorities condemn grey barn (now a gymnasium). Trustees decide that the time is not yet ripe to tear it down.

1900—August 13. Frank Dean Tubbs arrives from Kansas, bringing news of dust, the vastness of interstellar space, and the problems and undeveloped resources of South America.

September 4. Dr. Tubbs delivers his first lecture to the people of Livermore Falls, who are much astounded by the wonders of science thus revealed to them.

1910—July 19. Hay still being cut on the campus.

1920—June 23. Clifton Daggett Gray inaugurated as third President. As first step in getting College in step with the century, he orders hay cutting stopped, and lawn mower bought.

September 18. Carl Herring Smith, LL.B., assumes control of the Department of Physical Training. A glad day for the physically unambitious.

1922—February 16. John Bertram Hall becomes famous.

February 17. President reminds students that w. of s. is d.

February 18. Angell Matthison, radical English instructor, privately announces it to be his conviction that payment has been suspended on the wages of sin.

May 1. Million Dollar Drive inaugurated. Wayne Davis and nineteen card catalogs installed in the alumni office to do their worst. They do it.

June 15. Angell Matthison released to larger fields of service.

June 16. Wayne Davis ditto.

September 14. The $1,000,000 Drive converted to a $250,000 Drive, and re-christened the "Gymnasium Fund."

October 1. A public bull in the Bates catalog announces that if some "large-hearted" man or woman will come forward with a quarter of a million dollars, Bates will gladly accept it for the purpose of building the much-needed gymnasium. This proclamation received without enthusiasm by the general public.

November 7. President Gray gets wind of a large-hearted man in California. Leaves on the next train, without even stopping to change his collar.

November 27. President Gray back again, much disappointed. Man's heart proved to be of the dimensions rumored, but the fellow turned out to have no $250,000.

December 4. Bates wishing to keep up to the level of its contemporaries, the first smut talk is given to the men. Seventeen faint. Lecturer considers it a good morning's work.

1923—January 14. Dancing inaugurated on the Bates campus. Entire board of trustees resigns, but re-considers upon being coaxed.

January 15. Deans Niles and Pomeroy start their bi-weekly series of talks on dance hygiene.

1924—January 17. Second smut talk given to men in chapel, only two faint. Lecturer and faculty much pained by this unresponsive attitude.

February 9. Professor James Murray Carroll inaugurates his campaign for the mayorship of Lewiston. Students rejoice at prospect of unlimited cuts in candidate's classes. 75 visit registrar and endeavor to shift to economics courses.

February 15. Prof. Carroll hard at work on campaign. Distinctly less popular with students by reason of having administered 15 writtens in a week through the medium of his assistants. Consensus of opinion that he had better leave politics alone and resume lectures.

February 16. College Physician reports economics students in seriously run down condition because of lack of sleep.

February 24. Prof. Carroll back at his desk, still cheerful in spite of the fact that the forces of good government have taken a severe beating at the polls.

March 1. Oliver Cutts, addressing men on subject of P. T. requirements, announces his 24 points of good sportsmanship. Reiterates statement that he is not to be bamboozled. College skeptical.

March 14. Rumored that President Gray is being groomed for state governorship.

March 15. Rumor denied.

March 30. Bates defeats Bowdoin in debate.

March 31. President Gray congratulates Bates warmly.

April 1. Bowdoin resents this as an insult, and through the press demands an apology.

April 2. President Gray issues a lengthy statement in which he points out that the gentlemen at Brunswick have "mixed their ontological predicates."

April 3. Corps of research workers at Bowdoin set about task of finding out what "Ontological predicates" are, if anything.

May 3. Corps give it up as a bad job after half its personnel has become mentally deranged.

June 20. Class of 1924 graduated to the accompaniment of many tears and much oratory. One man attends Senior Hop in an intoxicated condition. This is indeed progress.

July 8. Summer school starts.

June 10. Playful boys chase watchman around campus all night. Steal his revolver, his time clock, his hat, and his trousers.

June 11. Watchman released to higher fields of service because of suspected incompetency.

September 20. College opens. Unprecedented brilliance of Senior Class forecasts a remarkable year.

September 21. Classes commence, 600 in attendance. 350 stop to borrow books of Profs. Old system working nicely.

September 28. Freshmen paddled soundly, causing them much spiritual and anatomical anguish.

September 30. Freshmen begin to look up a bit.

October 3. Freshmen begin to sit down a bit.

October 10. Two Bowdoin men, out joy-riding in a bearcat, pass the campus. Upon being told that this is Bates College, they laugh hideously, and speed back to Brunswick, where they recount what they have seen to Ostergren and McGee, who fall into each others' arms and laugh till the welkin rings.

October 15. Dr. Tubbs delivers his four-hundreth lecture to the citizens of Livermore Falls, who are still open-mouthed at his revelations of the marvels and general grandeur of Nature.

October 27. A black-hearted scoundrel attacks the College Commons in the columns of the Student.

October 28. Scoundrel silenced, poisoned pen broken.

November 21. Smut talk given to men in chapel. No one faints. Faculty decides to have no more smut talks.

December 21. Christmas recess begins. 90% of students cut classes and leave for home early. Faculty in crux of rage holds meeting and decides that anyone who left college before the recess officially began is not to be allowed to return.

Scenes

Cabin at Mt.
Sabattus

December 25. Spirit of Christmas softens faculty, vote of December 21st being rescinded unanimously. Santa Claus sends telegram of congratulations.

January 7. Everyone at it again. Season of mid-winter gaiety in full swing in preparation for mid-years.

January 15. Confession of boot-legger in Lewiston Municipal Court leads faculty to suspect drinking in Parker Hall. Investigational efforts redoubled.

February 9. Professor George M. Chase, addressing Maine State Legislature on "My Travels in Hellas," says that no one south of Frye street knows the alphabet backwards.

February 10. Mob of calumniated south-enders attack Chase residence. Driven back single-handed by youngest daughter of Professor, upon whom the mantle of Ajax seems to have descended.

March 15. Prominent Senior faints on steps of Coram Library from shock of having gotten out without being stopped by librarians for discussion of local topics of the day.

April 16. Famous Chapel Cut Conspiracy discovered in Senior Class. Things look dark until several P. B. K.'s are discovered to be involved.

May 1 The coming of Golf. Bates may yet produce some bond salesmen.

May 2—June 15. Back work, postponed theses, love, birds, flowers, postponed theses, dances, back work, efforts to boost low averages, social whirl, new clothes, awful expenses, delirium.

June 21. Finis for 1925. Glorious future ahead, according to Commencement Orators.
